North Bay College Delay Advised By Planning Unit

A planning team appointed by two top-level education boards would postpone establishment of a North Bay state college until at least five other California areas get such colleges.

The team, composed of educators and appointed by a committee of the University of California Board of Regents and the state Board of Education, today made known recommendations which run counter to the plans of the state Public Works Board.

The North Bay state college and one in Stanislaus County should be postponed until colleges are built in "not less than five areas of greater need," held the committee, which was named to prepare a master plan of the state's needs for institutions of higher learning.

Its conclusions, United Press International reported from Sacramento, will be presented at a meeting next Wednesday of the Public Works Board.

The Public Works Board had scheduled determination of sites for state colleges in Stanislaus and Alameda counties for its meeting next week.

Determination of the North Bay site, for which Novato, Santa Rosa and Petaluma are contending, had been tentatively scheduled for late this month or next month.

The Stanislaus college was authorized by the 1959 Legislature. The North Bay college has not yet been officially enacted by the Legislature, but site purchase has been authorized.

The team of educators pointed to a list of new state college needs presented last March by State Supt. Roy E. Simpson which listed Los Angeles, San Bernardino-Riverside, San Mateo, Contra Costa, Marin-Sonoma, Kern and Stanislaus Counties in that order, as heading the list needing state colleges on the base of projected enrollment.

Mock Fallout Isolates HAFB For 10 Hours

Heavyq "radiological fallout" measured at from 500 to 1,000 roentgens per hour yesterday closed Hamilton Air Force Base to the outside world for nearly 10 hours.

The mock radiological fallout drill, known as DCUF (Defense Capability Under Fallout) closed the base to incoming and outgoing traffic, shut down the switchboard except for emergency calls and sent 6,000 personnel to shelter at 1 p.m.

The make-believe "blast," which occurred at Clear Lake when an "enemy" bomber carrying a nuclear weapon set to detonate on contract was shot down by aircraft, did not reach its fallout peak until 10 p.m., according to calculations used for the drill.

Although the majority of the base personnel went back to their duties at 1:30 p.m., the fighter group remained on full alert until 1 a.m. when the fallout was declared safe.

Kayo Assault Case, Placed Before Jurors

The Terrence (Kayo) Hallinan assault case went to the jury at 10:30 a.m. today, with a plea from the district attorney to combat the "waves of misconduct among juveniles" by bringing in a guilty verdict against the 22-year-old defendant.

Young Hallinan is accused of felonious assault in fracturing the jaw of James Thalhamer Jr., 18, of Fairfax last May 29 outside a bowling alley in Greenbrae.

If this type of conduct is to be licensed, then society would "revert to the law of the jungle," declared Dist. Atty William O. Weissich.

Thalhamer insists he was hit without provocation.

Kayo, light heavyweight boxing champion at University of California, says Thalhamer was about to hit him and so he ducked and threw one punch.

Kayo is defended by Wallace S. Myers and Edward Cragen.

Six men and six women on the jury heard the case before Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court.

Hayden Will Plead Guilty Of Contempt

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actor Sterling Hayden's attorney said today his client will plead guilty to a contempt of court charge when he appears in superior court Jan. 5.

Attorney Grant B. Cooper told Superior Court Judge Aubrey N. Irwin that Hayden, 42, will admit taking his four children of a voyage from Sausalito to Tahiti against the specific orders of Judge Emil Cumpert.

Cooper and attorney Chester L. Smith, representing Hayden's divorced wife, Mrs. Betty Ann De Noon Hayden, 37, appeared in the latest legal battle between the couple. Smith expressed fear the actor would not be present for next month's court session.

Cooper told the judge he personally would see to it that Hayden was there.

One of the charges Hayden faces is that he took the children out of the state without court permission. (Earlier story on page 11.)

A GENERAL'S WELCOME — Maj. Gen. John D. General Welcomes First Family Into Capehart Project Homes

S/Sgt. Francis Russell Barbour, his wife, Marie, and their two children, Gary, 5, and Ronnie, 6, were officially welcomed today to the Capehart Housing Project at Hamilton Air Force Base by Maj. Gen. John D. Stevenson.

It was the first official act of the incoming general, who replaced Maj. Gen. Hugh A. Parker as commander of the Western Air Defense Force.

The Barbours, who met in London in 1951 when she was private secretary to a lumber executive and he was in the Navy, are the first family to move into the seven and one-half million dollar housing project. They formerly resided at 590 San Jose boulevard in Raphael Village. Their new address is 3002-A Chanute drive.

In formal ribbon-cutting ceremonies accompanied by the Hamilton Air Force Base Band, General Stevenson opened the first of the 222 officer units and 330 non-commissioned officer units which will make up the base housing project.

Five of the new two and three-bedroom homes are expected to be accepted this week, with completion of the entire project scheduled for March at the rate of approximately three to five homes a day. George A. Fuller Co. is the prime contractor. Architect E. L. Norberg of Burlingame designed the houses.

Mrs. Charles Bond, wife of Brig. Gen. Charles Bond, presented Mrs. Barbour with two dozen American Beauty roses while General Stevenson handed over the keys of the house to the man of the service family.

Sergeant Barbour is with the purchasing division of the 78th Supply Squadron.

General Stevenson, who was honored with a formal review when he arrived at the base last Saturday, is a veteran of the North African landing in 1943 when he was commander of the 27th Fighter Bomber Group.

He served on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's staff and attended advanced flying school.

A 1937 West Point graduate, he was once shot down over enemy territory while commanding his combat unit in Europe in World War II.

Sausalito General Plan Adopted By Councilmen

The Sausalito City Council last night gave final passage to the city's general plan.

Thus ended months of hearings and meetings. The plan virtually was accepted by the council several weeks ago, except for the changing of a few words.

At a meeting last month the council adopted amendments which in themselves were only the changing of a few words for the sake of accuracy. These amendments then went back to the Sausalito City Planning Commission for a report, and all except one was accepted by the city planners at a meeting Nov. 23.

The planners objected to the deletion of the word "occupations" in describing one function of the program. Last night the council overrode the objection, and passed the whole plan.

Objectives are to provide a pattern of planning for the continuing impact of visitors to the city, but, at the same time, protect not only the visitors but also the residents. The plan takes into consideration the "economic benefits" of tourists.

The plan also was adopted to protect and enhance the waterfront, and to provide a guide for the civic and cultural development of the city.

The plan envisions discouraging heavy through traffic and providing more parks and playgrounds.

HONOLULU (UPI) — A Navy Super-Constellation transport plane with 87 persons aboard limped safely back to Hickam Air Force Base today from 335 miles at sea after two of its four engines quit.

Norway Crash Kills Ex-HAFB Officer

A United States military plane crashed in a Norwegian fog today, killing its four occupants, including a former Hamilton Air Force Base colonel.

The plane, a twin-engined C47 transport, had just taken off from Fornebu Airport at Oslo for a base at Trondheim in northern Norway when it crashed in the woods as it was making a turn with poor visibility, Associated Press and United Press International reported.

Pilot was Lt. Col. Henry J. Pashco of Reading, Mass., who served with the operations and training division of Western Air Defense Force at Hamilton in 1950-51.

He left Hamilton on assignment to the 317th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at McChord Air Base, Tacoma, Wash.

Colonel Pashco's wife, Mary, and three children, Mary, 5; James, 3, and George, seven months, are living in Oslo. Sources at Hamilton Air Force Base said his mother-in-law is believed to be a San Rafael resident.

With Colonel Pashco aboard the ill-fated ship were Lt. Col. Pete W. Kuba of Struthers, Ohio, co-pilot; Sgt. Frank Rice Jr. of New Cumberland, Pa., and Sgt. Walter H. Brandt of Wilmington, Del. All leave wives. Kuba and Brandt each have two children.

The plane, attached to the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group in Oslo, developed engine trouble soon after the takeoff, United Press International reported.

It missed a group of lumberjacks by about 100 yards, crashed into the trees, exploded and burned.

WEATHER MAN SEES NO RAIN NEXT 5 DAYS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Weather Bureau's five-day forecast promised little relief today from high temperatures and no rain in Northern California through next Monday.

Today was the Bay Area's seventy-fourth straight day without rain.

Above normal temperatures and no precipitation were predicted in the five-day forecast for Northern and Central California.

A few high clouds in extreme Northern California were predicted through tomorrow with fog and low clouds on the extreme north coast.

Belvedere Still Giving Hilarita Sewer Service

The 120 families in the Hilarita Housing Project and the 400 pupils at Reed School today were being provided sewer service by the Belevdere city sewer system, as they have in the past.

Yesterday was the deadline set by the city for cutting off the sewer outfall from the project, which also connects with the school, and it had been feared Belvedere might stop service.

A new agreement for another years' service is pending, but the Marin County Housing Authority must meet certain conditions including obtaining approval from the Regional Water Pollution Control Board for raw Hilarita sewage to be dumped at times into Richardson Bay. This would be necessary so that Belvedere lines would not be overloaded during peak use, such as during a heavy rainfall.

Belvedere City Mgr. Britton Rey said today the outfall line had not been plugged, but he emphasized that the city has not changed its mind about its requirement for renewing its agreement with the housing authority.

Bert Klahn, executive director of the authority, said he was aware the line had not been plugged, and added the housing project septic tank is ready if the line should be cut off. He said this would mean that the tank would have to be pumped out every few days.

Housing authority commissioners will meet next Monday on the matter.

N. San Rafael Site Picked For New Electronics Plant

Location of the new three-million-dollar Fairchild Semiconductor Corp. plant in Marin County will be on 10 acres in northern San Rafael opposite Terra Linda, it was announced today.

Officials of the Mountain View-based company said they contemplate a building modern in every respect, and at first providing 50,000 square feet, with construction arranged to allow for probable expansion.

Negotiations for the property, which belongs to the Freitas family, were handled by L. H. Baar and Charles Rosenbaum of Maynard Redmond and Co. of San Rafael. The plant is expected to be open and operating for manufacture of diodes by next June.

By the end of next year 250 to 300 employees are expected to be working there, mostly women and locally employed but with supervisory and technical personnel transferring to Marin from other Fairchild facilities in Santa Clara County.

Plant construction will be a joint venture of Associated Construction and Engineering Co. of South San Francisco and Barrett Construction Co. of San Francisco.

Spearheading efforts to bring Fairchild to Marin has been the Marin Industrial Development Foundation. To mark completion of the location, architectural and construction plans, Fred F. Enemark, foundation president, will be host to Fairchild officials this evening at his home at 170 Main drive, San Rafael, with 100 Marin County business leaders expected to attend.

A group of eight Fairchild executives from the Mountain View plant will be headed by Dr. Robert N. Noyce, vice president and general manager; Robert E. Freund, manager of the new plant, and Julius Blank, chief of engineering services.

Noyce recently announced lease of 7,000 square feet of space at 27 Jordan street, San Rafael, where a pilot operation will start in January.

CANDIDATES BRIEFED

Novato Police Needs Discussed By Kelly

Novato's city council candidates last night were given a first-hand briefing on the administration of a city police force by Sonoma Police Chief Frank Kelly.

Thec onference, held at the Novato High School, was the first of a series of training sessions the prospective councilmen will receive between now and the Jan. 12 election which will decide on Novato's incorporation. Twenty-four of the 27 candidates were on hand

Kelly, former long-time San Rafael police chief, advocated a higher ratio of officers per population than did William R. Zion, the government research specialist who drew up the original incorporation report.

"I would advise at least one officer for every thousand residents," Kelly said. At current estimates of Novato's population, this would mean a force of about 17 men and a chief.

Zion's report had suggested a force of only nine patrolmen plus a chief and clerk.

Kelly said that when he was San Rafael's chief, that city maintained a force of 29 men with an approximate population of 17,000. Sonoma, with a population of 3,000, has a five-man force plus himself, Kelly said.

Pointing out that free training for officers is available through the San Francisco and Berkeley police departments as well as through the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Kelly estimated that it would take a new chief about a month to select his staff and another month to organize it.

The new city, if incorporated, will be served by the county sheriff's department until July 1, 1960.

Stressing the need for insurance to cover the possibility of false arrest suits, Kelly itemized other immediate needs of a new department, including, according to his estimate, four cars equipped with three-way radios and motorcycles.

Zion's report had suggested a force of only nine patrolmen plus a chief and clerk.

Kelly said that when he was San Rafael's chief, that city maintained a force of 29 men with an approximate population of 17,000. Sonoma, with a population of 3,000, has a five-man force plus himself, Kelly said.

Pointing out that free training for officers is available through the San Francisco and Berkeley police departments as well as through the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Kelly estimated that it would take a new chief about a month to select his staff and another month to organize it.

The new city, if incorporated, will be served by the county sheriff's department until July 1, 1960.

Stressing the need for insurance to cover the possibility of false arrest suits, Kelly itemized other immediate needs of a new department, including, according to his estimate, four cars equipped with three-way radios and motorcycles.

SHE'S BACK FROM THE ORIENT

The 42-000-ton attack aircraft carrier Lexington stopped off briefly in the Bay Area yesterday, en route to her home base at San Diego after a seven-month tour of the Orient. She carried a Chinese junk on her flight deck, the property of an officer who bought the junk in Hong Kong and plans to use it an San Diego. The Lexington was due to arrive in San Diego this afternoon. (AP Wirephoto)

Ike Plans To Emphasize U.S. Role Of Good Partner

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that on his 11-nation tour he will try to show people that the United States is a good partner in the search for a peace with justice.

He told a news conference he would be glad to discuss with Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru India's border troubles with Red China and, in effect, he deplored Red China's use of force to settle the issue.

The President told questioners that his family might be a bit concerned about his taking on the heavy burden of the 22,000-mile journey he will start tomorrow night.

But the doctors, he said, examined him three days ago and report that he is capable of standing the demands of the trip.

For his 19-day absence from the country Eisenhower has not delegated to any other person his authority over the use of nuclear weapons in an emergency.

But he declared this is not necessary. Decisions he might have to make to order the employment of nuclear weapons could be very quickly executed from any place, he said.

On another aspect of foreign affairs, the President announced that Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi of Japan will visit the United States, probably in January. He said negotiations on revision of the U. S.-Japanese mutual defense pact may be concluded then.

Eisenhower spoke at some length about the trip which will take him across western Europe, the Middle East, South Asia and North Africa.

It is clear on the basis of reports from abroad, he said, that there is a great deal of doubt in the minds of many people, including friends and allies, as to the sincerity of the United States in the pursuit of peace.

Te U. S. government has for a long time tried to emphasize its sincerity, Eisenhower continued, yet the impression still does not seem to come through.

CAN THEY BE BARKING UP WRONG TREE?

GARY, Ind. (UPI) — Police said they have solved the case of the missing dogs, but the prime suspects—aged 13 and 18—refuse to talk.

The boys cut a hole in the city pound and freed three dogs, police said. Two of the dogs belonged to the boys and had been taken to the pound for observation.

The third dog, police said, just saw his chance and took it.

Teachers To Boycott Extra-Curricular Work

LA CROSSE, Wis. (UPI)—La Crosse's public school teachers today waged a "non-participation" battle in retaliation for "years of being belittled."

The main weapon will be "a six hour day and no participation in extra-curricular activities," according to Harold Blank, president of the La Cross chapter of the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO).

Blank told United Press International most of the 305 La Crosse teachers signed a resolution to boycott all "but strictly academic functions" after next Tuesday unless the school system accedes to the teachers' demands at a board meeting next Monday.

Salaries head the list of instructors' complaints, Blank said. A survey of 28 other Wisconsin towns showed La Crosse's salary schedule ranking in the lower fifth, he said.

India's Border Troubles To Get Ike's Attention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Red China's activities along the Indian border and widespread desires for more American aid are standout topics likely to claim President Eisenhower's attention on his journey abroad.

U. S. relations with the Soviet Union and even with Latin America may come up, too. So may questions concerning military bases overseas and the strengthening of Western alliances.

But a jammed, jet-age schedule indicates that the 23,000-mile tour which gets under way tomorrow night will be primarily just what the President has said it will be—an effort to build good-will and a better understanding of America.

For the most part, there just won't be time to work out solutions to any major problems of individual nations or the world as a whole.

Eisenhower will be visiting 11 nations on three continents in 19 days. Three of those days are earmarked for attending a Western summit conference in Paris beginning Dec. 1 . Two and a half days are reserved for a cruise and a rest on the Mediterranean. Nearly five days are set aside for troubled India, at the far point of the President's travels to Europe, Asia and North Africa.

This leaves roughly a day each, including travel time, for nine other countries. Eisenhower can spend only five hours in Afghanistan, for example.

A good bit of the time at each stop will be given over to formalities, ceremonies and addresses, so that no great amount will be left for decision-making conferences.

India is the exception, and intentionally so. The vast, teeming subcontinent had drawn Eisenhower's interest and concern even before Communist China began shaking a fist along the northern border. Now the President is expected to use New Delhi as a forum for transmitting to all Southern Asia a message of American friendship and support.

Neither in India nor elsewhere has a formal, item-by-item agenda been laid down as a basis for discussions.

But the border issue is certain to arise in New Delhi, where Eisenhower will have numerous opportunities for private and semi-private sessions with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

An Associated Press check at presidential stopping places indicates that more than half the nations Eisenhower will visit may make polite inquiries about continued or increased military or economic aid or both. In addition to India, the list includes Pakistan, Turkey, Afghanistan, Tunisia, Iran, and possibly Spain.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain may ask for an early shipment of promised military equipment. He may also bid for a larger U. S. immigration quota for Spain.

Franco may want to go into the entire question of North Africa and nationalism, and perhaps the effects on U. S. air bases in Spain and of the forthcoming evacuation of similar bases in nearby Morocco.

Sailor Pleads Guilty To Misdemeanor Count

Treasure Island sailor Danvers Gene Van Norman, 19, whose car collided with an ambulance near San Quentin overpass Nov. 1, pleaded guilty yesterday to a misdemeanor charge.

He admitted failing to stop at the scene of the accident. Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court set Dec. 21 as date for hearing of a probation report and passing of sentence.

'FLAMBOYANT TYPE'

Friend Denies Juanita Was Drunk In Tavern

Juanita Musson of Juanita's Galley in Sausalito is a "flamboyant" type who is not entirely unfamiliar with profanity, a friends testified in Marin Municipal Court today.

But she was certainly not intoxicated at the Old Mill Tavern on Nov. 13, Mrs. Maude Hagen of 17 Bayview avenue, Mill Valley, told a jury sitting in the court of Judge Richard M. Sims. Mrs. Musson is accused of being drunk and disorderly at the tavern that night.

Fred Berick, owner of the Old Mill Tavern, testified he danced with Juwanita a few steps at her insistence. Berrick said when the music stopped, he started to walk away. He testified that she then called him a vulgar name and pulled, whereupon they both fell to the floor.

Berick said Juanita tore his shirt, kicked him and tore the dress of a woman patron.

Mrs. Hagen, however, told a different story. She said she was with Juanita that night and that they had about two drinks. Mrs. Hagen said Juanita and Berick danced a few steps. Then Juanita, she said "made some crack" about Berick and a woman patron. Mrs. Hagen said she saw Berick walk over to Juanita and "started hitting Juanita." She testified that Juanita suffered a black eye and other bruises.

Under questioning by defense attorney Harry Wainwright, Mrs. Hagen said her friend, Juanita, was "feeling fine and having a good time." But she was not intoxicated, insisted Mrs. Hagen.

"She's flamboyant," Mrs. Hagen said of Juanita. "You always know when she's around. She's not exactly the quiet type."

"Profanity is not entirely unknown to her, would you say?" asked Wainwright. "No," replied Mrs. Hagen.

Wainwright told the jury he intends to show Mrs. Musson was not intoxicated. He added that Juanita is not on trial on whether she was boisterous and loud or used profane language.

Slayer Who Fled Quentin Held In Idaho

Harold Smith, 25-year-old murderer who escaped from the San Quentin Prison ranch Nov. 21, has been taken into custody by Benewah County, Idaho, sheriff's deputies.

Walter D. Achuff, associate warden at San Quentin, reported the prison was notified early today by the sheriff's office at St. Maries, Idaho, that the convict had been jailed there.

Smith had been serving a five-year-to-life sentence at San Quentin on a Los Angeles court conviction of second degree murder and first degree robbery.

Achuff said Idaho authorities have been requested to hold the convict for return to San Quentin.

Lynwood Park Assessments Cut

Lynwood Park Improvement Assn. members will pay a reduced assessment for 1960, it was decided last night by the board.

Following a report by treasurer Ronald Lord, the board agreed to levy $15 per year from each of the 108 homes to maintain landscaping and center strips. The assessment was formerly $18.

It was also reported that two of the four center strips have been completed and the other two are expected to be finished before the rains set in. Members have donated their weekends to finish the landscape project.

The board agreed to offer prizes of $25, $15 and $10 for the best decorated homes during the Christmas season.

Richardson Bay Hearing Dec. 22

First public hearing on the Richardson Bay Master Plan has been set by the Marin County Board of Supervisors for Dec. 22 at 3 p.m.

The supervisors yesterday received from the Marin County Planning Commission a revised map and minutes of the Commission's continued meeting of Nov. 23 when a compromise was reached between the "open water" ideas of the commission staff and a counterplan of property owners wishing more liberal land extensions provisions.

The minutes included a statement from Commissioner Margaret Azevedo that "some may feel there are mistakes even in this amended plan, but no mistake could be as serious as we would make in adopting no plan at all."

Placer School Stays One Room

LINCOLN, Placer County (AP)—Unless the uncounted absentee ballots change the situation, voters in the rural Valley View Elementary School District Monday defeated the bond proposal to double the size of their school.

The proposed $26,000 bond issue would have added another room to the one-room schoolhouse. The vote was 44 to 26 in favor of the bonds, but this is 8 short of the two-thirds majority needed for approval.

Ship Burns In Sausalito

An old wartime landing ship caught fire in Sausalito yesterday, but despite a lot of flame and smoke, there was no great damage.

The hold of the old hull caught fire at Sausalito Ship and Associated Dredge Co. at the foot of Napa street shortly after noon.

Sausalito firemen patrolled the area for about two hours, but the blaze was under control in about 20 minutes. Firemen said they could not estimate damage, but that it was not great. They said the old ship was being dismantled for scrap.

The blaze was believed to have started from a cutting torch.

DO-IT-YOURSELF CROSSWALK PAINTER BALKED

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The city may not paint its own crosswalks, but it doesn't want anybody else doing it either.

Dr. Louis J. Friedman, 43, a dentist, was directed yesterday to appear in municipal court to answer charges of violating the vehicle and municipal codes.

Friedman painted his own crosswalk across busy Ventura boulevard. He said he lost patience after trying for two years to get the city to paint it.

The body of Rein Cahill, 16-year-old former San Anselman drowned in a fishing boat accident at the mouth of the Klamath River, was found today, the Associated Press reported from Crescent City.

The body washed ashore near White Rock, a mile south of the river mouth.

Still missing was the body of Rein's brother, Stephen, 19.

The youths, sons of Maj. and Mrs. R. J. Cahill of Requa, drowned when their fishing boat capsized Sunday. Major Cahill, now commander of a radar station at Requa, formerly served at Hamilton Air Force Base and resided at 40 Florence avenue, San Anselmo.

Meat Company Opens Branch In Petaluma

The Mission City Meat Co. of San Rafael opened a branch office in Petaluma yesterday. The new office will relay the Sonoma County home freezer orders to the San Rafael plant at 647 Irwin street.

In the near future another branch will be opened in the East Bay, said co-owner Mario Colombo. At that time the 100-beef capacity of the present plant may have to be enlarged, he said.

Tearful Rogers Tells Of Wife's Infidelities

Robert Burdette Rogers slowly broke to a point of tears in Marin Superior Court today as he told on the witness stand a story of his wife Bertie's repeated infidelities till she died from a shot fired by his hand last August.

In early 1947, the 40-year-old building contractor testified he had sued for divorce on grounds of adultery with 12 named co-respondents.

But on that occasion, as on others, he forgave, he said, because he loved her.

OBJECTS TO QUESTIONS

Asst. Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety objected to this line of questioning by defense lawyer Charles Hollopeter, but to no avail. "The defense is based on the theory that there was accidental discharge of a gun," he said. "Alleged infidelity is hardly germane to the issues."

"It relates to the defendant's state of mind at the time," said Hollopeter. His colleague, Gregory Stout, referring to the fact that Rogers is being tried without jury before Judge Jordan L. Martinelli for determination of guilt either for manslaughter or second degree murder, said there are two possible types of manslaughter.

RECONCILATIONS

The court concluded that the testimony was germane. Hollopeter elicited from Rogers that his wife had "numerious affairs," had admitted them after initial denials, and that they had repeatedly been reconciled.

"We were very happy. I was very much in love," Rogers said in reply to questions, then covered his eyes and wept.

This was pertinent to his earlier testimony in which he told of being shocked when his wife returned last Aug. 3 from a trip to San Rafael and lit a cigarette in their San Gabriel home, though "she had never smoked before in her life."

'VERY STRANGE'

Rogers said at that time she acted "very strange, not normal" and he had "just a hunch" something was wrong.

Before Rogers took the stand as final witness in a case expected to close this afternoon, his 17-year-old-daughter, Barbara, testified along lines suggesting that when the family came to San Rafael in August, her father suspected an affair between her mother and Harold Hutchins, and that it was against "Hal" that his anger turned primarily.

Questioned by Stout, Barbara denied that her mother said anything indicating that Rogers wished to harm her.

The male mallard, one of the most numerous of game birds, has a bright green head and a purple mark on the wings.

First public hearing on the Richardson Bay Master Plan has been set by the Marin County Board of Supervisors for Dec. 22 at 3 p.m.

The supervisors yesterday received from the Marin County Planning Commission a revised map and minutes of the Commission's continued meeting of Nov. 23 when a compromise was reached between the "open water" ideas of the commission staff and a counterplan of property owners wishing more liberal land extensions provisions.

The minutes included a statement from Commissioner Margaret Azevedo that "some may feel there are mistakes even in this amended plan, but no mistake could be as serious as we would make in adopting no plan at all."

Placer School Stays One Room

LINCOLN, Placer County (AP)—Unless the uncounted absentee ballots change the situation, voters in the rural Valley View Elementary School District Monday defeated the bond proposal to double the size of their school.

The proposed $26,000 bond issue would have added another room to the one-room schoolhouse. The vote was 44 to 26 in favor of the bonds, but this is 8 short of the two-thirds majority needed for approval.

Ship Burns In Sausalito

An old wartime landing ship caught fire in Sausalito yesterday, but despite a lot of flame and smoke, there was no great damage.

The hold of the old hull caught fire at Sausalito Ship and Associated Dredge Co. at the foot of Napa street shortly after noon.

Sausalito firemen patrolled the area for about two hours, but the blaze was under control in about 20 minutes. Firemen said they could not estimate damage, but that it was not great. They said the old ship was being dismantled for scrap.

The blaze was believed to have started from a cutting torch.

Friedman painted his own crosswalk across busy Ventura boulevard. He said he lost patience after trying for two years to get the city to paint it.

Tearful Rogers Tells Of Wife's Infidelities

Robert Burdette Rogers slowly broke to a point of tears in Marin Superior Court today as he told on the witness stand a story of his wife Bertie's repeated infidelities till she died from a shot fired by his hand last August.

In early 1947, the 40-year-old building contractor testified he had sued for divorce on grounds of adultery with 12 named co-respondents.

But on that occasion, as on others, he forgave, he said, because he loved her.

OBJECTS TO QUESTIONS

Asst. Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety objected to this line of questioning by defense lawyer Charles Hollopeter, but to no avail. "The defense is based on the theory that there was accidental discharge of a gun," he said. "Alleged infidelity is hardly germane to the issues."

"It relates to the defendant's state of mind at the time," said Hollopeter. His colleague, Gregory Stout, referring to the fact that Rogers is being tried without jury before Judge Jordan L. Martinelli for determination of guilt either for manslaughter or second degree murder, said there are two possible types of manslaughter.

RECONCILATIONS

The court concluded that the testimony was germane. Hollopeter elicited from Rogers that his wife had "numerious affairs," had admitted them after initial denials, and that they had repeatedly been reconciled.

"We were very happy. I was very much in love," Rogers said in reply to questions, then covered his eyes and wept.

This was pertinent to his earlier testimony in which he told of being shocked when his wife returned last Aug. 3 from a trip to San Rafael and lit a cigarette in their San Gabriel home, though "she had never smoked before in her life."

'VERY STRANGE'

Rogers said at that time she acted "very strange, not normal" and he had "just a hunch" something was wrong.

Before Rogers took the stand as final witness in a case expected to close this afternoon, his 17-year-old-daughter, Barbara, testified along lines suggesting that when the family came to San Rafael in August, her father suspected an affair between her mother and Harold Hutchins, and that it was against "Hal" that his anger turned primarily.

Questioned by Stout, Barbara denied that her mother said anything indicating that Rogers wished to harm her.

Americans Spending 6½ Times More For Medical Care Now Than In 1929

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Many American families are having to adjust to rising health bills. And medical costs have been one of the steady pressures causing the cost of living index to creep higher.

How much of that is due to:

Higher fees and drug and hospital charges?

To people seeking more medical attention than they used to?

To new, more effective, but costlier drugs and treatments?

Figures supplied by the Social Security Administration and analyzed by the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York put the nation's annual bill for personal medical care at about 22 billion dollars — double what it was in 1950, and six and one-half times what it was in 1929.

But the big jump — as every family knows — has been how much more individuals spend for medical care than they did 30 years ago. In 1929 medical expenditures came to $27 per person. Today they are $124.

These are average figures. Plenty of people have to spend many times that in the course of a year. And a few lucky ones escape with less or none.

The bank economists note that medical care costs have risen sharply. But they stress that new treatments and practices make comparisons difficult.

"The charge for a day's stay in the hospital has gone up 73 per cent since 1950, but modern methods of medical treatment have reduced the average length of stay by over one-eighth. More important, much of the care which is saving lives and improving health today had no counterpart 10, let alone 30, years ago," they say.

Two other factors enter into the rising total of costs.

One is that research has enabled doctors to treat a wider range of illness. And more people take advantage of this.

It is estimated that today about two-thirds of the population see a doctor during the year. Thirty years ago less than half did. And the number of visits per patient has risen 40 per cent.

The second factor is that increasing visits have been spurred by rising incomes and by the spread of health insurance now held by three families out of four.

Their Jobs May Be A Bit Brighter Now

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Barbers, beauticians and tattoo artists in the city no longer have to wear white aprons.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 2, the 336th day of the year, with 29 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening star is Saturn.

On this date in history:

In 1804, Napoleon Bonaparte was crowned emperor of France.

In 1823, President James Monroe proclaimed the doctrine that came to bear his name.

In 1859, John Brown was hanged in the public square of Charleston, Va., for his raid on Harpers Ferry.

In 1952, President-elect Eisenhower visited Korea, keeping a campaign promise to visit the combat-torn area.

A thought for today: Englishman Samuel Johnston said: "Whatever you have, spend less."

Flood visits his doctor twice a year and has missed but eight days in his 29 years with the company—all for minor colds.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Health Study Slated

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An extensive survey into the health needs of Californians, as well as health services and costs, was set into motion today by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The governor set up a 17-member committee to make the study, with Dr. Robert O. Eberg, medical director of the Los Angeles County Department of Charities, as its head.

Believes In Banks Now

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP) — Juan Jiminez Carrillo, 60, never believed much in banks.

He saved $20,000 over a 35-year period by stashing 10, 20, 50 and 100-dollar bills in an old refrigerator in his garage. Yesterday he told police the money has disappeared.

Dry And Warmer

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain or snow dampened a few areas in the south and central part of the country today but dry weather was the rule in most sections.

No severe cold was reported. Temperatures were generally near seasonal levels in most areas.

Bridge Champions

CORONADO (UPI)—The favored team of John R. Crawford, New York, and Mrs. Dorothy Hayden, Hastings-on-Hudson, N.Y., today won the national mixed pair championships in the 33rd annual fall tournament of the American Contract Bridge League.

Vatican Film Library

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII has set up a Vatican film library. The library will gather and preserve documentary films concerning the Roman Catholic Church, the pope, religion in general, and the Vatican.

Strike Hits France

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A nine-day-old lithographers strike here may spread to New York, St. Louis, Chicago and Los Angeles if not settled soon, says President Ivan Brandenberg of the Amalgamated Lithographers of America.

ALA members struck 15 plants here Nov. 23 and set up picket lines at two more shops Monday. Around 1,200 members are involved in the dispute on working rules and other contract language.

Strike May Spread

PARIS (UPI) — One million French government employees struck today, paralyzing public services from air traffic to garbage collections in a protest against the government's refusal to meet their wage demands.

The strike began at 12:01 a.m. today and was scheduled to end at midnight.

Mailmen, customs inspectors, telephone operators and other public services workers joined in the walkout. Many of France's 350,000 teachers also took an unscheduled day off.

Dock Strike Averted

NEW YORK (UPI)—The International Longshoremen's Association agreed last night to a new contract, averting the threat of a renewed East and Gulf Coast dock walkout when a Taft-Hartley injunction expires Dec. 27.

Still unresolved is the crucial issue of automation, but the 70,000-member union agreed to submit the problem to binding arbitration if no solution is reached in 10 more days of negotiations.

Pay increases granted by the three-year pact will be retroactive to Oct. 1 if union members ratify the contract by Dec. 10.

Disc Jockey Oath

CHICAGO (UPI)—Disc jockeys on the National Broadcasting Co. network have been asked to sign voluntary "no-payola" affidavits.

Chet Campbell, manager of NBC's press section, said the purity pledges were circulated to disc jockeys in Chicago and five other cities.

The name of the ship which Henry Hudson sailed into New York, discovering the Hudson River in 1609, was The Half Moon.

'Dinner With Ike'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower will address Republican fund-raising dinners in 70 cities and 41 states Jan. 27 over closed-circuit radio and television.

GOP project chairman Vernon Stouffer said yesterday that Vice President Richard M. Nixon, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, GOP National Chairman Thruston Morton and other Republican leaders also will speak. About 100,000 persons are expected to attend the "Dinner With Ike" series.

Fog Befuddles Swans

LONDON (AP) — Fog was so thick in Britain during the night that two swans got lost and made a forced landing in a garden in suburban Stamford Hill. Police kept them in custody overnight and released them on the River Lea today.

Airliners Share Record

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two commercial airliners—with the help of tailwinds—flew from New York to San Francisco in less than five hours yesterday for the first time.

American Airlines and Trans World Airlines shared the new record as westbound flights of both airlines covered the 2,700 mile run in the same time of four hours 57 minutes. Both planes were Boeing 707 jets.

The previous east-west record was five hours 16 minutes.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —A faulty radio beacon or a torn capsule may have been to blame for the Air Force's failure yesterday to get the first color photographs of earth from the dark brim of space.

Recovery teams stationed about 1,700 miles down the Atlantic missile range gave up their search for the camera-carrying capsule about one and one-half hours after the instrument rode into the darkness above blue skies in the nose cone of a Thor rocket.

Cubans, Bombs Seized

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Five Cubans, including two air force pilots under deposed Cuban President Fulgencio Batista, are under $2,500 bond each for a hearing on a federal charge of attempting to fly explosives out of the United States.

Custom agents arrested the men Sunday before they got in the air with their home-made bombs. Their hearing is set for Dec. 18.

The quintet was seized while transferring bombs containing 96 pounds of a nitroglycerine compound from an automobile to a lonely airstrip south of Miami.

They Need Watches

LONDON (UPI)—A Swiss businessman, who wanted to present gold wrist watches to the engineer and fireman of the crack Bristol-to-London express because they kept the train on time, had to delay the ceremonies yesterday because the train was 35 minutes late.

1st Operational B58

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Air Force yesterday received the first operational model of the supersonic Convair B58 bomber.

The plane is the 31st Hustler to be built. The first B58 flew in November, 1956. Five test models of the ship crashed or were destroyed in ground accidents. The first 30 planes built by Convair were test models.

Fumes Kill Five

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—An unvented gas space heater they were using to warm a house they had just moved into ended the lives of two young women and three children.

William Thurman came home to find his wife, Jean Marie, 27, their children, Nancy Lynn, 4, Terrance Allen, 2, and Timothy Randall, three months, and a girl who lived with the family, Memphis Mae Mabe, 19, dead.

Dr. Carl Frye, deputy coroner, ruled the cause was carbon monoxide poisoning from the heater.

Bomb Rocks Tijuana

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — A homemade bomb exploded a block from the theater in which Tijuana's new mayor was being inaugurated yesterday. A policeman was critically injured.

Mayor-elect Xiochoyencatl Leyva was installed before a crowd of 3,000 at the Bujazan Theater, unaware of the incident.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Many American families are having to adjust to rising health bills. And medical costs have been one of the steady pressures causing the cost of living index to creep higher.

How much of that is due to:

Higher fees and drug and hospital charges?

To people seeking more medical attention than they used to?

To new, more effective, but costlier drugs and treatments?

Figures supplied by the Social Security Administration and analyzed by the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York put the nation's annual bill for personal medical care at about 22 billion dollars — double what it was in 1950, and six and one-half times what it was in 1929.

But the big jump — as every family knows — has been how much more individuals spend for medical care than they did 30 years ago. In 1929 medical expenditures came to $27 per person. Today they are $124.

These are average figures. Plenty of people have to spend many times that in the course of a year. And a few lucky ones escape with less or none.

The bank economists note that medical care costs have risen sharply. But they stress that new treatments and practices make comparisons difficult.

"The charge for a day's stay in the hospital has gone up 73 per cent since 1950, but modern methods of medical treatment have reduced the average length of stay by over one-eighth. More important, much of the care which is saving lives and improving health today had no counterpart 10, let alone 30, years ago," they say.

Two other factors enter into the rising total of costs.

One is that research has enabled doctors to treat a wider range of illness. And more people take advantage of this.

It is estimated that today about two-thirds of the population see a doctor during the year. Thirty years ago less than half did. And the number of visits per patient has risen 40 per cent.

The second factor is that increasing visits have been spurred by rising incomes and by the spread of health insurance now held by three families out of four.

Their Jobs May Be A Bit Brighter Now

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Barbers, beauticians and tattoo artists in the city no longer have to wear white aprons.

The city council yesterday amended an ordinance to allow them to wear pastel colored aprons.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 2, the 336th day of the year, with 29 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening star is Saturn.

On this date in history:

In 1804, Napoleon Bonaparte was crowned emperor of France.

In 1823, President James Monroe proclaimed the doctrine that came to bear his name.

In 1859, John Brown was hanged in the public square of Charleston, Va., for his raid on Harpers Ferry.

In 1952, President-elect Eisenhower visited Korea, keeping a campaign promise to visit the combat-torn area.

A thought for today: Englishman Samuel Johnston said: "Whatever you have, spend less."

Aged, But Hardy

IRVINGTON, N. J. (AP)—Frank J. Flood didn't celebrate his eightieth birthday in a rocking chair. He was on the road selling appliances for a local firm, where he's respected as a salesman of great persistence.

Flood visits his doctor twice a year and has missed but eight days in his 29 years with the company—all for minor colds.

Lone Survivor Of 26 Tells How He Escaped Death In Airliner Crash

MONTOURSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—"The Lord opened my side of the plane and I was able to jump out."

Louis Matarazzo, 35, of Springfield, Pa., thanked God for his life from a hospital bed in nearby Williamsport.

He was the only survivor among 26 persons aboard a twin-engine Allegheny Airlines plane which crashed into a 1,400-foot mountain during snow and poor visibility yesterday.

"I fought my way through flames, past the wreckage," said Matarazzo, who is president of a Philadelphia sportswear company. "I tried to make my way back to the wreckage but couldn't make it. My legs were too stiff. The pain—"

When a Catholic priest who was flown into the disaster area by a helicopter came to his side, Matarazzo told him: "Thank God, father, you are here."

Recalling events just before the crash, Matarazzo said "All of a sudden the pilot seemed to race the motors and pull up. There was a crash. The plane burst and exploded."

The aircraft carried 23 passengers and a crew of three, including the pilot, Capt. Thomas R. Goldsmith, 30, of North Olmstead, Ohio.

Goldsmith, father of an infant child, was called in unexpectedly for the flight. He had been on two-week vacation and was not due back until Friday.

David L. Miller, an investigator for Allegheny, said Goldsmith appeared to be making an instrument approach at the Williamsport-Montoursville Air port in this north central Pennsylvania community. The flight was bound for Cleveland with stops scheduled at Bradford and Erie, Pa.

Miller said the airport has no tower. He said Goldsmith's last contact was with the Allegheny office which gave him the weather and wind conditions.

"It appeared he was making an approach," Miller explained, "when he suddenly went into a pullup procedure, deciding to go around the field and make another approach."

Miller said a pullup procedure is not unusual and it is the pilot's prerogative to take such action if deemed necessary.

Civil Aeronautics Board officials arrived here last night with Federal Aviation Agency officials.

The dead were brought down from the mountains and taken to a temporary morgue in Williamsport.

U.S. Judge Rejects Pupil Placement Plan In Virginia

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pupil placement plan was rejected yesterday by a federal judge in Virginia as "nothing short of contemptuous" and there were indications that an Atlanta plan is in for a rough time.

Elsewhere in the troubled South, two moderate members of the school board at Little Rock, Ark., won election over women running as independents, and a white man beat a Negro for the Dollarway School Board in an election split clearly along racial lines.

Judge Walter E. Hoffman told the school board at Newport News, Va., to submit a new pupil placement plan by March 15. He warned the school board and the state Pupil Placement Board they will face contempt proceedings if they continue to deny qualified Negroes admission to white schools.

Hoffman threw out a one-paragraph plan that simply said pupil assignments would be left to the state board.

The judge told the two boards at the start of the hearings: "You have a perfect right to defy the court, but the day you do it you know what ticket you will write."

The Atlanta plan, ordered by U. S. Judge Frank Hooper, will be argued in Hooper's court Dec. 14. Patterned after an Alabama law that has been upheld on its face by the U. S. Supreme Court, it lists many qualifications for pupil placement, none of which specifically mentions race or color. It would gradually integrate Atlanta public schools, starting with the 12th grade next year.

Gov. Ernest Vandiver and lawyers for Negro parents seeking to integrate the Atlanta school system rejected the plan, adopted by the Atlanta Board of Education. The Negro attorneys called it inadequate; the Georgia governor repeated oft-spoken pledges to fight any move to place Negroes in white schools.

Bolinas Mesa Hearing

Hearing on a proposal to reduce the present 25-foot front yard requirement for a district covering most of the Bolinas Mesa has been set for 2 p. m. Monday before the Marin County Planning Commission at 1711 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

McELROY CONTENDS:

U.S. Striking Power Offsets Missile Lag

WASHINGTON (AP)—Neil H. McElroy, retiring secretary of defense, concedes the United States will lag behind the Soviet Union in intercontinental missiles for the next three years.

But McElroy contended the nation has enough striking power in other forms to offset this missile gap.

At a farewell news conference yesterday, a few hours after his resignation was announced by the White House, McElroy said these steps have been taken or will be taken to fill in the gap:

1. Congress will be asked for enough money to let the Air Force maintain an airborne alert if necessary during the three-year missile lag period. In such an alert, bombers carrying nuclear weapons would be in the air at all times, safe from sneak attack and ready for instant retaliation.

2. The development of the Hound Dog missile has added years of usefulness of manned bombers such as the B52. This missile can be fired from an airborne B52 at targets up to 500 miles away.

3. The Navy's Polaris missile, while not yet operational, will be ready to go next year. This is the 1,500-mile missile that can be carried anywhere by atomic-powered submarines and fired from under water.

McElroy's disclosure that the country will rely heavily on the B52 for the next three years came shortly after the Air Force all but canceled the B70 bomber program.

The B70 is an advanced bomber designed to fly three times the speed of sound. It was years from being operational although a half billion dollars had been spent on it. Now only one or two prototypes will be built. The B70 had been criticized on the ground that it would be obsolete in the missile age even before it went into production.

McElroy said that as of today the Soviet Union and the United States have about the same number of intercontinental missiles—a very small number. But he said Soviet production will outstrip the United States in coming years.

In spite of the admitted missile lag that will last until 1963, McElroy contended that the United States today has a greater atomic striking power than it had when he took office in late 1957.

Teen Driving Ban

BOSTON (AP)—Drivers under 18 years of age would be barred from Massachusetts highways between 8 p.m. and 7 a.m. under a bill before the legislature.

Storm Rakes Europe, Africa; Toll Mounts

LONDON (UPI) — A raging storm centered in the Mediterranean brought death and destruction to Europe and parts of Africa today.

Officials said deaths in the storm as of last night, including the widespread flooding in northern Italy over the past nine days, mounted to at least 34.

Another 13 persons were feared buried under an Alpine avalanche that thundered down on the Italian village of Mua early today.

Three soldiers were killed and 23 injured in the storm near Bonfarik, Algeria, last night in the crash of a French military plane. Another plane, believed to be a small craft, radioded an SOS that it was in trouble on a flight to Gander, New Foundland, and later was reported missing.

Three sailors, each on a different vessel, were reported lost at sea. The missing men were from the German ship Bremen, which reported a man overboard in the English Channel; the Norwegian Rutenfjell, which said it lost a man off the coast of Denmark, and the Algerian trawler Hippocambe, which capsized off the Moroccan coast.

The Greek freighter Libya with a crew of 20 aboard was reported missing early today in the Tyrhenian Sea, an arm of the Mediterranean between Italy and Corsica, Cardinia and Sicily.

At the height of the Mediterranean storm yesterday, the British liner Braemer Castle, with 571 passengers aboard, ran aground but was pulled off by three tugs. Today the Braemer Castle was riding out the storm in a sheltered cove at Gibraltar.

In Italy, hard hit by floods and storms for nine days, the deaths rose to 20. The Italian ships Treviso and Citta de Tunisi collided in Naples harbor today, but there were no deaths.

Winds up to 87 m.p.h. battered the French Riviera yesterday, and although it was reported they were abating today, great waves still pounded over the sea walls at Nice and washed over the famed Promenade Des Anglais.

Weather forecasters said heavy rains would continue over France, Italy and Spain, with snow developing in some areas.

Bad weather in the Atlantic extended as far north as London, where 500 passengers waited 24 hours at the airport because their planes were grounded by poor visibility.

Novato Airport Deal Expedited

Technicalities of completing purchase of the 10-acre Novato Airport runway were expedited by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday after County Administrator Donald A. Jensen said that the owner needs his money quickly.

William Q. Wright, who is to get $10,000 by a purchase authorized two weeks ago, "has indicated that he must have his money before Dec. 31 for income tax purposes," according to Jensen.

So Supervisor William Gnoss of Novato moved to proceeds at once with the necessary formalities.

Mill Valley Council Slates Short Meet

The Mill Valley City Council, meeting at 8 o'clock tonight, has what city employees are calling a "Christmas present" agenda.

Which means the meeting, instead of running to midnight, is supposed to end early.

The council will consider proposed amendments to the subdivision ordinance, a request from George Goheen to annex 106 acres of land to the city, Bay Area rapid transit plans and a request for a 15-foot easement over the golf course for use by lot No. 2 in the Rancho Las Lomas tract.

Lawmakers Study Freeway Dividers

LOS ANGELES —The state Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Transportation and Public Utilities will open hearing here Tuesday on the construction of center dividers on freeways to curb a rising death toll.

Committee chairman Sen. Randolph Collier (D.-Yreka) promised yesterday he would use his power to rush construction of the dividers to cut down the "appalling" number of deaths attributed to freeway accidents.

Installation of the freeway dividers has been asked to prevent head-on collisions.

HAFB Airman Fined For Drunken Driving

An airman from Hamilton Air Force Base drew a $175 fine and three months restricted driving for his first drunken driving offense.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Curtis W. Strunk, 31, of 78th Installations Squadron for driving while intoxicated on Highway 101 last Saturday.

The first public theatre, unconnected with church or cathedral, in London was built by James Burbage at Shoreditch in 1576.

District's Camp Site Refusal Hit

The Marin Municipal Water District board's rejection of a county request for a juvenile forestry camp site below and west of Peters Dam appears to be a reversal of the district's previous willingness to lease "an appropriate site."

So Donald A. Jensen, county administrator, reported to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

The site in question "is the only known site on water district lands which is ideal, not only from the county's point of view, but also from the point of view of protection of the watershed and non-interference with water district operations," Jensen wrote the supervisors.

Jensen put before the board six possible courses of action including a request that the water district take the initiative in indicating the site it recommends.

An approach might also be made to the state Division of Beaches and Parks as to a site in Taylor Park, said Jensen. He said there might also be consideration of a purchase of private land.

Consideration might be given to a Woodacre property now allocated to the county fire department, he said. Or Sonoma County might join in a jointly operated camp, "supplementing, rather than taking the place of, that county's mobile camp."

Jensen also thought the board should consider a residential facility for girls, "for which the need is probably as great as for boys."

Supervisors tabled the matter temporarily.

SUPERVISOR ROUNDUP

Marin's Multiple Zoning Law Made More Flexible

Marin County's multiple zoning ordinance was amended to permit creation of additional multiple residential districts by vote of the county board of supervisors yesterday.

The measure affords greater flexibility and sets up districts for apartments requiring 1,500 square feet to 3,500 square feet per apartment. Builders have taken part in consultations with the planning staff on the changes.

Much discussion has centered about the minimum limit, formerly 1,000 square feet. The 1,500-square-foot minimum requirement represents a compromise.

The board also:

1. Continued to Jan. 5 a hearing on the proposed abandonment of rail freight service in the Sausalito area by Northwestern Pacific Railroad. Sausalito businessmen seek support of their opposition.

2. Decided to have a copy of the final plans and specifications for the first two phases of the Civic Center provided for each supervisor. Copies cost $50 apiece.

3. Approved the formation of an assessment district for unit 3 of Marin Golf and Country Estates.

4. Accepted a book, "Frank Lloyd Wright—Drawings for Living Architecture," for the county library from Aaron Green, San Francisco architect representing the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation. The book includes perspective drawings of the Civic Center and a sketch of the Robert Berger house in San Anselmo.

5. Approved these new pay provisions for county nurses: extra hire" for practical nurses, $12.40 for day shift and $12.96 night shift; licensed vocational nurses "extra hire" $14.32 day shift, $15.04 night shift; registered nurses an additional step (or 5 per cent) for work on afternoon or night shift.

6. Granted Mrs. Ethel Ingham, welfare department social worker, leave without pay from May 1 through Aug. 31 of next year for "a long-standing family plan to take Mrs. Ingham's son on a world tour."

7. Adopted a new policy on burial of indigents, exempting $600 for private burial from consideration in determining eligibility for general relief or medical care to permit the accumulating of minimum savings for private rites in preference to a $200 county burial.

Doctor Warns Of Abdominal Crash Hurts

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Doctors were warned today against the possibility of overlooking abdominal injuries in automobile accidents.

This could happen, said Dr. Gordon V. Madding of Burlingame, because of the more obvious injuries of such people.

In a report at the annual clinical session of the American Medical Assn., the doctor said:

"With the advent of the automobile and the ever-increasing number of serious accidents on the highways usually involving more than one part of the body, abdominal injuries have assumed a position of greater importance because they are frequently over-shadowed by more obvious concomitant injuries of the extremities, arms and legs, head and chest.

"Because of this, the abdominal injury may be overlooked entirely or discovered so late that sugical intervention is of no avail."

Mill Valley Resident Gets Check, Certificate

William D. Griffen of 411 East Blithedale avenue, Mill Valley, has been awarded a commendation certificate and a check for $250 by the Army Corps of Engineers for his work on a comprehensive report on the Corte Madera flood control project.

Col. John S. Harnett, district engineer, made the presentation.

Bel Aire Area Residents Fear Flooding

Disaster threatens the Bel Aire area on Tiburon Peninsula when the rains finally do come, the Marin County Board of Supervisors was warned yesterday.

But after two hours of argument on the drainage problems in the area, the best answer to come up was that a ditch there should perhaps be dug a little deeper.

And then architect Rolland B. Hammond of San Rafael was doubtful that construction on the new Westminster Presbyterian Church off Tiburon boulevard had really impaired the efficiency of the ditch.

Viewing the situation with alarm was, among others, a Bel Aire resident James Pott of 54 Claire way.

Pott's concern over what may happen if there are torrential rains was backed up by views of Preston Smith, state Division of Highways engineer, who agreed that the situation is hazardous quite apart from plans for widening Tiburon boulevard right on top of the present drainage ditch.

Attorney Bryan R. McCarthy, representing some property owners, said "the drainage pattern in the area is the primary problem" dating back to filling of bayshore land and past decisions of the planning commission and supervisors.

The Presbyterians, Hammond pointed out, had planning commission assurance that the drainage ditch from Bel Aire through Greenwood Lagoon would be located somewhere east of an extension of Blackfield drive and would not affect the church property.

If work on the church left the existing ditch in bad shape where it follows the boulevard, Hammond said, it will be up to the contractor to put things right.

Supervisor William D. Fuselman felt that "it is up to the private interests to get together." But McCarthy complained that representatives of some of the most vitally affected show no desire to get together.

"I move," said Supervisor Vera L. Schultz, "that the public works department inspect the ditch and indicate to the church what should be done to put it back into the same condition it was before."

After unanimous approval, the hearing was continued until 2:30 p.m. Dec. 22.

Airport Work Likely To Cost Extra $4,000

Marin County's work on improvement of the runways at Novato Airport probably will cost about $7,000, more than double the original estimate of $3,000, Marvin W. Brigham, county director of public works, told the board of supervisors yesterday.

The supervisors agreed to a minimum width of 30 feet for runway surfacing, instead of the original plan of 100 feet, to reduce the amount of fill.

Brigham, in a letter to the board, said it was found the ground in the area would not support the equipment necessary to do the work and it would be necessary to haul in fill to support the equipment.

Six inches to one foot of fill will be required, he said.

Brigham said the airport operators stated a minimum width of 30 feet could be used temporarily.

He said cost of the work will probably run about $7,000, "assuming we can get the equipment to the runway without having to fill a haul road.

SANTA'S GOING TO HAVE TO GIVE OUT FUDGE

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — Santa Claus, the guest of honor in the annual Christmas parade last night, was his usual lovable self and all the kids were clamoring for the favors he tossed from his float.

Unfortunately, a piece of hard candy broke the glasses of 8-year-old Richard Howell.

Santa or no Santa, said Richard's mother, the parade-sponsoring chamber of commerce may get billed for a pair of glasses.

Coast Guardsman Heads Fire Unit

A Coast Guard officer last night was elected president of the Tamalpais Valley Volunteer Firemen's Assn.

Taking the top chair was Chief Warrant Officer James Gill, 35, of 371 Marin avenue, Tamalpais Valley. Gill is assistant commander of the Yerba Buena Island group of Coast Guard stations.

Active in volunteer fire work for some time, Gill, a ham radio operator, has used his electronics knowledge to keep electric and radio equipment of the department in order.

Elected vice president was full-time fireman Ralph Smith. Named secretary was Herman Koolhaven, also a full-time fireman. Elected treasurer was Melvin Phenicie.

SANTA LOSES HIS HEAD

Maybe it was the lure of the islands that caused Santa Claus to lose his head at Honolulu. But it was only temporary—Santa, standing 25 feet high and weighing 3,400 pounds, soon had his three sections put together, and is reigning over a shopping center during the holiday season. The plastic and steel mesh St. Nick, shipped from Los Angeles, is believed the largest of his ilk ever to visit the islands. (AP Wirephoto)

Home Construction Decline Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department predicts that the nation's economy will be aided in 1960 by a greater dollar outlay from the building and construction industry that will top the record pace of 1959.

The report released yesterday said that home and highway building will be down next year, but this will be offset by increases in such projects as new school construction, commercial and industrial projects.

In a generally favorable outlook report, the department said construction dollar outlays will rise to $55,300,000,000 in 1960, about 2 per cent above the record 54 billion dollars estimated for 1959.

However, the increase will reflect higher prices, not a physical rise in construction.

"Therefore," the department said, "new construction in 1960 should act as a stabilizing force but not contribute to the overall economic expansion as it did in 1959."

The department hedged its forecast on the assumption that the steel strike will not resume. Even if production is not interrupted again, supplies of structural steel may lag a bit but over-all will be adequate for planned construction, it said.

Home building is expected to dip from this year's high level of 1,325,000 starts to about 1,200,000 units. Highway construction was said to be headed for its first postwar cutback, although a very small one.

Headed up are building of industrial and commercial facilities, private and public schools, churches, utilities' installations, hospitals and sewage systems, the department said.

It blamed the expected decline in private housing primarily on a tight supply of loan money.

Despite the drop in housing, gains in non-residential construction will lift private construction outlays one billion dollars above this year's $37,800,000,000.

Ike Against Advising On Birth Control

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today firmly opposed involving the federal government in any way with assisting other nations with birth control advice.

Eisenhower told his news conference he could not imagine a subject more improper as a matter of government responsibility or function than birth control.

Furthermore Eisenhower said that as long as he is president the United States government will have absolutely nothing to do with advising other nations on their birth control problems. If another country wants birth control advice, he said it could seek out professional information.

DISPUTE FLARES

The birth control controversy flared anew after the Roman Catholic bishops of the United States charged last week that a "propaganda campaign" was being waged to pave the way for U. S. support of "artificial birth prevention" programs in underdeveloped countries which are experiencing population pressures.

The subject was raised by a reporter who referred to foreign aid recommendations made to the president earlier this week by a special study committee.

The committee report in one section said the United States should, on request, assist other countries faced with difficult population expansion problems by providing information to help meet the problem. The report itself did not mention birth control.

STRONG FEELING

Asked about this section of the report, Eisenhower said with strong feeling that he could not imagine anything more emphatically a subject that is not a proper political or governmental responsibility or function.

He said it was a subject that had deep religious implications with some denominations, notably the Roman Catholics, and he had no quarrel with them.

The subject of birth control, however, he continued, has nothing to do with the contact between one government and another and he did not intend for the United States to interfere with any other government in such a manner.

U.S. Willing To Make Panama Concessions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will formally notify Panama today it is willing to make concessions in connection with the operation of the Panama Canal which has stirred anti-American feeling in the Central American nation.

A note detailing the U. S. position was to be delivered later in the day by U. S. ambassador to Panama Julian Harrington to Panamanian Foreign Minister Miguel Moreno.

Officials here expressed hope the concessions would break the long-standing deadlock over the interpretation of 1955 treaty provisions concerning wages in the Canal Zone and help restore traditionally friendly relations between the two countries.

They noted however that the decision to give a "more flexible" interpretation to the treaty was taken last October but announcement was delayed in the face of increasing anti-U. S. hostility.

U. S. sources said that in addition to promising Panama priority in purchasing supplies for the zone and taking steps to improve wages for Panamanian workers, the U. S. may contemplate financing the construction of housing in the Republic of Panama to be used by canal employees.

Another issue under study by the State Department is a request by the Panamanian government that its flag be flown over the Canal Zone along with the American flag.

Hayden Faces New Court Actions Filed By Ex-Wife

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actor Sterling Hayden was to appear in court today to face a second contempt citation filed by his former wife in the custody battle over their four children.

Mrs. Ann De Noon Hayden, 37, filed two separate court actions yesterday against the 42-year-old seafaring actor in addition to those already pending.

One of the actions charges Hayden violated a divorce decree granted him in August, 1955, which gave him custody of their children but prohibited him from taking them out of the state. This was the citation he was to face today.

The other action was a charge by Mrs. Hayden that he "willfully, deliberately and brutally, for purposes causing her grief," has refused to allow her to see the children unless she agrees to an arrangement whereby she would see them once every two weeks and then only in his presence.

She charged she had seen the children — Christian, 11; Thor, 10; Gretchen, 9, and Matthew, 7—only once since their return with Hayden last month from an 11-month voyage from Sausalito to Tahiti in his schooner, the Wanderer. A hearing on this phase of her case will be held before Superior Court Commissioner Clinton Rodda Dec. 11.

Hayden also faces a hearing Jan. 5 on an earlier contempt charge filed against him. The charge is based on his violation of last January's court award of the children's custody to him. It carried the proviso that he not take them on an ocean voyage in his schooner.

The hearing which is to decide the custody of the children has been set for Jan. 25.

Discussion Of Public Health Services Set

Three Marin County physicians will discuss public-supported health services for children at a meeting sponsored by the West Novato Parent-Teacher Assn. Tonight at 8 o'clock at the West Novato School.

The speakers are Dr. Paul O'Rourke, formerly a general practitioner in Novato and now with the public health department in Berkeley; Dr. Earl Siegal, Novato pediatrician and Dr. Joseph Gutstadt, San Rafael psychiatrist.

Each doctor will discuss health services from the standpoint of his specific professional experience.

The fifth and sixth grade glee club of West Novato School will sing Christmas carols.

Jay Vee Shop To Reopen Tomorrow After Remodeling

The Jay Vee women's shop at 933 Fourth street has been undergoing a face-lifting the past two weeks without shutting down. The $15,000 remodeling job has been completed, according to James K. Biber, district manager for Jay Vee stores of California.

The remodeling was an outgrowth of the store's need for an entrance to the Third street parking lot. A black wooden overhang topping the yellow building will be the Third street entrance.

The floors of the shop have been tiled and carpeted and new interior colors are yellow, peacock and beige.

Doors will open tomorrow morning at 9:30 a. m. on a new stock of merchandise to celebrate the completion of the remodeling program.

Ike Implies U.S. Action In Steel Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower implied strongly today that the government will take decisive action to settle the steel strike if management and labor fail to agree before the Taft-Hartley injunction expires.

If the parties cannot get anywhere by their bargaining, he told a news conference, the government cannot sit idly on its hands.

He added that unless the parties can get together in a settlement which is in the public interest, somebody is going to lose something.

Death Sentence Upheld By Court

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Supreme Court upheld the death sentence of Vernon Atchley yesterday, rejecting numerous claims that Butte County Judge A. B. Ware had improperly admitted evidence which prejudiced the jury.

Atchley, 42, of Gridley, was convicted of shooting his estranged wife, Marcella, on Aug. 3, 1958.

In yesterday's ruling the high court said it was not improper to allow a tape recording to be played to the jury of a conversation between Atchley and his insurance broker, Ray J. Travers. A former policeman, Travers had obtained admissions from Atchley, who neither reads nor writes, in a conversation about insurance payments to the children left motherless by the slaying.

I-J Business Chief To Make Inaugural Jet Flight To Rome

Wishard A. Brown, Independent-Journal business manager, will take off tomorrow morning from San Francisco International Airport on the first leg of a swift jet journey to Rome.

Brown will be among 100 press representatives from throughout the United States who will fly as guests of Trans-World Airlines on an inaugural six-hour jet flight from New York to Paris tomorrow night.

The plane will land at Paris briefly before taking off again for Rome, where Brown and the others will spend three days. They will attend a reception by Italian President Giovanni Gronchi in honor of President Eisenhower.

The jet junket will then return to Paris for another three-day stop-over before winging back to New York. But Brown will return to this country on a separate jet airliner and to his I-J office after a few days visit in England.

District's Camp Site Refusal Hit

The Marin Municipal Water District board's rejection of a county request for a juvenile forestry camp site below and west of Peters Dam appears to be a reversal of the district's previous willingness to lease "an appropriate site."

So Donald A. Jensen, county administrator, reported to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

The site in question "is the only known site on water district lands which is ideal, not only from the county's point of view, but also from the point of view of protection of the watershed and non-interference with water district operations," Jensen wrote the supervisors.

Jensen put before the board six possible courses of action including a request that the water district take the initiative in indicating the site it recommends.

An approach might also be made to the state Division of Beaches and Parks as to a site in Taylor Park, said Jensen. He said there might also be consideration of a purchase of private land.

Consideration might be given to a Woodacre property now allocated to the county fire department, he said. Or Sonoma County might join in a jointly operated camp, "supplementing, rather than taking the place of, that county's mobile camp."

Jensen also thought the board should consider a residential facility for girls, "for which the need is probably as great as for boys."

Supervisors tabled the matter temporarily.

SUPERVISOR ROUNDUP

Marin's Multiple Zoning Law Made More Flexible

Marin County's multiple zoning ordinance was amended to permit creation of additional multiple residential districts by vote of the county board of supervisors yesterday.

The measure affords greater flexibility and sets up districts for apartments requiring 1,500 square feet to 3,500 square feet per apartment. Builders have taken part in consultations with the planning staff on the changes.

Much discussion has centered about the minimum limit, formerly 1,000 square feet. The 1,500-square-foot minimum requirement represents a compromise.

The board also:

1. Continued to Jan. 5 a hearing on the proposed abandonment of rail freight service in the Sausalito area by Northwestern Pacific Railroad. Sausalito businessmen seek support of their opposition.

2. Decided to have a copy of the final plans and specifications for the first two phases of the Civic Center provided for each supervisor. Copies cost $50 apiece.

3. Approved the formation of an assessment district for unit 3 of Marin Golf and Country Estates.

4. Accepted a book, "Frank Lloyd Wright—Drawings for Living Architecture," for the county library from Aaron Green, San Francisco architect representing the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation. The book includes perspective drawings of the Civic Center and a sketch of the Robert Berger house in San Anselmo.

5. Approved these new pay provisions for county nurses: extra hire" for practical nurses, $12.40 for day shift and $12.96 night shift; licensed vocational nurses "extra hire" $14.32 day shift, $15.04 night shift; registered nurses an additional step (or 5 per cent) for work on afternoon or night shift.

6. Granted Mrs. Ethel Ingham, welfare department social worker, leave without pay from May 1 through Aug. 31 of next year for "a long-standing family plan to take Mrs. Ingham's son on a world tour."

7. Adopted a new policy on burial of indigents, exempting $600 for private burial from consideration in determining eligibility for general relief or medical care to permit the accumulating of minimum savings for private rites in preference to a $200 county burial.

Doctor Warns Of Abdominal Crash Hurts

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Doctors were warned today against the possibility of overlooking abdominal injuries in automobile accidents.

This could happen, said Dr. Gordon V. Madding of Burlingame, because of the more obvious injuries of such people.

In a report at the annual clinical session of the American Medical Assn., the doctor said:

"With the advent of the automobile and the ever-increasing number of serious accidents on the highways usually involving more than one part of the body, abdominal injuries have assumed a position of greater importance because they are frequently over-shadowed by more obvious concomitant injuries of the extremities, arms and legs, head and chest.

"Because of this, the abdominal injury may be overlooked entirely or discovered so late that sugical intervention is of no avail."

Mill Valley Resident Gets Check, Certificate

William D. Griffen of 411 East Blithedale avenue, Mill Valley, has been awarded a commendation certificate and a check for $250 by the Army Corps of Engineers for his work on a comprehensive report on the Corte Madera flood control project.

Col. John S. Harnett, district engineer, made the presentation.

Bel Aire Area Residents Fear Flooding

Disaster threatens the Bel Aire area on Tiburon Peninsula when the rains finally do come, the Marin County Board of Supervisors was warned yesterday.

But after two hours of argument on the drainage problems in the area, the best answer to come up was that a ditch there should perhaps be dug a little deeper.

And then architect Rolland B. Hammond of San Rafael was doubtful that construction on the new Westminster Presbyterian Church off Tiburon boulevard had really impaired the efficiency of the ditch.

Viewing the situation with alarm was, among others, a Bel Aire resident James Pott of 54 Claire way.

Pott's concern over what may happen if there are torrential rains was backed up by views of Preston Smith, state Division of Highways engineer, who agreed that the situation is hazardous quite apart from plans for widening Tiburon boulevard right on top of the present drainage ditch.

Attorney Bryan R. McCarthy, representing some property owners, said "the drainage pattern in the area is the primary problem" dating back to filling of bayshore land and past decisions of the planning commission and supervisors.

The Presbyterians, Hammond pointed out, had planning commission assurance that the drainage ditch from Bel Aire through Greenwood Lagoon would be located somewhere east of an extension of Blackfield drive and would not affect the church property.

If work on the church left the existing ditch in bad shape where it follows the boulevard, Hammond said, it will be up to the contractor to put things right.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman felt that "it is up to the private interests to get together." But McCarthy complained that representatives of some of the most vitally affected show no desire to get together.

"I move," said Supervisor Vera L. Schultz, "that the public works department inspect the ditch and indicate to the church what should be done to put it back into the same condition it was before."

After unanimous approval, the hearing was continued until 2:30 p.m. Dec. 22.

Airport Work Likely To Cost Extra $4,000

Marin County's work on improvement of the runways at Novato Airport probably will cost about $7,000, more than double the original estimate of $3,000, Marvin W. Brigham, county director of public works, told the board of supervisors yesterday.

The supervisors agreed to a minimum width of 30 feet for runway surfacing, instead of the original plan of 100 feet, to reduce the amount of fill.

Brigham, in a letter to the board, said it was found the ground in the area would not support the equipment necessary to do the work and it would be necessary to haul in fill to support the equipment.

Six inches to one foot of fill will be required, he said.

Brigham said the airport operators stated a minimum width of 30 feet could be used temporarily.

He said cost of the work will probably run about $7,000, "assuming we can get the equipment to the runway without having to fill a haul road.

SANTA'S GOING TO HAVE TO GIVE OUT FUDGE

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — Santa Claus, the guest of honor in the annual Christmas parade last night, was his usual lovable self and all the kids were clamoring for the favors he tossed from his float.

Unfortunately, a piece of hard candy broke the glasses of 8-year-old Richard Howell.

Santa or no Santa, said Richard's mother, the parade-sponsoring chamber of commerce may get billed for a pair of glasses.

SANTA LOSES HIS HEAD

Maybe it was the lure of the islands that caused Santa Claus to lose his head at Honolulu. But it was only temporary—Santa, standing 25 feet high and weighing 3,400 pounds, soon had his three sections put together, and is reigning over a shopping center during the holiday season. The plastic and steel mesh St. Nick, shipped from Los Angeles, is believed the largest of his ilk ever to visit the islands. (AP Wirephoto)

Home Construction Decline Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department predicts that the nation's economy will be aided in 1960 by a greater dollar outlay from the building and construction industry that will top the record pace of 1959.

The report released yesterday said that home and highway building will be down next year, but this will be offset by increases in such projects as new school construction, commercial and industrial projects.

In a generally favorable outlook report, the department said construction dollar outlays will rise to $55,300,000,000 in 1960, about 2 per cent above the record 54 billion dollars estimated for 1959.

However, the increase will reflect higher prices, not a physical rise in construction.

"Therefore," the department said, "new construction in 1960 should act as a stabilizing force but not contribute to the overall economic expansion as it did in 1959."

The department hedged its forecast on the assumption that the steel strike will not resume. Even if production is not interrupted again, supplies of structural steel may lag a bit but over-all will be adequate for planned construction, it said.

Home building is expected to dip from this year's high level of 1,325,000 starts to about 1,200,000 units. Highway construction was said to be headed for its first postwar cutback, although a very small one.

Headed up are building of industrial and commercial facilities, private and public schools, churches, utilities' installations, hospitals and sewage systems, the department said.

It blamed the expected decline in private housing primarily on a tight supply of loan money.

Despite the drop in housing, gains in non-residential construction will lift private construction outlays one billion dollars above this year's $37,800,000,000.

Ike Against Advising On Birth Control

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today firmly opposed involving the federal government in any way with assisting other nations with birth control advice.

Eisenhower told his news conference he could not imagine a subject more improper as a matter of government responsibility or function than birth control.

Furthermore Eisenhower said that as long as he is president the United States government will have absolutely nothing to do with advising other nations on their birth control problems. If another country wants birth control advice, he said it could seek out professional information.

DISPUTE FLARES

The birth control controversy flared anew after the Roman Catholic bishops of the United States charged last week that a "propaganda campaign" was being waged to pave the way for U. S. support of "artificial birth prevention" programs in underdeveloped countries which are experiencing population pressures.

The subject was raised by a reporter who referred to foreign aid recommendations made to the president earlier this week by a special study committee.

The committee report in one section said the United States should, on request, assist other countries faced with difficult population expansion problems by providing information to help meet the problem. The report itself did not mention birth control.

STRONG FEELING

Asked about this section of the report, Eisenhower said with strong feeling that he could not imagine anything more emphatically a subject that is not a proper political or governmental responsibility or function.

He said it was a subject that had deep religious implications with some denominations, notably the Roman Catholics, and he had no quarrel with them.

The subject of birth control, however, he continued, has nothing to do with the contact between one government and another and he did not intend for the United States to interfere with any other government in such a manner.

I-J Business Chief To Make Inaugural Jet Flight To Rome

Wishard A. Brown, Independent-Journal business manager, will take off tomorrow morning from San Francisco International Airport on the first leg of a swift jet journey to Rome.

Brown will be among 100 press representatives from throughout the United States who will fly as guests of Trans-World Airlines on an inaugural six-hour jet flight from New York to Paris tomorrow night.

The plane will land at Paris briefly before taking off again for Rome, where Brown and the others will spend three days. They will attend a reception by Italian President Giovanni Gronchi in honor of President Eisenhower.

The jet junket will then return to Paris for another three-day stop-over before winging back to New York. But Brown will return to this country on a separate jet airliner and to his I-J office after a few days visit in England.

Conscience Wins

U.S. Willing To Make Panama Concessions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will formally notify Panama today it is willing to make concessions in connection with the operation of the Panama Canal which has stirred anti-American feeling in the Central American nation.

A note detailing the U. S. position was to be delivered later in the day by U. S. ambassador to Panama Julian Harrington to Panamanian Foreign Minister Miguel Moreno.

Officials here expressed hope the concessions would break the long-standing deadlock over the interpretation of 1955 treaty provisions concerning wages in the Canal Zone and help restore traditionally friendly relations between the two countries.

They noted however that the decision to give a "more flexible" interpretation to the treaty was taken last October but announcement was delayed in the face of increasing anti-U. S. hostility.

U. S. sources said that in addition to promising Panama priority in purchasing supplies for the zone and taking steps to improve wages for Panamanian workers, the U. S. may contemplate financing the construction of housing in the Republic of Panama to be used by canal employees.

Another issue under study by the State Department is a request by the Panamanian government that its flag be flown over the Canal Zone along with the American flag.

Ike Implies U.S. Action In Steel Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower implied strongly today that the government will take decisive action to settle the steel strike if management and labor fail to agree before the Taft-Hartley injunction expires.

If the parties cannot get anywhere by their bargaining, he told a news conference, the government cannot sit idly on its hands.

He added that unless the parties can get together in a settlement which is in the public interest, somebody is going to lose something.

Hayden Faces New Court Actions Filed By Ex-Wife

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actor Sterling Hayden was to appear in court today to face a second contempt citation filed by his former wife in the custody battle over their four children.

Mrs. Ann De Noon Hayden, 37, filed two separate court actions yesterday against the 42-year-old seafaring actor in addition to those already pending.

One of the actions charges Hayden violated a divorce decree granted him in August, 1955, which gave him custody of their children but prohibited him from taking them out of the state. This was the citation he was to face today.

The other action was a charge by Mrs. Hayden that he "willfully, deliberately and brutally, for purposes causing her grief," has refused to allow her to see the children unless she agrees to an arrangement whereby she would see them once every two weeks and then only in his presence.

She charged she had seen the children — Christian, 11; Thor, 10; Gretchen, 9, and Matthew, 7—only once since their return with Hayden last month from an 11-month voyage from Sausalito to Tahiti in his schooner, the Wanderer. A hearing on this phase of her case will be held before Superior Court Commissioner Clinton Rodda Dec. 11.

Hayden also faces a hearing Jan. 5 on an earlier contempt charge filed against him. The charge is based on his violation of last January's court award of the children's custody to him. It carried the proviso that he not take them on an ocean voyage in his schooner.

The hearing which is to decide the custody of the children has been set for Jan. 25.

Death Sentence Upheld By Court

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Supreme Court upheld the death sentence of Vernon Atchley yesterday, rejecting numerous claims that Butte County Judge A. B. Ware had improperly admitted evidence which prejudiced the jury.

Atchley, 42, of Gridley, was convicted of shooting his estranged wife, Marcella, on Aug. 3, 1958.

In yesterday's ruling the high court said it was not improper to allow a tape recording to be played to the jury of a conversation between Atchley and his insurance broker, Ray J. Travers. A former policeman, Travers had obtained admissions from Atchley, who neither reads nor writes, in a conversation about insurance payments to the children left motherless by the slaying.

Discussion Of Public Health Services Set

Three Marin County physicians will discuss public-supported health services for children at a meeting sponsored by the West Novato Parent-Teacher Assn. Tonight at 8 o'clock at the West Novato School.

The speakers are Dr. Paul O'Rourke, formerly a general practitioner in Novato and now with the public health department in Berkeley; Dr. Earl Siegal, Novato pediatrician and Dr. Joseph Gutstadt, San Rafael psychiatrist.

Each doctor will discuss health services from the standpoint of his specific professional experience.

The fifth and sixth grade glee club of West Novato School will sing Christmas carols.

Jay Vee Shop To Reopen Tomorrow After Remodeling

The Jay Vee women's shop at 933 Fourth street has been undergoing a face-lifting the past two weeks without shutting down. The $15,000 remodeling job has been completed, according to James K. Biber, district manager for Jay Vee stores of California.

The remodeling was an outgrowth of the store's need for an entrance to the Third street parking lot. A black wooden overhang topping the yellow building will be the Third street entrance.

The floors of the shop have been tiled and carpeted and new interior colors are yellow, peacock and beige.

Doors will open tomorrow morning at 9:30 a. m. on a new stock of merchandise to celebrate the completion of the remodeling program.

South Poses Real Threat To Our Political Power

Down in Southern California a committee called the "20-20 Plan For Equitable Representation In the State Senate" has gone into full activity. They have asked the attorney general's office for a title for a proposed initiative petition to reapportion the upper house of the state Legislature.

The plan is to reapportion the Senate so that there will be 20 senators from north of the Tehachapi mountains and 20 senators from the south. At present there are only nine senators from the much-larger-in-population south and 31 from the much-larger-in-area north.

This may seem like discrimination against the southlanders unless you consider the whole picture. The south controls the State Assembly. Los Angeles alone has 31 assemblymen of the 80 in the lower house. An additional 11 from the other counties gives the south a clear majority approximately in proportion to the populations of the north and south.

Here in Marin we would be affected by the new proposal because we would be lumped in with Sonoma county for one senator when our county at present has a senator to represent just it.

But the loss of half a senator isn't our major concern. What would be broken down by the proposal is the principal of government which has existed in this nation since the U.S. Constitution was first drawn. Congress was designed to allow one house to be dominated by the more populous states while the other house is representative of all areas of our country equally. Thus in washington, D.C., New York and Nevada have far different numbers of representatives sitting in Congress, but in the U.S. Senate, both states are represented by just two senators.

Thus it is in this state. Our Legislature is designed to protect the interests of all segments of the state, even though they are not highly populated. To turn over the State Senate to the metropolis of Los Angeles, as well as the State Assembly it already has, would be defeating the basic democratic philosophy of giving the minority a say in government.

There is no secret about why this measure is being proposed. Los Angeles wanted a specific bill passed last session which would allow taxation of properties owned by the federal government but being used by private firms, such as aviation plants. The bill passed the Assembly and was killed in the Senate. Southlanders, who lost a lot of tax money, swore they would get even by gaining control of both houses of the Legislature.

They have a good chance of doing it, too. More than 50 per cent of the state's population lives south of the Tehachapis. Only a majority vote is needed to amend the State Constitution to provide for the 20-20 split.

If this happens, Northern California will exist solely on handouts which the Southland's legislators decide to give us. We'll have no political power of our own.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Tiburon Election Misuse Of Recall

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The recall election against an appointed fire district commissioner in the little hamlet of Tiburon, where only 1300 registered voters are affected, may seem of little interest to readers of your newspaper in the rest of the county. Yet they should be interested, for here, in microcosm, the very heart of our democratic processes is being tested — namely, is the law something to be used capriciously so that a political process though "legal" is, in fact, a gross misuse of the law?

This action, taken by supposedly responsible public officials, has resulted in an added financial burden to an already debt-burdened district already debt-burdened district and, very possibly, in permanent stigma and damage to the reputation of a forthright and respected community leader.

The historic purpose of the recall procedure is to make direct action possible in the removal from public office of one guilty of malfeasance, Since this is not the case in this instance, why are we now confronted with a recall election?

It would seem that it was initiated impetuously and irresponsibly by the other four commissioners who were piqued by what they considered to be irregularities in procedure but which, upon examination of the facts, cannot be found. The chronology of events bears out this thesis.

In July, Howard McGill resigned from the Tiburon Fire Commission. In July, Supervisor Vera Schultz had conversation with Fred Mantegani who expressed his desire for appointment to the vacancy. He was advised to present to the board evidence of community support.

Also in July, Mrs. Schultz spoke with Commission Vice Chairman Fred C. Hannahs and requested that he keep the board advised of the commission's thinking.

On Aug. 3, Mantegani was the only candidate to appear before the commission to state his qualifications and seek its recommendation. The commission deferred recommendation until the September meeting in fairness to all possible candidates, especially the "4th man on the totem pole" in the April elections.

The commission then failed to communicate this intent to the Board of Supervisors, sole appointing authority.

Next, the board of directors of the Tiburon Property Owners' Association (one of whom is Vice Chairman Hannahs) sent a letter under date of Aug. 13 to the Board of Supervisors endorsing the "4th man on the totem pole." Surely Mr. Hannahs, who is familiar with supervisors' procedure, knew that such a letter would automatically put the matter of filling the vacancy on the board's agenda.

This it did. No action was taken by the supervisors at their Aug. 18 or 25 meetings.

About Aug. 30, Mantegani was informed by a supporter that action on Sept. 1 seemed inevitable. He was therefore forced to submit his endorsement petition to the board in order to receive consideration. He advised Mrs. Schultz of the existence of a petition for yet another candidate. On this basis she asked further delay and was overruled.

Mantegani, in the board's view the clear choice of the community, was then appointed unanimously.

On Sept. 16 petitions for his recall were filed by the other commissioners. Mantegani's appointment was clearly legal and open.

Is this then an election to test whether the privilege of recommendation supersedes the power of appointment?

Would not graceful acceptance of the appointment of a well-qualified person have resulted in effective joint attack upon the problems of the district and been infinitely preferable to expressing personal pique in this fashion?

In the light of what this does to stigmatize a member of a respected family, in the light of hurt to that family and the resulting effect on their business, and especially in the light of the fact that the breakdown in communications from commission to board was clearly the commission's own failure, can one then say that this is the action that mature and thoughtful men should have taken? Is this not, in fact, a gross misuse of the recall procedure?

I cannot believe that the commissioners who initiated or the sincere citizens who signed this petition for recall in the name of democratic processes had any realization of the great personal damage they were doing to Mantegani — that they were, in fact, denying the very democratic processes they thought they were protecting. Under our system one is innocent until proved guilty and "recall" in the public mind is synonomous with "impeach," usually implying fingers in the till.

In the entire history of Marin County, no public official, appointive or elective, has ever been recalled. If the people of Tiburon go to the polls on Dec. 8 and make Fred Mantegani the first on these flimsy grounds, it will be to their everlasting shame.

ANNE L. ELLINWOOD
Tiburon

(NOTE: A "Town Hall on Recall" meeting is scheduled tonight at 8 o'clock in Reed School auditorium to discuss the subjects Reader Ellinwood has brought up.)

PRACTICE WHAT YOU PREACH

Believe it or not, about 25 fire department stations go up in smoke every year, according to an official of the International Association of Fire Chiefs.

"If a fire breaks out on the roof of a fire station," he explained, "the watchman on duty often doesn't find out about it until someone who has spotted it from the street comes running into the station."

The solution he recommended was to have a fire detection system for every fire station. "After all, we should set the example for everyone else," he said.

It is easy for any of us to advocate noble principles while not putting them into practice ourselves. Even St. Paul showed a healthy fear of not putting divine principles into practical application.

"I chastise my body and bring it into subjection," he said, "lest perhaps after preaching to others I myself should be rejected."

(I Corinthians 9:27)

If you make it a point first to "do" what you "teach," you will add great force and strength to all that you recommend to others.

"Show thyself in all things an example of good works."

(Titus 2:7)

Help me, O Lord, to be the first to follow the advice I give to others.

World Would Be Better Place If Some Of These Things Occurred

NEW YORK (AP) — It might be a better world if—

Jackie Gleason played Mr. Micawber. He is still the necessary man's W. C. Fields.

Honeybees had wheelbarrows, to save wear and tear on their wings.

All traffic cops had laryngitis, plus writer's cramp.

The U. S. Post Office would censor dullness as well as pornography.

Widowers could figure a way to outnumber widows.

Children would honor their father and mother without saying, "Oh, yeah!"

A fellow could open a plastic-wrapped package gracefully.

One could be sure he was going to inherit money. Then he could relax and be an honest snob, and mingle with a better class of people.

Husbands actually listened to their wives. But even if they did they would go on being their normal selves.

Suburbanites could live in town in winter when they can't grow anything anyway except frost-bitten noses — the hinterland's out-of-season tomatoes.

Television would inaugurate a series of unrigged quiz programs featuring bright, unrehearsed congressmen.

Fat ladies would quit wearing slacks and vice versa.

Someone would find out whatever happened to vicuna, and the two-pants suit.

Pizza pie was served a la mode.

Christmas neckties were sold in solid colors.

Shoelaces never untied themselves.

It would be a better world, all right, if—

But it isn't. We must put up with it as it is.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Sausalito Police Judge John J. Miller was told to resign in a letter from the city council. The letter said "considerable friction and a complete lack of cooperation exists between you, as city judge, and our police department," a situation which "seriously and harmfully affects the administration of our local government." Judge Miller said he wanted to think the whole thing over.

20 YEARS AGO

Unanimous disapproval of the plan for an elevated highway through San Rafael between the railroad right of way and Irwin street was expressed by the city council.

The county grand jury submitted its final report and was discharged by Judge Edward Butler. The report advised that all county funds were found intact and that the records of the various departments were in good order.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

A Deserted County Kind Of Spooky But Civilization Comes Again

Marin County without Marinites would be a spooky kind of place.

It is, in fact.

I'm one who knows, being one of the few who have viewed our fair county totally bereft of human population, to all appearances.

There weren't even any Indians around, though an Indian prayer for rain was wailing eerily over the radio. (When our winter rains finally come, how shall we know whether to credit the prayers pagan or Christian?)

SUCH BRIGHT thoughts are easy to come by as one wheels through a deserted land, silent as craters of the moon, but a lot prettier.

As a matter of fact my wife and I saw Marin without humans at a time of day far from spooky—the early morning of a holiday, Thanksgiving Day to be specific. It is one of our weaknesses to travel, if we can, when others do not; but seldom if ever has this been accomplished more completely than in marvelous Marin.

The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker were all asleep Thanksgiving morning. So were the housewives, the public relations gentry, and, most fortunately, the trash collector who delights in blocking our horse-trail with his big truck.

WE SWEPT through Mill Valley's business section without seeing a soul. Up into the hills we scampered. One yawning dog was the only living creature we passed.

There were no commuters, no yard cleaners; nobody. No hikers were hiking, no wisps of smoke from chimneys. We were as much alone as though far out at sea.

The same was true as Blue Buster scampered up the coastal highway. No fishermen were fishing, no gasoline purveyors attended their pumps. We congratulated ourselves that Buster's tank had been duly filled the night before.

But gradually another thought came through natural causes. We pondered: If every day were a holiday, and if every day were observed the way we like to observe it, even in bounteous Marin, we might get our respective weights down. Our own fuel tanks were getting empty.

ON A MARIN holiday, we realized, one can pass through a lot of lovely scenery without finding that sometimes loveliest of all sights, a good restaurant with its front door open.

In the course of a mostly misspent life I've missed few meals, but this was a time I did so. Marin just didn't have a meal for sale Thanksgiving morning.

Neither did Sonoma. We didn't eat before Mendocino County, and no doubt 'twas all for the best. When we got our food, it was good.

Throughout an enchanted morning we had no company but ourselves, and our perky little car with a personality all its own. Had we stayed home we'd have been happy, just as the homestayers about us were no doubt happy. But once in a while it is nice indeed to get out and have brief recollection of a world without population pressures abuilding.

BUT THE END of that holiday was clearly marked. Afternoon had come and gotten pretty well along; no longer were we alone. People were evident all about, including the highway. They seemed nice.

As we went drifting down a long sweeping inland mountain grade we drew close to an out-of-state car which was wandering from side to side; ill-kept, lurching on loose springs, poorly driven. Suddenly a beer can flew out to roll along the road.

Civilization was with us again.

Governor's 'Thinking' People Advocate Socialistic Proposals

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — In a recent press conference, Gov. Edmund G. Brown said that "thinking" people had suggested to him the possibility of the state of California acquiring a huge tract of land for a state college site, and building its own city around the college proper.

This suggestion came in connection with the site under observation for the University of California branch in Orange County.

THE UNIVERSITY has been offered a tract of land, the governor said, for its buildings, and the proposal of the offering company, which owns all the lands in the surrounding area, indicates that the concern would cause a city to be constructed surrounding the college.

This the governor pointed out, could be classed as 'unjust enrichment' for the donating land company. He said that if the state acquired the entire area, it conceivably could, through leases, realize enough eventually off the land to pay the entire cost of constructing the university branch.

GOVERNOR BROWN hastened to add that he is not advocating this procedure, but said that 'thinking' people have suggested is as a method of preventing 'unjust enrichment.'

Who the 'thinking' people are, the governor neglected to mention. But it is not out of line to believe that whoever they are, they are reasonably thoroughly steeped in the theories of Karl Marx and other socialists.

And the 'thinking' of these 'thinking' individuals belies the tenets of government under which the state Constitution, and the federal Constitution as well, were adopted.

This so-called 'thinking' apparently would obviate the right of an individual, or an individual firm, to acquire wealth on a long or short term basis, by seizing the wealth the individual has built up through foresight and tenacious holding of once worthless land, and turning it over to the government.

THE GOVERNMENT then in turn would lease it out to private individuals and derive the profits.

The land would be off the tax rolls of the county, the improvements would be nontaxable for local purposes because they belonged to the state, and the rest of the people in the county would have to through probable increased taxes, provide services for the city created by government.

Thus, far from equalizing the holding of property, such a move would in effect only put more of a burden on private property owners.

IT IS NOT anticipated that a suggestion of this nature will get very far in this day and age.

But it is an indication of the signs of the times when a governor of a great state like California starts lending credence to views expressed by 'thinkers' along these socialistic lines.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

South Poses Real Threat To Our Political Power

Down in Southern California a committee called the "20-20 Plan For Equitable Representation In the State Senate" has gone into full activity. They have asked the attorney general's office for a title for a proposed initiative petition to reapportion the upper house of the state Legislature.

The plan is to reapportion the Senate so that there will be 20 senators from north of the Tehachapi mountains and 20 senators from the south. At present there are only nine senators from the much-larger-in-population south and 31 from the much-larger-in-area north.

This may seem like discrimination against the southlanders unless you consider the whole picture. The south controls the State Assembly. Los Angeles alone has 31 assemblymen of the 80 in the lower house. An additional 11 from the other counties gives the south a clear majority approximately in proportion to the populations of the north and south.

Here in Marin we would be affected by the new proposal because we would be lumped in with Sonoma county for one senator when our county at present has a senator to represent just it.

But the loss of half a senator isn't our major concern. What would be broken down by the proposal is the principal of government which has existed in this nation since the U.S. Constitution was first drawn. Congress was designed to allow one house to be dominated by the more populous states while the other house is representative of all areas of our country equally. Thus in washington, D.C., New York and Nevada have far different numbers of representatives sitting in Congress, but in the U.S. Senate, both states are represented by just two senators.

Thus it is in this state. Our Legislature is designed to protect the interests of all segments of the state, even though they are not highly populated. To turn over the State Senate to the metropolis of Los Angeles, as well as the State Assembly it already has, would be defeating the basic democratic philosophy of giving the minority a say in government.

There is no secret about why this measure is being proposed. Los Angeles wanted a specific bill passed last session which would allow taxation of properties owned by the federal government but being used by private firms, such as aviation plants. The bill passed the Assembly and was killed in the Senate. Southlanders, who lost a lot of tax money, swore they would get even by gaining control of both houses of the Legislature.

They have a good chance of doing it, too. More than 50 per cent of the state's population lives south of the Tehachapis. Only a majority vote is needed to amend the State Constitution to provide for the 20-20 split.

If this happens, Northern California will exist solely on handouts which the Southland's legislators decide to give us. We'll have no political power of our own.

PRACTICE WHAT YOU PREACH

Believe it or not, about 25 fire department stations go up in smoke every year, according to an official of the International Association of Fire Chiefs.

"If a fire breaks out on the roof of a fire station," he explained, "the watchman on duty often doesn't find out about it until someone who has spotted it from the street comes running into the station."

The solution he recommended was to have a fire detection system for every fire station. "After all, we should set the example for everyone else," he said.

It is easy for any of us to advocate noble principles while not putting them into practice ourselves. Even St. Paul showed a healthy fear of not putting divine principles into practical application.

"I chastise my body and bring it into subjection," he said, "lest perhaps after preaching to others I myself should be rejected."

(I Corinthians 9:27)

If you make it a point first to "do" what you "teach," you will add great force and strength to all that you recommend to others.

"Show thyself in all things an example of good works."

(Titus 2:7)

Help me, O Lord, to be the first to follow the advice I give to others.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The recall election against an appointed fire district commissioner in the little hamlet of Tiburon, where only 1300 registered voters are affected, may seem of little interest to readers of your newspaper in the rest of the county. Yet they should be interested, for here, in microcosm, the very heart of our democratic processes is being tested — namely, is the law something to be used capriciously so that a political process though "legal" is, in fact, a gross misuse of the law?

This action, taken by supposedly responsible public officials, has resulted in an added financial burden to an already debt-burdened district already debt-burdened district and, very possibly, in permanent stigma and damage to the reputation of a forthright and respected community leader.

The historic purpose of the recall procedure is to make direct action possible in the removal from public office of one guilty of malfeasance, Since this is not the case in this instance, why are we now confronted with a recall election?

It would seem that it was initiated impetuously and irresponsibly by the other four commissioners who were piqued by what they considered to be irregularities in procedure but which, upon examination of the facts, cannot be found. The chronology of events bears out this thesis.

In July, Howard McGill resigned from the Tiburon Fire Commission. In July, Supervisor Vera Schultz had conversation with Fred Mantegani who expressed his desire for appointment to the vacancy. He was advised to present to the board evidence of community support.

Also in July, Mrs. Schultz spoke with Commission Vice Chairman Fred C. Hannahs and requested that he keep the board advised of the commission's thinking.

On Aug. 3, Mantegani was the only candidate to appear before the commission to state his qualifications and seek its recommendation. The commission deferred recommendation until the September meeting in fairness to all possible candidates, especially the "4th man on the totem pole" in the April elections.

The commission then failed to communicate this intent to the Board of Supervisors, sole appointing authority.

Next, the board of directors of the Tiburon Property Owners' Association (one of whom is Vice Chairman Hannahs) sent a letter under date of Aug. 13 to the Board of Supervisors endorsing the "4th man on the totem pole." Surely Mr. Hannahs, who is familiar with supervisors' procedure, knew that such a letter would automatically put the matter of filling the vacancy on the board's agenda.

This it did. No action was taken by the supervisors at their Aug. 18 or 25 meetings.

About Aug. 30, Mantegani was informed by a supporter that action on Sept. 1 seemed inevitable. He was therefore forced to submit his endorsement petition to the board in order to receive consideration. He advised Mrs. Schultz of the existence of a petition for yet another candidate. On this basis she asked further delay and was overruled.

Mantegani, in the board's view the clear choice of the community, was then appointed unanimously.

On Sept. 16 petitions for his recall were filed by the other commissioners. Mantegani's appointment was clearly legal and open.

Is this then an election to test whether the privilege of recommendation supersedes the power of appointment?

Would not graceful acceptance of the appointment of a well-qualified person have resulted in effective joint attack upon the problems of the district and been infinitely preferable to expressing personal pique in this fashion?

In the light of what this does to stigmatize a member of a respected family, in the light of hurt to that family and the resulting effect on their business, and especially in the light of the fact that the breakdown in communications from commission to board was clearly the commission's own failure, can one then say that this is the action that mature and thoughtful men should have taken? Is this not, in fact, a gross misuse of the recall procedure?

I cannot believe that the commissioners who initiated or the sincere citizens who signed this petition for recall in the name of democratic processes had any realization of the great personal damage they were doing to Mantegani — that they were, in fact, denying the very democratic processes they thought they were protecting. Under our system one is innocent until proved guilty and "recall" in the public mind is synonomous with "impeach," usually implying fingers in the till.

In the entire history of Marin County, no public official, appointive or elective, has ever been recalled. If the people of Tiburon go to the polls on Dec. 8 and make Fred Mantegani the first on these flimsy grounds, it will be to their everlasting shame.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

A Deserted County Kind Of Spooky But Civilization Comes Again

Marin County without Marinites would be a spooky kind of place.

It is, in fact.

I'm one who knows, being one of the few who have viewed our fair county totally bereft of human population, to all appearances.

There weren't even any Indians around, though an Indian prayer for rain was wailing eerily over the radio. (When our winter rains finally come, how shall we know whether to credit the prayers pagan or Christian?)

SUCH BRIGHT thoughts are easy to come by as one wheels through a deserted land, silent as craters of the moon, but a lot prettier.

As a matter of fact my wife and I saw Marin without humans at a time of day far from spooky—the early morning of a holiday, Thanksgiving Day to be specific. It is one of our weaknesses to travel, if we can, when others do not; but seldom if ever has this been accomplished more comple ely than in marvelous Marin.

The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker were all asleep Thanksgiving morning. So were the housewives, the public relations gentry, and, most fortunately, the trash collector who delights in blocking our horse-trail with his big truck.

WE SWEPT through Mill Valley's business section without seeing a soul. Up into the hills we scampered. One yawning dog was the only living creature we passed.

There were no commuters, no yard cleaners; nobody. No hikers were hiking, no wisps of smoke from chimneys. We were as much alone as though far out at sea.

The same was true as Blue Buster scampered up the coastal highway. No fishermen were fishing, no gasoline purveyors attended their pumps. We congratulated ourselves that Buster's tank had been duly filled the night before.

But gradually another thought came through natural causes. We pondered: If every day were a holiday, and if every day were observed the way we like to observe it, even in bounteous Marin, we might get our respective weights down. Our own fuel tanks were getting empty.

ON A MARIN holiday, we realized, one can pass through a lot of lovely scenery without finding that sometimes loveliest of all sights, a good restaurant with its front door open.

In the course of a mostly misspent life I've missed few meals, but this was a time I did so. Marin just didn't have a meal for sale Thanksgiving morning.

Neither did Sonoma. We didn't eat before Mendocino County, and no doubt 'twas all for the best. When we got our food, it was good.

Throughout an enchanted morning we had no company but ourselves, and our perky little car with a personality all its own. Had we stayed home we'd have been happy, just as the homestayers about us were no doubt happy. But once in a while it is nice indeed to get out and have brief recollection of a world without population pressures a-building.

BUT THE END of that holiday was clearly marked. Afternoon had come and gotten pretty well along; no longer were we alone. People were evident all about, including the highway. They seemed nice.

As we went drifting down a long sweeping inland mountain grade we drew close to an out-of-state car which was wandering from side to side; ill-kept, lurching on loose springs, poorly driven. Suddenly a beer can flew out to roll along the road.

Civilization was with us again.

Governor's 'Thinking' People Advocate Socialistic Proposals

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — In a recent press conference, Gov. Edmund G. Brown said that "thinking" people had suggested to him the possibility of the state of California acquiring a huge tract of land for a state college site, and building its own city around the college proper.

This suggestion came in connection with the site under observation for the University of California branch in Orange County.

THE UNIVERSITY has been offered a tract of land, the governor said, for its buildings, and the proposal of the offering company, which owns all the lands in the surrounding area, indicates that the concern would cause a city to be constructed surrounding the college.

This the governor pointed out, could be classed as 'unjust enrichment' for the donating land company. He said that if the state acquired the entire area, it conceivably could, through leases, realize enough eventually off the land to pay the entire cost of constructing the university branch.

GOVERNOR BROWN hastened to add that he is not advocating this procedure, but said that 'thinking' people have suggested is as a method of preventing 'unjust enrichment.'

Who the 'thinking' people are, the governor neglected to mention. But it is not out of line to believe that whoever they are, they are reasonably thoroughly steeped in the theories of Karl Marx and other socialists.

And the 'thinking' of these 'thinking' individuals belies the tenets of government under which the state Constitution, and the federal Constitution as well, were adopted.

This so-called 'thinking' apparently would obviate the right of an individual, or an individual firm, to acquire wealth on a long or short term basis, by seizing the wealth the individual has built up through foresight and tenacious holding of once worthless land, and turning it over to the government.

THE GOVERNMENT then in turn would lease it out to private individuals and derive the profits.

The land would be off the tax rolls of the county, the improvements would be nontaxable for local purposes because they belonged to the state, and the rest of the people in the county would have to through probable increased taxes, provide services for the city created by government.

Thus, far from equalizing the holding of property, such a move would in effect only put more of a burden on private property owners.

IT IS NOT anticipated that a suggestion of this nature will get very far in this day and age.

But it is an indication of the signs of the times when a governor of a great state like California starts lending credence to views expressed by 'thinkers' along these socialistic lines.

GOOSENECK HANDLES BRING WARNING

A new fad of putting extension goosenecks on bicycles to bring handlebars up high can be very dangerous, warns the California Highway Patrol. At Davidson School in San Rafael, Gary Toponce (left) shows a bike with high bars, while Dennis Giambastiani has one with bars in normal position. The patrol points out that with the bars turned forward, the points are on a dangerous level with a child's face and could seriously injure him in an accident. Control of the bicycle also is not so good with the raised handlebars. (Independent-Journal photo)

Supervisors Authorize Another Planner Post

One additional permanent staff member with the rank of "planner" was added to the staff of the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday on authorization of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The action followed a Mill Valley request for $8,000 worth of planning help, to be paid for by the city, and statement by Mrs. Mary Summers, planning director, that she can't hire more skilled personnel on a temporary basis.

CHANGE SETUP

Finally the supervisors not only authorized acquisition of a new man, with whom Mrs. Summers has been negotiating, but they changed the whole staff setup to comprise one senior planner and four with the rank of planner. The staff has been composed of one senior, two planners and one junior planner.

Mill Valley last week communicated that it had appropriated $8,000 for planning marshland area, in addition to about $1,800 to be paid to the county this fiscal year for routine planning work. On the basis of this Mrs. Summers revealed to the supervisors that she was angling for a staff addition which she said must be on a permanent basis or nobody could be obtained.

This provoked a flurry in the course of which Supervisor Vera Schultz enunciated policy finally backed by all her colleagues.

CONTRACT PLANNING

"It makes sense," she said, "to contract planning for some of our smaller cities which can not recruit adequate planning staffs. They pay for what they get — they're not taking something for nothing.

"I have even thought we should contract engineering services. We need to expand our planning staff."

Supervisor James Marshall concurred and said that "planning is lagging," to which Supervisor William Gnoss of Novato added:

"Here I've been telling my people a year ago that there would be a master plan and we don't have it . . . I'm 100 per cent for getting started with things the people have been waiting for."

Supervisor William Fusselman had already clarified that certain questions raised were largely procedural, not against Mrs. Schultz's basic statement, and chairman Walter Castro put in a word supporting the idea of help with engineering "which could be done by the county easier than by hiring help from outside."

But on the question of adding to the planning staff, Donald A. Jensen, county administrator, said he differed with Mrs. Summers in that he thought additions should be temporary rather than permanent.

"As to an additional staff member," Mrs. Summers said, I have offered a provisional appointment, all you can offer under the merit system. But if someone comes in it can't be just for a six months appointment. I myself have a permanent position as long as I do a good job. I must offer the same to others — they will not come if only for six months."

Mrs. Schultz then moved to create a position of planner on a permanent full time basis and the measure passed unanimously. Supervisor Fusselman then put through a series of motions readjusting the entire staff.

Planners To Eye Projects For Tiburon

Two adjustments for proposed constructions in downtown Tiburon by Fred G. Zelinsky will be up for public hearing before the Marin County Planning Commission at 10 a. m. Monday.

One project would allow development of a restaurant, boat sales and boat launching site without the required on-site parking and without master and development plans, at a location on the south side of Main street 150 feet west of Tiburon boulevard. Parking is proposed northwest of the theater building.

Zelinsky also wishes to construct a two- or three-story building for commercial shops and other uses between Main street and Juanita lane west of the coffee shop.

Another Tiburon matter will be up at 2 p. m., hearing on application of John Musso for an adjustment to permit construction of an addition to a bakery on an irregular piece of land at the southwest corner of Tiburon boulevard and Main street.

Public hearing on a tentative map of Mariner Oaks, a 10-acre subdivision on the Tiburon Peninsula bounded by Mar West street, the Southern Marin Recreation Center and Red Hill, is also on the agenda. This area is to be divided into 19 lots, with sewage disposal by the Tiburon Sanitary District.

County Purchase Of Lots Approved

Approval was given by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday to a proposal for purchase of two lots — priced at $13,800 and $14,000 respectively — near the entrance of the projected civic center in Santa Venetia.

A letter from Leland H. Jordan, county counsel, said that the board had previously authorized condemnation proceedings for acquisition of four properties in this area and that action has been taken on two.

Concerning the other two, Leon de Lisle, county auditor, has negotiated options for purchase "at prices which are within the range of the appraisals obtained by the county," Jordan said. The board said yes.

NEW LOOK FOR HIZZONER

This august-looking group of judges began presiding in Marin Superior and Municipal Courts today. The faces are familiar but the robes, required by a new state law, are brand new. Some of them required a fast alteration job last night for use this morning. One robe, meant for Judge Thomas F. Keating of superior court (at extreme right) was so over-sized the judge had to send it back for major alterations. The others (from left) are Judge Harold J. Haley of municipal court; Judge N. Youth Wrecks Truck, Frightens Sleepers

A 21-year-old riding stable employee wrecked a truck in Lagunitas, then walked into a nearby home about 5:45 a.m. today, "nearly scaring the wits" out of two sleeping women and their eight children.

Mrs. Glen E. Twitchell of Mountain View road said she was fast asleep but her sister, Mrs. Rosemary H. Magnus, heard someone enter the home and use the telephone. The man then went upstairs to the bedroom and asked, "Is anyone awake?"

"All I could see was this man standing at the door," Mrs. Twitchell said. "It nearly scared the wits out of me." But they soon learned he was dazed from head wounds and was only looking for help.

Twitchell, an engineer, is away on a job, and there was no man in the house at the time.

Sheriff's deputies identified the man as Gillard Clayton Chipps, 21, from North Dakota.

At first Chipps told Sgt. Sidney Weber and Deputies Charles Rester and George Tsegeletos that he had been hit on the head, driven to Lagunitas and dumped into a ditch. He later said he must have been injured while driving a pickup truck from the stables. The pickup had hit a tree and smashed into a guard rail on a bridge near Spring avenue in Lagunitas.

Injured Fireman Is Doing Well

San Rafael fireman George J. Canessa, 62, who yesterday suffered cuts about the head, body and limbs when struck by a car at Fifth avenue and C street, San Rafael, was reported in good condition at San Rafael General Hospital.

Driver of the car, Mrs. Mabel F. Wurtsbaugh, 80, of 201 Locust street, San Rafael, was cited by police for failing to yield the right of way.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed lower today as profit taking pushed prices down from their earlier irregular pattern.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,600,000 shares compared with 3,990,000 yesterday, which was the highest since Oct. 27.

Narrow price ranges and quick changes from plus to minus were the order of the day as the market alternated between slightly higher and slightly lower. The trading pace tapered off a bit after a fast start.

Steels veered back toward a slight gain after President Eisenhower warned the government would not sit idly by if industry and union teams failed to reach an agreement.

U.S. Fleet Was Ready For Berlin Deadline

NEW YORK (UPI)—A vast U.S. Navy task force armed with atomic weapons was assigned to positions of readiness during the tense Berlin deadline crisis last May, a high Navy officer revealed today.

Vice Adm. William R. Smedberg, commander of the U. S. 2nd Fleet, told the American Ordnance Assn. that the fleet was ordered to rendezvous at sea last May 18 although all ships had been scheduled to remain in their home ports the last two weeks of May.

It was on May 18 that the Geneva foreign ministers conference deadlocked over plans for resolving German and European security problems. The deadline on a six-month Soviet ultimatum for the dissolution of the Allied occupation regime in Berlin was May 27, but the date passed without incident.

Smedburg said that on May 18, 2nd Fleet carriers, guided missile cruisers, destroyers, radar picket ships, submarines, fast fleet tankers, ammunition ships and anti-submarine warfare hunter-killer group "slipped quietly" out of ports from Boston to San Juan, Puerto Rico.

"They met without signal at a previously designated rendezvous at sea, assumed one of our new dispersed positions, and disappeared," he said. "In 24 hours we could be 500 miles from the point; in a week, more than 3,500 miles from there—ready to launch strikes, with atomic or conventional weapons, as ordered and as required.

"All planes were on an alert; no pilot more than a few hundred feet from his airplane, day and night; our fighter plane protection overhead; anti-submarine planes and destroyers with us; and no possibility of any missile being zeroed in on us.

"On Memorial Day, May 30, my ships returned to their home ports; the once significant Berlin deadline date of May 27 having faded into history."

Savings-Loan Board Mum On Rate Hike

Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. directors, meeting yesterday, discussed increasing interest rates for depositors, but withheld announcement of any decision today.

"We can't say anything about it ahead of everybody else," explained Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president.

San Francisco savings and loan companies are to raise interest rates on Jan. 1 from the present 4 per cent to 4½ per cent.

Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. was the first such company in Marin to have a directors' meeting since announcement of the pending San Francisco increase.

Ross Valley Savings and Loan directors meet next Tuesday, as does the Sausalito Savings and Loan Assn board. Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. meets Dec. 21.

Horsemen Plan Meeting Friday

Southern Marin Houseman's Assn. will meet at 8 p.m. Friday at the Old Mill School in Mill Valley announced president Moe Brewster.

The organization is new and is still accepting applications for membership. Information is available on new memberships from Mrs. L. A. Lowenthal, Mill Valley.

When Baby Cries You Can Be Sure That Something's Wrong

We all are bad sometimes, except our tiny babies. They can do no wrong. Did you know that?

Let's look at Johnny and Mary.

It was 3 a.m. Johnny was 4 weeks old. He was awake and yelling. He'd been at it two hours.

His mama tried to give him food, but Johnny wasn't hungry. She offered water and found he wasn't thirsty. She changed him, checked the room temperature and fixed his bed clothes. She tried everything she knew. Johnny still cried. She was tired and felt she would sell her soul for one good night's sleep. Irritated, she spanked him. She wanted to show the baby who was boss.

The result? Louder wails and real terror—a worse situation than ever. Later the doctor found a mild digestive disorder. Johnny had a tummy-ache. He wasn't being bad.

Mary was 3 months old. Her appetite changed a lot. Sometimes she swallowed huge quantities of her formula. Sometimes she hardly took any. Her father decided she should be taught regularity. He concluded Mary was being bad on purpose. There after when she ate less than he though she should, he pinched her arm or her hip. Sometimes he snapped her tiny feet with his finger. Mary opened her mouth to cry. He rammed the nipple farther down her throat. She swallowed a little more and then burped the excess up. At that point her father usually had a tantrum.

Poor Mary! She wasn't being bad. She just knew when her stomach was full.

Do you have a tiny baby? Please remember that babies don't make mistakes. They respond immediately and naturally to conditions which affect them.

When things go wrong, be careful. Find the cause. Your baby is not being naughty. He has a good reason, you can bank on that.

(Q)—"We have a new baby. He seems very bright. How soon can his intelligence be tested?" — V.R.M.

(A) Individual intelligence tests are reliable enough to be useful down to the age of 3 or 3½. Wait until your baby has passed his third birthday. Then have a psychologist test him.

13 Men Buried By Avalanche

TURIN, Italy (AP)—A huge avalanche of snow roared down a mountainside 40 miles north of Turin before dawn today, and 13 construction workers were feared dead.

The great snow mass buried a barracks in which 35 men were sleeping. Twenty-two men dug their way out.

Workers from neighboring barracks dug frantically with all available tools and nearly eight hours later recovered three bodies. The other 10 men also were feared dead.

Water District Extends Pact On Tract Unit

An extension agreement with Unit 4 of Marin Golf and Country Club Estates was reached last night by the North Marin Water District board, announced Jerome P. Gilbert, district manager and chief engineer.

Water supply to the entire subdivision will involve construction of a 600,000-gallon reservoir and pumping station and approximately 15,000 feet of line, Gilbert said, with cost estimated at $257,000.

The agreement is now awaiting approval of Paul Trousdale, developer of the subdivision.

Also discussed by the board was the proposed water supply from the Russian River. No agreement can be reached, Gilbert said, until further information is forthcoming from the City of Santa Rosa regarding participation in the project. Water to North Marin would come through lines which also supplied Santa Rosa with water.

Beginning Jan. 18, North Marin water consumers will be billed by electronic machines, it was decided by the board last night. Processing the bills will be IBM equipment of the Service Bureau Corp. Initial cost of installation will be approximately $2,000 Gilbert said, but use of the machines would result in better service with lower over-all cost.

A decision on district insurance is expected to be reached at a special meeting of the board tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the district office at 834 Vallejo avenue, Novato.

State School Trustees In S.F. Session

School trustees from Marin County and all over the state are convening in San Francisco today for the 29th annual convention of the California School Boards Assn.

Tomorrow the trustees will meet in joint session with the California Assn. of School Administrators to discuss the instructional program, the priority of purposes and objectives of public education, and the relationship between school and districts and county government. The convention concludes on Saturday.

Four Marinites are among those having a key part in the convention.

William Winter of Belvedere, radio and television news commentator, will give one of the principal addresses to a convention luncheon Friday.

Three Marin trustees, Erwin Farley of Belvedere, president of the Marin County School Boards Assn., Mrs. Minnie Sievers of Sausalito and Robert Corlett of San Anselmo, have been involved in committee work planning the convention.

Board Sidesteps Huge Meeting On Hospital Policy

Confronted with a sizable meeting to discuss Marin County emergency hospital policy, the board of supervisors executed a sidestep yesterday.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, wrote that he and Mrs. Marion C. Ibach, secretary of the Marin County Hospital District board, had agreed on a 17-category list of individuals and groups to attend the meeting.

After tentatively suggesting still more who might attend, the supervisors found merit in a motion by Supervisor William D. Fusselman that somebody else, not them, attend to the whole thing and report back to the board. The "yes" vote was unanimous.

Corte Madera Board Balks Again At Ross Sewage Rate

For the third straight month the Corte Madera Santitary District board last night balked at paying an increased rate for treatment of sewage at the Greenbrae plant of Ross Valley Sanitary District.

Since September the Ross Valley district has been charging the 10-year-old contractual rate of $26.10 per million for the first six million gallons treated and $200 per million for the rest.

No bill was received by the Corte Madera board last night, but directors had a record of the amount of sewage delivered in November (some 13 million gallons) and authorized full payment at the $26.10 rate.

Harry Black Jr., board president, said Corte Madera directors hope to have a second meeting with the Ross Valley board in an effort to end their dispute over a new contract. But, he said, if nothing can be accomplished at the joint board level, he would prefer to have negotiations continued by committees from the two boards.

Directors took no action on plans for a sewer line to be built in conjunction with the Tamal Vista boulevard extension to Fifer Industrial Park.

The Corte Madera Town Council last month approved engineering plans for the road, subject to a condition that no base or pavement be placed until sewer plans are approved in writing by the sanitary board.

Black said Brown and Caldwell, the district's consulting engineers, are studying the plans. If the firm has a report ready before the board's next regular meeting, a special session may be called, he said.

TRAFFIC BOTTLENECK

Sausalito May Restrict Second Street Parking

The Sausalito City Council will consider next month passage of an ordinance to prohibit parking on the west side of Second street between Richardson and South streets.

City Mgr. Donald A. Duerr told the council last night there should be no parking on the street because there is insufficient room for passage. He said persons now park cars on both sides of the street on the sidewalks.

If the ordinance is passed in January it would not go into effect until February. Councilmen proposed it be adopted for a six months trial period.

Mayor Howard Sievers appointed Councilman John Koenig Jr. and Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. to study the possibility of widening or redeveloping the seaside of Bridgeway boulevard from North to Richardson, where another traffic bottleneck exists.

The council also:

1. Awarded Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael at $3,135 contract to construct sidewalks on Bridgeway, Humboldt avenue and Bay street.

2. Heard Duerr say the financial condition of the city is sound with revenues for the first eight months of the year totaling $76,500, some $18,000 more than during the same period last year.

3. Extended the time for connecting the Byron Edwards barges to a sewer until Jan. 11. Originally the council set a deadline for this Thursday, but granted the extension after the Edwards' contractor, Alexis Tellis, reported "good progress." There are 13 apartments in the barges.

4. Heard a report from representatives of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District that Sausalito would be served from a station near the American Distilling Co., and that the line, after going under the Golden Gate Bridge would pass through a tunnel under the city.

5. Approved a $700 purchase of a hose drying rack for the fire department.

6. Reappointed to four-year planning commission terms Ruth Sisson and Gilbert Murphy. The council also learned planning Chairman Victor E. Hecht is willing to serve for a few more months.

7. Called for bids for development of public parking between Bridgeway and Humboldt.

8. Referred to the city engineer, city manager and city attorney a plan by Rob C. Rose, president of Sausalito Parkway Associates, Inc., to provide an easement for a sewer line to serve the Trade Fair store on the ferryboat Berkeley, the Sausalito Yacht Club and Rose's proposed new development and restaurant at the rear of the Sausalito Hotel.

New Drug Hailed As Cholesterol Curbing Weapon

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A new drug which inhibits the liver's production of a fatty substance believed to be a major factor in heart attacks and strokes was reported at the American Medical Assn.'s convention yesterday.

Three doctors from Philadelphia's Hannemann Medical College reported use of the drug significantly lowered blood cholesterol levels in 88 of 100 patients. The doctors are Wilbur W. Oaks. Philip Lisan and John H. Moyer.

Dr. Lisan told reporters the new drug, triparanol, will go on the market in 1960.

The drug discourages the liver from making cholesterol out of a chemical substance called squalene. One capsule of the drug a day suffices to lower blood cholesterol, Dr. Lisan said.

San Rafael Man Fined By Judge

Donald Huffman, 33, of 1314 Lincoln avenue, San Rafael, must pay a $50 fine for being drunk and resisting arrest outside a Novato tavern Nov. 23.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Huffman yesterday. Huffman was one of three jailed after a fight in which two construction men were beaten unconscious.

Charges are still pending against two men who were with Huffman that night. They are Dewey Arnell Rich, 24, and Ronald Eugene Smith, 35, both of San Rafael. Rich is accused of battery and Smith of drunkenness and resisting arrest.

Firemen Ask Per Call Pay In Larkspur

A request by Larkspur's volunteer firemen for pay of $2 per fire call will be considered by the Larkspur City Council at a meeting at 8 tonight in the city hall.

The council will hold a public hearing on proposed assessment revisions affecting two lots in the Upper Ardmore Road Assessment District.

It will also continue a discussion of whether Emre DeCota is legally entitled to use his ark, the Green Pastures, on Boardwalk No. 1, as a three-family dwelling.

Chevy Chase court, a new street off Wiltshire avenue, will be proposed for acceptance into the city street system. Requests for front yard setback variances of from 13 to 20 feet in the nine-lot Chevy Chase Court subdivision also will be considered.

The council will study several proposed minor changes in the city's business license ordinance.

Tiburon Town Hall Meet Limited To Recall Topic

Discussion at tonight's "Town Hall on Recall" meeting at 8 o'clock in the Reed School auditorium will be limited to the recall of the Tiburon fire commission Fred Mantegani.

Anne Ellingwood, chairman of the special meeting, said other subjects will not be permitted.

Supporters of Mantegani organized the meeting to "openly and frankly air" the recall election issue.

County Supervisor Mrs. Vera L. Schultz, Mantegani and Jon F. Stanton, chairman of the fice commission will speak. Moderator will be Julius Selinger, chairman of the Marin County Personnel Commission.

Mantegani was appointed to the fire commission by the county supervisors to succeed Howard I. McGill, who had resigned. The other commissioners, objecting to the manner of the appointment, filed a petition for a recall election

Redwood Trees Go Up In Flames

BIG BASIN (UPI)—More than 200 firefighters batiled today to control a blaze that has already burned some 200 acres of second growth redwoods in rugged mountain terrain near here.

The fire broke out yesterday morning. The ravines and hills made it impossible for fire trucks to bring in water.

Firefighters were attempting to circle the blaze with bulldozed fire trails. The fire was expected to be brought under control late this afternoon.

GOOSENECK HANDLES BRING WARNING

A new fad of putting extension goosenecks on bicycles to bring handlebars up high can be very dangerous, warns the California Highway Patrol. At Davidson School in San Rafael, Gary Toponce (left) shows a bike with high bars, while Dennis Giambastiani has one with bars in normal position. The patrol points out that with the bars turned forward, the points are on a dangerous level with a child's face and could seriously injure him in an accident. Control of the bicycle also is not so good with the raised handlebars. (Independent-Journal photo)

Supervisors Authorize Another Planner Post

One additional permanent staff member with the rank of "planner" was added to the staff of the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday on authorization of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The action followed a Mill Valley request for $8,000 worth of planning help, to be paid for by the city, and statement by Mrs. Mary Summers, planning director, that she can't hire more skilled personnel on a temporary basis.

CHANGE SETUP

Finally the supervisors not only authorized acquisition of a new man, with whom Mrs. Summers has been negotiating, but they changed the whole staff setup to comprise one senior planner and four with the rank of planner. The staff has been composed of one senior, two planners and one junior planner.

Mill Valley last week communicated that it had appropriated $8,000 for planning marshland area, in addition to about $1,800 to be paid to the county this fiscal year for routine planning work. On the basis of this Mrs. Summers revealed to the supervisors that she was angling for a staff addition which she said must be on a permanent basis or nobody could be obtained.

This provoked a flurry in the course of which Supervisor Vera Schultz enunciated policy finally backed by all her colleagues.

CONTRACT PLANNING

"It makes sense," she said, "to contract planning for some of our smaller cities which can not recruit adequate planning staffs. They pay for what they get — they're not taking something for nothing.

"I have even thought we should contract engineering services. We need to expand our planning staff."

Supervisor James Marshall concurred and said that "planning is lagging," to which Supervisor William Gnoss of Novato added:

"Here I've been telling my people a year ago that there would be a master plan and we don't have it . . . I'm 100 per cent for getting started with things the people have been waiting for."

Supervisor William Fusselman had already clarified that certain questions raised were largely procedural, not against Mrs. Schultz's basic statement, and chairman Walter Castro put in a word supporting the idea of help with engineering "which could be done by the county easier than by hiring help from outside."

But on the question of adding to the planning staff, Donald A. Jensen, county administrator, said he differed with Mrs. Summers in that he thought additions should be temporary rather than permanent.

"As to an additional staff member," Mrs. Summers said, I have offered a provisional appointment, all you can offer under the merit system. But if someone comes in it can't be just for a six months appointment. I myself have a permanent position as long as I do a good job. I must offer the same to others — they will not come if only for six months."

Mrs. Schultz then moved to create a position of planner on a permanent full time basis and the measure passed unanimously. Supervisor Fusselman then put through a series of motions readjusting the entire staff.

Planners To Eye Projects For Tiburon

Two adjustments for proposed constructions in downtown Tiburon by Fred G. Zelinsky will be up for public hearing before the Marin County Planning Commission at 10 a. m. Monday.

One project would allow development of a restaurant, boat sales and boat launching site without the required on-site parking and without master and development plans, at a location on the south side of Main street 150 feet west of Tiburon boulevard. Parking is proposed northwest of the theater building.

Zelinsky also wishes to construct a two- or three-story building for commercial shops and other uses between Main street and Juanita lane west of the coffee shop.

Another Tiburon matter will be up at 2 p. m., hearing on application of John Musso for an adjustment to permit construction of an addition to a bakery on an irregular piece of land at the southwest corner of Tiburon boulevard and Main street.

Public hearing on a tentative map of Mariner Oaks, a 10-acre subdivision on the Tiburon Peninsula bounded by Mar West street, the Southern Marin Recreation Center and Red Hill, is also on the agenda. This area is to be divided into 19 lots, with sewage disposal by the Tiburon Sanitary District.

County Purchase Of Lots Approved

Approval was given by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday to a proposal for purchase of two lots — priced at $13,800 and $14,000 respectively — near the entrance of the projected civic center in Santa Venetia.

A letter from Leland H. Jordan, county counsel, said that the board had previously authorized condemnation proceedings for acquisition of four properties in this area and that action has been taken on two.

Concerning the other two, Leon de Lisle, county auditor, has negotiated options for purchase "at prices which are within the range of the appraisals obtained by the county," Jordan said. The board said yes.

NEW LOOK FOR HIZZONER

This august-looking group of judges began presiding in Marin Superior and Municipal Courts today. The faces are familiar but the robes, required by a new state law, are brand new. Some of them required a fast alteration job last night for use this morning. One robe, meant for Judge Thomas F. Keating of superior court (at extreme right) was so over-sized the judge had to send it back for major alterations. The others (from left) are Judge Harold J. Haley of municipal court; Judge N. Charles Brusatori and Jordan L. Martinelli of superior court, and Judges Richard M. Sims and Leonard A. Thomas of municipal court. (Independent-Journal photo)

Youth Wrecks Truck, Frightens Sleepers

A 21-year-old riding stable employee wrecked a truck in Lagunitas, then walked into a nearby home about 5:45 a.m. today, "nearly scaring the wits" out of two sleeping women and their eight children.

Mrs. Glen E. Twitchell of Mountain View road said she was fast asleep but her sister, Mrs. Rosemary H. Magnus, heard someone enter the home and use the telephone. The man then went upstairs to the bedroom and asked, "Is anyone awake?"

"All I could see was this man standing at the door," Mrs. Twitchell said. "It nearly scared the wits out of me." But they soon learned he was dazed from head wounds and was only looking for help.

Twitchell, an engineer, is away on a job, and there was no man in the house at the time.

Sheriff's deputies identified the man as Gillard Clayton Chipps, 21, from North Dakota.

At first Chipps told Sgt. Sidney Weber and Deputies Charles Rester and George Tsegeletos that he had been hit on the head, driven to Lagunitas and dumped into a ditch. He later said he must have been injured while driving a pickup truck from the stables. The pickup had hit a tree and smashed into a guard rail on a bridge near Spring avenue in Lagunitas.

Injured Fireman Is Doing Well

San Rafael fireman George J. Canessa, 62, who yesterday suffered cuts about the head, body and limbs when struck by a car at Fifth avenue and C street, San Rafael, was reported in good condition at San Rafael General Hospital.

Driver of the car, Mrs. Mabel F. Wurtsbaugh, 80, of 201 Locust street, San Rafael, was cited by police for failing to yield the right of way.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed lower today as profit taking pushed prices down from their earlier irregular pattern.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,600,000 shares compared with 3,990,000 yesterday, which was the highest since Oct. 27.

Narrow price ranges and quick changes from plus to minus were the order of the day as the market alternated between slightly higher and slightly lower. The trading pace tapered off a bit after a fast start.

Steels veered back toward a slight gain after President Eisenhower warned the government would not sit idly by if industry and union teams failed to reach an agreement.

U.S. Fleet Was Ready For Berlin Deadline

NEW YORK (UPI)—A vast U.S. Navy task force armed with atomic weapons was assigned to positions of readiness during the tense Berlin deadline crisis last May, a high Navy officer revealed today.

Vice Adm. William R. Smedberg, commander of the U. S. 2nd Fleet, told the American Ordnance Assn. that the fleet was ordered to rendezvous at sea last May 18 although all ships had been scheduled to remain in their home ports the last two weeks of May.

It was on May 18 that the Geneva foreign ministers conference deadlocked over plans for resolving German and European security problems. The deadline on a six-month Soviet ultimatum for the dissolution of the Allied occupation regime in Berlin was May 27, but the date passed without incident.

Smedburg said that on May 18, 2nd Fleet carriers, guided missile cruisers, destroyers, radar picket ships, submarines, fast fleet tankers, ammunition ships and anti-submarine warfare hunter-killer group "slipped quietly" out of ports from Boston to San Juan, Puerto Rico.

"They met without signal at a previously designated rendezvous at sea, assumed one of our new dispersed positions, and disappeared," he said. "In 24 hours we could be 500 miles from the point; in a week, more than 3,500 miles from there—ready to launch strikes, with atomic or conventional weapons, as ordered and as required.

"All planes were on an alert; no pilot more than a few hundred feet from his airplane, day and night; our fighter plane protection overhead; anti-submarine planes and destroyers with us; and no possibility of any missile being zeroed in on us.

"On Memorial Day, May 30, my ships returned to their home ports; the once significant Berlin deadline date of May 27 having faded into history."

Savings-Loan Board Mum On Rate Hike

Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. directors, meeting yesterday, discussed increasing interest rates for depositors, but withheld announcement of any decision today.

"We can't say anything about it ahead of everybody else," explained Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president.

San Francisco savings and loan companies are to raise interest rates on Jan. 1 from the present 4 per cent to 4½ per cent.

Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. was the first such company in Marin to have a directors' meeting since announcement of the pending San Francisco increase.

Ross Valley Savings and Loan directors meet next Tuesday, as does the Sausalito Savings and Loan Assn board. Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. meets Dec. 21.

Horsemen Plan Meeting Friday

Southern Marin Houseman's Assn. will meet at 8 p.m. Friday at the Old Mill School in Mill Valley announced president Moe Brewster.

The organization is new and is still accepting applications for membership. Information is available on new memberships from Mrs. L. A. Lowenthal, Mill Valley.

When Baby Cries You Can Be Sure That Something's Wrong

We all are bad sometimes, except our tiny babies. They can do no wrong. Did you know that?

Let's look at Johnny and Mary.

It was 3 a.m. Johnny was 4 weeks old. He was awake and yelling. He'd been at it two hours.

His mama tried to give him food, but Johnny wasn't hungry. She offered water and found he wasn't thirsty. She changed him, checked the room temperature and fixed his bed clothes. She tried everything she knew. Johnny still cried. She was tired and felt she would sell her soul for one good night's sleep. Irritated, she spanked him. She wanted to show the baby who was boss.

The result? Louder wails and real terror—a worse situation than ever. Later the doctor found a mild digestive disorder. Johnny had a tummy-ache. He wasn't being bad.

Mary was 3 months old. Her appetite changed a lot. Sometimes she swallowed huge quantities of her formula. Sometimes she hardly took any. Her father decided she should be taught regularity. He concluded Mary was being bad on purpose. There after when she ate less than he though she should, he pinched her arm or her hip. Sometimes he snapped her tiny feet with his finger. Mary opened her mouth to cry. He rammed the nipple farther down her throat. She swallowed a little more and then burped the excess up. At that point her father usually had a tantrum.

Poor Mary! She wasn't being bad. She just knew when her stomach was full.

Do you have a tiny baby? Please remember that babies don't make mistakes. They respond immediately and naturally to conditions which affect them.

When things go wrong, be careful. Find the cause. Your baby is not being naughty. He has a good reason, you can bank on that.

READERS' FORUM

(Q)—"We have a new baby. He seems very bright. How soon can his intelligence be tested?" — V.R.M.

(A) Individual intelligence tests are reliable enough to be useful down to the age of 3 or 3½. Wait until your baby has passed his third birthday. Then have a psychologist test him.

13 Men Buried By Avalanche

TURIN, Italy (AP)—A huge avalanche of snow roared down a mountainside 40 miles north of Turin before dawn today, and 13 construction workers were feared dead.

The great snow mass buried a barracks in which 35 men were sleeping. Twenty-two men dug their way out.

Workers from neighboring barracks dug frantically with all available tools and nearly eight hours later recovered three bodies. The other 10 men also were feared dead.

Water District Extends Pact On Tract Unit

An extension agreement with Unit 4 of Marin Golf and Country Club Estates was reached last night by the North Marin Water District board, announced Jerome P. Gilbert, district manager and chief engineer.

Water supply to the entire subdivision will involve construction of a 600,000-gallon reservoir and pumping station and approximately 15,000 feet of line, Gilbert said, with cost estimated at $257,000.

The agreement is now awaiting approval of Paul Trousdale, developer of the subdivision.

Also discussed by the board was the proposed water supply from the Russian River. No agreement can be reached, Gilbert said, until further information is forthcoming from the City of Santa Rosa regarding participation in the project. Water to North Marin would come through lines which also supplied Santa Rosa with water.

Beginning Jan. 18, North Marin water consumers will be billed by electronic machines, it was decided by the board last night. Processing the bills will be IBM equipment of the Service Bureau Corp. Initial cost of installation will be approximately $2,000 Gilbert said, but use of the machines would result in better service with lower over-all cost.

A decision on district insurance is expected to be reached at a special meeting of the board tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the district office at 834 Vallejo avenue, Novato.

State School Trustees In S.F. Session

School trustees from Marin County and all over the state are convening in San Francisco today for the 29th annual convention of the California School Boards Assn.

Tomorrow the trustees will meet in joint session with the California Assn. of School Administrators to discuss the instructional program, the priority of purposes and objectives of public education, and the relationship between school and districts and county government. The convention concludes on Saturday.

Four Marinites are among those having a key part in the convention.

William Winter of Belvedere, radio and television news commentator, will give one of the principal addresses to a convention luncheon Friday.

Three Marin trustees, Erwin Farley of Belvedere, president of the Marin County School Boards Assn., Mrs. Minnie Sievers of Sausalito and Robert Corlett of San Anselmo, have been involved in committee work planning the convention.

Board Sidesteps Huge Meeting On Hospital Policy

Confronted with a sizable meeting to discuss Marin County emergency hospital policy, the board of supervisors executed a sidestep yesterday.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, wrote that he and Mrs. Marion C. Ibach, secretary of the Marin County Hospital District board, had agreed on a 17-category list of individuals and groups to attend the meeting.

After tentatively suggesting still more who might attend, the supervisors found merit in a motion by Supervisor William D. Fusselman that somebody else, not them, attend to the whole thing and report back to the board. The "yes" vote was unanimous.

Corte Madera Board Balks Again At Ross Sewage Rate

For the third straight month the Corte Madera Santitary District board last night balked at paying an increased rate for treatment of sewage at the Greenbrae plant of Ross Valley Sanitary District.

Since September the Ross Valley district has been charging the 10-year-old contractual rate of $26.10 per million for the first six million gallons treated and $200 per million for the rest.

No bill was received by the Corte Madera board last night, but directors had a record of the amount of sewage delivered in November (some 13 million gallons) and authorized full payment at the $26.10 rate.

Harry Black Jr., board president, said Corte Madera directors hope to have a second meeting with the Ross Valley board in an effort to end their dispute over a new contract. But, he said, if nothing can be accomplished at the joint board level, he would prefer to have negotiations continued by committees from the two boards.

Directors took no action on plans for a sewer line to be built in conjunction with the Tamal Vista boulevard extension to Fifer Industrial Park.

The Corte Madera Town Council last month approved engineering plans for the road, subject to a condition that no base or pavement be placed until sewer plans are approved in writing by the sanitary board.

Black said Brown and Caldwell, the district's consulting engineers, are studying the plans. If the firm has a report ready before the board's next regular meeting, a special session may be called, he said.

TRAFFIC BOTTLENECK

Sausalito May Restrict Second Street Parking

The Sausalito City Council will consider next month passage of an ordinance to prohibit parking on the west side of Second street between Richardson and South streets.

City Mgr. Donald A. Duerr told the council last night there should be no parking on the street because there is insufficient room for passage. He said persons now park cars on both sides of the street on the sidewalks.

If the ordinance is passed in January it would not go into effect until February. Councilmen proposed it be adopted for a six months trial period.

Mayor Howard Sievers appointed Councilman John Koenig Jr. and Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. to study the possibility of widening or redeveloping the seaside of Bridgeway boulevard from North to Richardson, where another traffic bottleneck exists.

The council also:

1. Awarded Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael at $3,135 contract to construct sidewalks on Bridgeway, Humboldt avenue and Bay street.

2. Heard Duerr say the financial condition of the city is sound with revenues for the first eight months of the year totaling $76,500, some $18,000 more than during the same period last year.

3. Extended the time for connecting the Byron Edwards barges to a sewer until Jan. 11. Originally the council set a deadline for this Thursday, but granted the extension after the Edwards' contractor, Alexis Tellis, reported "good progress." There are 13 apartments in the barges.

4. Heard a report from representatives of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District that Sausalito would be served from a station near the American Distilling Co., and that the line, after going under the Golden Gate Bridge would pass through a tunnel under the city.

5. Approved a $700 purchase of a hose drying rack for the fire department.

6. Reappointed to four-year planning commission terms Ruth Sisson and Gilbert Murphy. The council also learned planning Chairman Victor E. Hecht is willing to serve for a few more months.

7. Called for bids for development of public parking between Bridgeway and Humboldt.

8. Referred to the city engineer, city manager and city attorney a plan by Rob C. Rose, president of Sausalito Parkway Associates, Inc., to provide an easement for a sewer line to serve the Trade Fair store on the ferryboat Berkeley, the Sausalito Yacht Club and Rose's proposed new development and restaurant at the rear of the Sausalito Hotel.

New Drug Hailed As Cholesterol Curbing Weapon

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A new drug which inhibits the liver's production of a fatty substance believed to be a major factor in heart attacks and strokes was reported at the American Medical Assn.'s convention yesterday.

Three doctors from Philadelphia's Hannemann Medical College reported use of the drug significantly lowered blood cholesterol levels in 88 of 100 patients. The doctors are Wilbur W. Oaks, Philip Lisan and John H. Moyer.

Dr. Lisan told reporters the new drug, triparanol, will go on the market in 1960.

The drug discourages the liver from making cholesterol out of a chemical substance called squalene. One capsule of the drug a day suffices to lower blood cholesterol, Dr. Lisan said.

San Rafael Man Fined By Judge

Donald Huffman, 33, of 1314 Lincoln avenue, San Rafael, must pay a $50 fine for being drunk and resisting arrest outside a Novato tavern Nov. 23.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Huffman yesterday. Huffman was one of three jailed after a fight in which two construction men were beaten unconscious.

Charges are still pending against two men who were with Huffman that night. They are Dewey Arnell Rich, 24, and Ronald Eugene Smith, 35, both of San Rafael. Rich is accused of battery and Smith of drunkenness and resisting arrest.

Firemen Ask Per Call Pay In Larkspur

A request by Larkspur's volunteer firemen for pay of $2 per fire call will be considered by the Larkspur City Council at a meeting at 8 tonight in the city hall.

The council will hold a public hearing on proposed assessment revisions affecting two lots in the Upper Ardmore Road Assessment District.

It will also continue a discussion of whether Emre DeCota is legally entitled to use his ark, the Green Pastures, on Boardwalk No. 1, as a three-family dwelling.

Chevy Chase court, a new street off Wiltshire avenue, will be proposed for acceptance into the city street system. Requests for front yard setback variances of from 13 to 20 feet in the nine-lot Chevy Chase Court subdivision also will be considered.

The council will study several proposed minor changes in the city's business license ordinance.

The blue whale, largest of the whale species, sometimes grows to more than 100 feet long and weighs up to 150 tons.

Tiburon Town Hall Meet Limited To Recall Topic

Discussion at tonight's "Town Hall on Recall" meeting at 8 o'clock in the Reed School auditorium will be limited to the recall of the Tiburon fire commission Fred Mantegani.

Anne Ellingwood, chairman of the special meeting, said other subjects will not be permitted.

Supporters of Mantegani organized the meeting to "openly and frankly air" the recall election issue.

County Supervisor Mrs. Vera L. Schultz, Mantegani and Jon F. Stanton, chairman of the fice commission will speak. Moderator will be Julius Selinger, chairman of the Marin County Personnel Commission.

Mantegani was appointed to the fire commission by the county supervisors to succeed Howard I. McGill, who had resigned. The other commissioners, objecting to the manner of the appointment, filed a petition for a recall election

Redwood Trees Go Up In Flames

BIG BASIN (UPI)—More than 200 firefighters battled today to control a blaze that has already burned some 200 acres of second growth redwoods in rugged mountain terrain near here.

The fire broke out yesterday morning. The ravines and hills made it impossible for fire trucks to bring in water.

Firefighters were attempting to circle the blaze with bulldozed fire trails. The fire was expected to be brought under control late this afternoon.

HERE'S HOW Champion Joe Brown and Challenger Dave Charnley stack up for tonight's 15-round, nationally-televised lightweight championship fight.

Brown 2½-1 Choice In Title Fight Tonight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Joe Brown, busiest champion of them all, puts his world lightweight title on the line for the eighth time tonight with Dave Charnley, the British Empire's pride, pretty sure he'll take it.

The aging Brown, who has gathered about $200,000 in three years of defending the dauble, hopes to tie Benny Leonard's record for warding off challengers. Leonard did it eight times and retired undefeated in 1925.

Charnley would like to become the first Britisher to hold the title since Freddie Welsh of 42 years ago, and also the first southpaw to be lightweight champion.

That southpaw business is a little painful to Brown. He almost lost his title to a lefthander — Kenney Lane — in this same Sam Houston Coliseum ring last year.

Charnley, who is built like a heavyweight from the waist up — his 16½ neck is as big as Jack Dempsey's, comes with the tag "the midget Marciano."

Brown, the little Baton Rouge, La., Negro, has had almost three times as many fights as the 24-year-old Charnley — who is 10 years Brown's junior. But Charnley has one distinction Joe can't claim — he never has been knocked off his feet in 40 battles.

Brown is favored 12-5 here and 13-5 in New York to retain his championship and become the oldest man to ever hold it. He is just three months younger than Joe Gans was in 1908 when the latter lost the title to Battling Nelson.

There's a 90-day return clause in the contract if Brown loses. If he wins there are offers of $75,000 and $100,000 for fights on the West Coast and Florida, Lou Viscusi, Brown's manager, said. Brown won the title Aug. 24, 1956, from Wallace "Bud" Smith.

In seven defenses since then he has five knockouts and two decisions.

The fight telecast will start at 7 p.m. Pacific Standard Time with Houston blacked out.

Police Warn Duck Hunters Near Corte Madera Area

Corte Madera Police Chief Frank L. Nelson warned duck hunters today that a 1916 ordinance makes it a misdemeanor to discharge firearms of any description within the town limits.

Nelson issued the warning after receiving a number of complaints about duck shooting in the marshlands adjacent to Mariners Cove and Marina Village east of Highway 101.

Cannon's selection in the balloting of 935 qualified electors was announced yesterday by the trophy committee. He will receive the trophy at a reception and dinner here Dec. 9. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the guest of honor, will make the presentation.

Marin Cagers Open Season With Victory

By JOHN LARKIN

College of Marin Tars began their winning ways where they left off last season as they trounced the Diablo Junior College Vikings 53-45 last night on the losers' court in the opening basketball game of the season for both teams.

The Tars were in command all the way as they led 25-23 at halftime and then increased their lead in the second half, allowing every man on the squad to see action.

Ken Anderson, the Tars' sharp-shooting forward, had a phenomenal night as he connected on 65 per cent of his field goal attempts and 67 per cent of his free throws for 20 points. Ray Nickleberry contributed 14 points while Gerry Reese tallied 8 markers.

The Tars as a team, hit 23 out of 56 from the floor for 41 per cent while their opponents had 13 out of 40 for 33 per cent. From the free throw line the Mariners didn't fare so well, however, as they could manage only 7 out of 18 compared to Diablo's 19 out of 27.

Marin Coach Cal Riemcke was very pleased with the actions of his players. "We played a pretty fair ball game although both teams had the first game jitters and made careless mistakes in the first half. But that is to be expected."

The Tars next entertain San Mateo Junior College on the home court Friday night.

COLLEGE CAGE OPENERS

Cox Stars, But Dons Barely Miss Upset

Stanford opened the 1959-60 basketball season last night with its 16th straight home victory, but had to go into overtime to overcome a surprising young University of San Francisco squad whose lineup included three Marin County standouts.

The Indians avoided an upset by breaking a 45-45 tie at the end of the regulation game and powering to a 55-49 triumph in the extra period.

Sparking USF's surprise showing was former Drake High star Ronnie Cox of San Anselmo, a 5-11 junior guard who bucketed 18 points. Other Marin players who saw action for the Dons were Fred Breuner, a transfer from College of Marin, who tallied five points, and ex-Drake star Bill Gallagher who scored three.

Stanford senior John Arrillaga led all scorers with 20.

In other northern California curtain-risers, St. Mary's trounced the Cal Aggies of Davis 60-38, Santa Clara blasted Chico State 74-54, San Jose State beat San Francisco State 54-41, California beat its alumni 64-68 and Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo whipped Westmont 88-68.

St. Mary's, defending champs of the West Coast Athletic Conference, breezed past the Cal Aggies. Tom Meschery, the Gaels' only returning starter, led the scoring with 23. Sophomores Al Claiborne, 6-9, and Phil Hart, 6-4, netted 10 and 13 points respectively in their varsity debuts.

Santa Clara led Chico by just 32-29 at halftime but Frank Sobrero and Joe Sheaff paced the Broncos to a big second half. They grabbed 32 rebounds between them and Sobrero finished with 23 points, Sheaff with 22. Wade Wall led Chico with 14.

IMHOFF SPARKLES

Big Darrall Imhoff's rebounding helped Cal's defending national champs pull away from the alumni but the old grads held the varsity to 31-30 at halftime.

Height and condition was the difference in the second half when the Bears spurted for 15 straight points to wrap up the game. Imhoff, a star of the NCAA tourney a year ago, led Cal with 13. Duane Asplund of the alumni also potted 13.

ONE-ARMED KEGLER

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Larry Martin, a full-blooded Chippewa Indian, has no left arm and only two fingers on his right hand yet averages 168 in bowling. He took up the sport in 1948 while teaching at a North Dakota Indian school.

NO SNOW AT SQUAW VALLEY SO INJUNS TRY

RENO (AP)—Modern science has failed to bring snow to the Squaw Valley, Calif. Winter Olympics site, so they're going to try something a bit more old fashioned.

Piute Indians from nearby Pyramid Lake will perform a dance for their snow god at the 1960 Winter Games location tomorrow. Ten dancers, a drummer and a narrator will take part.

Earlier plans to encourage snowfall by seeding clouds over the Sierra haven't gone very well. There haven't been any clouds.

An Olympics Organizing Committee spokesman says he's willing to try everything. Squaw Valley usually gets too much snow, but it hasn't had a flake so far this season.

Bums, Braves Try To Catch Giants In Trading Market

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers and Milwaukee Braves, spurred to action by San Francisco's deal with Baltimore that brought the Giants pitchers Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes, also are eyeing the American League for player help.

The Dodgers huddled for three hours with Washington last night hoping to pry loose slugger Roy Sievers. At the same time the Braves were bartering with the New York Yankees for second baseman Gil McDougald.

The Dodgers planned more conferences with the Senators at the minor league sessions here while the Braves have scheduled another meeting with the Yankees at the major league convention next week.

OFFER FAIRLY

The Dodgers offered outfielder Ron Fairly, shortstop Don Zimmer and pitcher Clem Labine for Washington's Sievers, pitcher Russ Kemmerer and a choice of three second basemen—Reno Bertoia, Billy Consolo and Ken Aspromonte. The Senators were holding out for outfielder Don Demeter as a substitute for Fairly.

Los Angeles, after several preliminary proposals, finally substituted Fairly, the $80,000 bonus collegian from Southern California, and Labine for southpaw Danny McDevitt.

Milwaukee has offered Carleton Willey, a young righthander, for McDougald. The Yankees, preferring a left-hander, offered McDougald and veteran outfielder Hank Bauer for Warren Spahn, still the top southpaw in the majors despite his 38 years.

The Giants, still seeking to bolster their infield, offered southpaw Johnny Antonelli and second baseman Daryl Spencer to St. Louis for right-hander Larry Jackson and second baseman Don Blasingame. Cardinal Manager Solly Hemus acknowledged he had given the proposition "some thought" but turned it down.

The Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox completed their second deal since the interleague trading period went into effect Nov. 21. The Cubs sent outfielder Bobby Thomson to the Red Sox for pitcher Al Schroll. Thomson, 36, batted .259 with 11 homers. Schroll had a 1-4 record after his recall from Minneapolis last July.

Cards Trade Green For O's Bob Nieman

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals announced today the trade of catcher-outfielder Gene Green to the Baltimore Orioles for outfielder Bob Nieman.

Baylor Back In Form, Lakers Win

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Elgin Baylor is back on the court and the Minneapolis Lakers look like they might be a whole team again.

Baylor, sidelined for almost two weeks because of a virus infection, scored 20 points last night—four in the last 18 seconds—to bring the Lakers a 103-100 victory over the New York Knicks in the nightcap of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader in New York.

Bob Pettit's 38 points paced St. Louis to a 106-101 victory over Syracuse in the opener.

Ken Sears, with 28 points, led the Knicks.

49er Offense Still Too Spotty, Overdue For An All-Out Effort

Now that the pro football race is coming down the home stretch there's just one thing that disturbs us about the 49ers' chances of bagging the championship. That is their offense.

Not since the first half of the Ram game in Los Angeles earlier this month on the first stop of their now-concluded murderous road trip have Coach Red Hickey's Prospectors displayed anything resembling a solid, all-around attack. In Chicago and Baltimore the 49ers just didn't have it and even in last Sunday's 21-20 triumph in Cleveland they were spotty, although we admit John Brodie did a capable job.

The blocking, so beautiful early in the season, seems to have fallen apart. Joe Perry has slowed to a crawl and just can't turn the corner anymore. J. D. Smith has been carrying the load, but we'd like to see Hugh McElhenny, one of football's most exciting runners, used more against the Colts. Mac has been lugging the ball very little in his role as decoy. Mebbe Hickey will move him back in a running spot alongside Smith for Saturday's showdown with those big, mean Colts. We hope so.

So there Hickey has free advice on how to whip the Colts. Yer welcome, Red.

HECTOR RUBINI, owner of San Rafael Joe's and one of Marin's finest sports fans, sponsored quite a golf tournament Sunday at the Las Gallinas course north of San Rafael.

He called it "Sons of Mafia Tournament" because about 98 per cent of the contestants were paisanos.

For example: Rubini and partner Guido Farina were co-hosts; Gordon Tovani was tournament chairman and Victor Carrara was supervisor.

Raymond Amonini, veteran mixologist, won the championship flight with a sparkling 59 gross on the par 54 layout.

Other winners were decided by the blind bogey handicap system. First flight winner was Joe DeMaestri; Second flight winner was a guy named James Gilmartini; third flight went to Billy Nave and the fourth flight to Les Taylor.

TV personality Dick Stewart won a special prize among the 43 entries by wowing the crowd with a hole-in-one. Dapper Dick canned his 9-iron tee shot on the 45-yard second hole and had a gang of witnesses, including Bruce and Marie Dutton, Al Rossi and Mario Colombo.

The tourney sponsors even went so far as to award a booby prize for the worst score of the day and that distinction went to Mrs. Dutton who took 106 strokes. There were several candidates for that prize.

Anyway, the tourney was a huge success and was climaxed by a beautiful awards banquet sponsored by San Rafael Joe's.

NOW THAT San Francisco has acquired Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes from Baltimore, will the Giants be known as the billy club? Thought not.

A COUPLE of 49ers will be Marin this week to appear at local high school awards banquets and we hope they don't eat too much because Saturday their diet will include colt meat.

Tonight Abe Woodson sits in at Marin Catholic's annual banquet and tomorrow night Matt "All-Pro" Hazeltine chows down with the Redwood Giants.

West Blanked On 1959 UPI All-America

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Midwest dominates the 1959 United Press International All-America football team announced today although Billy Cannon ran away with individual honors.

Louisiana State's star halfback received a total of 3,048 points in the nation-wide balloting by 359 sports writers and broadcasters, the largest number ever to vote for a UPI All-America team. West To Feature Explosive Punch In Shrine Grid Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An explosive offensive potential is the keynote for the West squad in the annual Shrine East-West football game that will be relayed here Jan. 2.

The roster of the 24-man squad was announced yesterday by William M. Coffman, managing director of the classic.

Leading the ball carriers are Dick Bass of College of the Pacific, the 1958 collegiate running king, Ray Smith of UCLA and Prentice Gautt of Oklahoma.

The quarterbacks are Don Meredith of Southern Methodist and Jim Walden of Wyoming, a pair of pin-point passers.

STANFORD ENDS

And four fine wingmen will be on the receiving ends: Chris Burford and Ben Robinson of Stanford, Gail Cogdill of Washington State and Hank Christopher of SMU.

They'll be playing with a bunch of fast, rangy linemen—a gang expected to spring the Westerners loose on one of the flashiest scoring shows in the 35-year history of the East-West game.

This is the squad that reports to SMU coach Bill Meek in San Francisco Dec. 22:

Ends: Chris Burford. Stanford; Ben Robinson, Stanford; Gail Cogdill, Washington State; Henry Christopher, SMU.

Tackles: Paul Oglesby, UCLA; Bob Denton, COP; John Wilcox, Oregon; John Peppercorn, Kansas.

Guards: Frank Sally, California; Jim Davis, Oklahoma; Donald Floyd, Texas Christian; Bobby Loveless, SMU.

Centers: Bob Peterson, Oregon; Sonny Holland, Montana State.

Quarterbacks: Don Meredith, SMU; Jim Walden, Wyoming.

Halfbacks: Dick Bass, COP; Grover Garvin, California; Don Ellersick, Washington State; William Bucek, Rice; Larry Wilson, Utah.

Fullbacks: Prentice Gautt, Oklahoma; Ray Smith, UCLA; Jack Spikes, Texas Christian.

Tittle Limps Back To 49er Practices

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Quarterback Y. A. Tittle was back in action, although limited, yesterday with the San Francisco 49ers.

The veteran QB did a bit of running in a sweat-suit and appeared to be on the way to recovery from the knee injury that sent him to the hospital 10 days ago.

Coaches weren't sure he'd be ready for play against the Colts this Saturday, however.

"We'll wait and see," they chorused as the team drilled through its regular chores.

Tittle probably won't see any contact work before the Baltimore game under any circumstances. John Brodie, who directed the club to last Sunday's 21-20 win against Cleveland, is slated to start again Saturday.

HERE'S HOW Champion Joe Brown and Challenger Dave Charnley stack up for tonight's 15-round, nationally-televised lightweight championship fight.

Brown 2½-1 Choice In Title Fight Tonight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Joe Brown, busiest champion of them all, puts his world lightweight title on the line for the eighth time tonight with Dave Charnley, the British Empire's pride, pretty sure he'll take it.

The aging Brown, who has gathered about $200,000 in three years of defending the dauble, hopes to tie Benny Leonard's record for warding off challengers. Leonard did it eight times and retired undefeated in 1925.

Charnley would like to become the first Britisher to hold the title since Freddie Welsh of 42 years ago, and also the first southpaw to be lightweight champion.

That southpaw business is a little painful to Brown. He almost lost his title to a lefthander — Kenney Lane — in this same Sam Houston Coliseum ring last year.

Charnley, who is built like a heavyweight from the waist up — his 16½ neck is as big as Jack Dempsey's, comes with the tag "the midget Marciano."

Brown, the little Baton Rouge, La., Negro, has had almost three times as many fights as the 24-year-old Charnley — who is 10 years Brown's junior. But Charnley has one distinction Joe can't claim — he never has been knocked off his feet in 40 battles.

Brown is favored 12-5 here and 13-5 in New York to retain his championship and become the oldest man to ever hold it. He is just three months younger than Joe Gans was in 1908 when the latter lost the title to Battling Nelson.

There's a 90-day return clause in the contract if Brown loses. If he wins there are offers of $75,000 and $100,000 for fights on the West Coast and Florida, Lou Viscusi, Brown's manager, said. Brown won the title Aug. 24, 1956, from Wallace "Bud" Smith.

In seven defenses since then he has five knockouts and two decisions.

The fight telecast will start at 7 p.m. Pacific Standard Time with Houston blacked out.

Police Warn Duck Hunters Near Corte Madera Area

Corte Madera Police Chief Frank L. Nelson warned duck hunters today that a 1916 ordinance makes it a misdemeanor to discharge firearms of any description within the town limits.

Nelson issued the warning after receiving a number of complaints about duck shooting in the marshlands adjacent to Mariners Cove and Marina Village east of Highway 101.

Marin Cagers Open Season With Victory

By JOHN LARKIN

College of Marin Tars began their winning ways where they left off last season as they trounced the Diablo Junior College Vikings 53-45 last night on the losers' court in the opening basketball game of the season for both teams.

The Tars were in command all the way as they led 25-23 at halftime and then increased their lead in the second half, allowing every man on the squad to see action.

Ken Anderson, the Tars' sharp-shooting forward, had a phenomenal night as he connected on 65 per cent of his field goal attempts and 67 per cent of his free throws for 20 points. Ray Nickleberry contributed 14 points while Gerry Reese tallied 8 markers.

The Tars as a team, hit 23 out of 56 from the floor for 41 per cent while their opponents had 13 out of 40 for 33 per cent. From the free throw line the Mariners didn't fare so well, however, as they could manage only 7 out of 18 compared to Diablo's 19 out of 27.

Marin Coach Cal Riemcke was very pleased with the actions of his players. "We played a pretty fair ball game although both teams had the first game jitters and made careless mistakes in the first half. But that is to be expected."

The Tars next entertain San Mateo Junior College on the home court Friday night.

COLLEGE CAGE OPENERS

Cox Stars, But Dons Barely Miss Upset

Stanford opened the 1959-60 basketball season last night with its 16th straight home victory, but had to go into overtime to overcome a surprising young University of San Francisco squad whose lineup included three Marin County standouts.

The Indians avoided an upset by breaking a 45-45 tie at the end of the regulation game and powering to a 55-49 triumph in the extra period.

Sparking USF's surprise showing was former Drake High star Ronnie Cox of San Anselmo, a 5-11 junior guard who bucketed 18 points. Other Marin players who saw action for the Dons were Fred Breuner, a transfer from College of Marin, who tallied five points, and ex-Drake star Bill Gallagher who scored three.

Stanford senior John Arrillaga led all scorers with 20.

In other northern California curtain-risers, St. Mary's trounced the Cal Aggies of Davis 60-38, Santa Clara blasted Chico State 74-54, San Jose State beat San Francisco State 54-41, California beat its alumni 64-68 and Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo whipped Westmont 88-68.

St. Mary's, defending champs of the West Coast Athletic Conference, breezed past the Cal Aggies. Tom Meschery, the Gaels' only returning starter, led the scoring with 23. Sophomores Al Claiborne, 6-9, and Phil Hart, 6-4, netted 10 and 13 points respectively in their varsity debuts.

Santa Clara led Chico by just 32-29 at halftime but Frank Sobrero and Joe Sheaff paced the Broncos to a big second half. They grabbed 32 rebounds between them and Sobrero finished with 23 points, Sheaff with 22. Wade Wall led Chico with 14.

IMHOFF SPARKLES

Big Darrall Imhoff's rebounding helped Cal's defending national champs pull away from the alumni but the old grads held the varsity to 31-30 at halftime.

Height and condition was the difference in the second half when the Bears spurted for 15 straight points to wrap up the game. Imhoff, a star of the NCAA tourney a year ago, led Cal with 13. Duane Asplund of the alumni also potted 13.

NO SNOW AT SQUAW VALLEY SO INJUNS TRY

RENO (AP)—Modern science has failed to bring snow to the Squaw Valley, Calif. Winter Olympics site, so they're going to try something a bit more old fashioned.

Piute Indians from nearby Pyramid Lake will perform a dance for their snow god at the 1960 Winter Games location tomorrow. Ten dancers, a drummer and a narrator will take part.

Earlier plans to encourage snowfall by seeding clouds over the Sierra haven't gone very well. There haven't been any clouds.

An Olympics Organizing Committee spokesman says he's willing to try everything. Squaw Valley usually gets too much snow, but it hasn't had a flake so far this season.

Bums, Braves Try To Catch Giants In Trading Market

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers and Milwaukee Braves, spurred to action by San Francisco's deal with Baltimore that brought the Giants pitchers Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes, also are eyeing the American League for player help.

The Dodgers huddled for three hours with Washington last night hoping to pry loose slugger Roy Sievers. At the same time the Braves were bartering with the New York Yankees for second baseman Gil McDougald.

The Dodgers planned more conferences with the Senators at the minor league sessions here while the Braves have scheduled another meeting with the Yankees at the major league convention next week.

OFFER FAIRLY

The Dodgers offered outfielder Ron Fairly, shortstop Don Zimmer and pitcher Clem Labine for Washington's Sievers, pitcher Russ Kemmerer and a choice of three second basemen—Reno Bertoia, Billy Consolo and Ken Aspromonte. The Senators were holding out for outfielder Don Demeter as a substitute for Fairly.

Los Angeles, after several preliminary proposals, finally substituted Fairly, the $80,000 bonus collegian from Southern California, and Labine for southpaw Danny McDevitt.

Milwaukee has offered Carleton Willey, a young righthander, for McDougald. The Yankees, preferring a left-hander, offered McDougald and veteran outfielder Hank Bauer for Warren Spahn, still the top southpaw in the majors despite his 38 years.

The Giants, still seeking to bolster their infield, offered southpaw Johnny Antonelli and second baseman Daryl Spencer to St. Louis for right-hander Larry Jackson and second baseman Don Blasingame. Cardinal Manager Solly Hemus acknowledged he had given the proposition "some thought" but turned it down.

The Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox completed their second deal since the inter-league trading period went into effect Nov. 21. The Cubs sent outfielder Bobby Thomson to the Red Sox for pitcher Al Schroll. Thomson, 36, batted .259 with 11 homers. Schroll had a 1-4 record after his recall from Minneapolis last July.

Cards Trade Green For O's Bob Nieman

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals announced today the trade of catcher-outfielder Gene Green to the Baltimore Orioles for outfielder Bob Nieman.

Baylor Back In Form, Lakers Win

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Elgin Baylor is back on the court and the Minneapolis Lakers look like they might be a whole team again.

Baylor, sidelined for almost two weeks because of a virus infection, scored 20 points last night—four in the last 18 seconds—to bring the Lakers a 103-100 victory over the New York Knicks in the nightcap of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader in New York.

Bob Pettit's 38 points paced St. Louis to a 106-101 victory over Syracuse in the opener.

Ken Sears, with 28 points, led the Knicks.

UMMMM GOOD sighs Linda Gudmundson as she samples one of the Gingerbread Boys which will be featured on Saturday, Dec. 5 at the Cookie Carnival to be staged by the San Rafael Ward Relief Society of the Church of Latter Day Saints at the church, Bon Air road, Greenbrae. Gingerbread Boys Will Reign At Society's Cookie Carnival

The Gingerbread Boy will reign as king on Saturday when the San Rafael Ward Relief Society of the Latter Day Saints Church, Bon Air Road, Greenbrae, presents its annual Cookie Carnival from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the chapel.

A large sugar plum tree decorated with dozens of gingerbread boys and large old fashioned sugar cookies will be the focal point for the children.

The receipes used by the Society are:

GINGERBREAD BOYS

Cream together ⅓ cup soft butter, 1 cup dark brown sugar, add 1½ cups dark molasses, beat in 1 egg and ¼ cup milk beaten together. Sift together 7 cups sifted flour, add 1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. allspice, 2 tsp. ginger. Stir in 1 tsp. soda dissolved in 3 tablespoons of water.

Thoroughly chill dough—roll out small amount at a time ⅛ inch thick. Keep remainder chilled until ready for use. Cut with gingerbread boy cutter dipped in flour for each cookie cut. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet—well spaced—bake at 350° 18 to 20 minutes. Four to five dozen boys.

Decorate with

ROYAL ICING

1¼ lbs sifted powdered sugar
½ cup egg whites
½ tsp. cream of tartar.

Beat egg whites stiff and dry.. Sift cream of tartar with powdered sugar and gradually add to egg whites as you continue beating. Beat until it stands in peaks and is smooth. Tint as desired. Decorate with pastry tube.

This icing hardens.

Gingerbread cookie dough is better if made several days in advance of baking. Can be stored or frozen for 2 or 3 weeks.

SUGAR COOKIES

3 cups sifted flour
2 tsps. cream of tartar
½ tsp. salt
1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon of milk
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. lemon extract.

Mix batter, flour, cream of tartar, and salt in bowl just as you mix pie dough, with pastry blender or finger tips.

Beat eggs, add sugar, flavorings and soda dissolved in milk. Add to first mixture and mix well.

Chill thoroughly, work with small amount of dough, roll on well floured board to ⅛ inch thick, cut with fancy cutters, stars, figures, trees, etc.

Bake in 350° oven 10 to 12 minutes. Can be sprinkled liberally with granulated sugar before baking if an unfrosted cookie is wanted. Can also be made into rolls, chilled and sliced thin, bake as above.

Sugar cookie dough is better if made several days in advance of baking. Can be stored or frozen for 2 or 3 weeks.

Cookbooks Are Ideal As Gifts

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

When Santa stuffs a cook's stocking this Christmas he might well put a thick paperback in it: "The James Beard Cookbook" (Dell). Jim Beard has eaten and cooked his way around the world; he knows just which international recipes will most please Americans, and which of Uncle Sam's old favorites should go into present-day kitchen repertoires. Cooks will find these dishes practical and delicious.

A series of letters to young housewives preceded the recipes in "Cook, My Darling Daughter" by Mildred O. Knopf (Knopf) because this book was inspired by the author's married daughter. Any cook who was delighted by Mrs. Knopf's previous "The Perfect Hostess" will be even happier with this latest compilation of recipes for all courses of a meal. These rules are ones that were enjoyed by a family of discriminating taste and are written with clarity so that other families may benefit.

Travelers who want to duplicate certain dishes tasted in American restaurants should be happy with "The Diners' Club Cookbook" by Myra Waldo (Farrar, Straus and Cudahy). After gathering the recipes from wide sources, the author put them in good form so they could be duplicated successfully. Her book should be of particular help in planning meals for guests to be entertained at home.

"Blueberry Hill Cookbook" by Elsie Masterton (Crowell) is an inviting homespun collection of recipes. The author is the same Elsie, who some years ago went with her husband John to Vermont to open a ski area, then found snow could not be relied upon to appear. So Elsie learned to cook and opened a summer inn and dinner place. Those who came to eat asked for recipes; now Elsie gives them. Hers is a friendly book, with the sort of comments one interested cook likes to hear from another and with hints on serving.

Teen-age cooks might like to have "A Baker's Holiday" by Robert E. Koran (Vantage). It's a small book of recipes for cakes, pies and desserts, cookies and sweetbreads—all of them created and tested by the 18-year-old author who several years ago was a junior prize-winner in a country-wide cooking contest.

Depends On Freshness

Remember that the beating time for egg whites varies according to the freshness of the eggs; always keep a hawk's eye on the process.

Turkey Leftovers Can Be Different

The age-old problem of what to do with the remains of a turkey is easily solved by the creation of a tempting and different turkey loaf. This recipe calls for use of prepared herb-seasoned stuffing containing seven choice herbs, which adds a piquant flavor yet eliminates unnecessary steps in the dish's preparation.

The packaged stuffing adds to any meat or fish dish as well.

2 eggs, slightly beaten
4 tbs. melted butter
1 pkg. prepared herb-seasoned stuffing
1½ cups turkey or canned chicken broth
2 cups cooked turkey, cut up
2 tbs. parsley
1 tbs. minced onion
2 tbs. minced green pepper
1 10½-oz. can condensed cream of celery soup
⅓ to ½ cup milk

Mix together all ingredients, in order listed, except celery soup and milk. Turn into a greased 9" x 5" x 3" loaf pan. Bake at 375 F., 30 to 40 minutes or until firm. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

49er Offense Still Too Spotty, Overdue For An All-Out Effort

Now that the pro football race is coming down the home stretch there's just one thing that disturbs us about the 49ers' chances of bagging the championship. That is their offense.

Not since the first half of the Ram game in Los Angeles earlier this month on the first stop of their now-concluded murderous road trip have Coach Red Hickey's Prospectors displayed anything resembling a solid, all-around attack. In Chicago and Baltimore the 49ers just didn't have it and even in last Sunday's 21-20 triumph in Cleveland they were spotty, although we admit John Brodie did a capable job.

The blocking, so beautiful early in the season, seems to have fallen apart. Joe Perry has slowed to a crawl and just can't turn the corner anymore. J. D. Smith has been carrying the load, but we'd like to see Hugh McElhenny, one of football's most exciting runners, used more against the Colts. Mac has been lugging the ball very little in his role as decoy. Mebbe Hickey will move him back in a running spot alongside Smith for Saturday's showdown with those big, mean Colts. We hope so.

So there Hickey has free advice on how to whip the Colts. Yer welcome, Red.

HECTOR RUBINI, owner of San Rafael Joe's and one of Marin's finest sports fans, sponsored quite a golf tournament Sunday at the Las Gallinas course north of San Rafael.

He called it "Sons of Mafia Tournament" because about 98 per cent of the contestants were paisanos.

For example: Rubini and partner Guido Farina were co-hosts; Gordon Tovani was tournament chairman and Victor Carrara was supervisor.

Raymond Amonini, veteran mixologist, won the championship flight with a sparkling 59 gross on the par 54 layout.

Other winners were decided by the blind bogey handicap system. First flight winner was Joe DeMaestri; Second flight winner was a guy named James Gilmartini; third flight went to Billy Nave and the fourth flight to Les Taylor.

TV personality Dick Stewart won a special prize among the 43 entries by wowing the crowd with a hole-in-one. Dapper Dick canned his 9-iron tee shot on the 45-yard second hole and had a gang of witnesses, including Bruce and Marie Dutton, Al Rossi and Mario Colombo.

The tourney sponsors even went so far as to award a booby prize for the worst score of the day and that distinction went to Mrs. Dutton who took 106 strokes. There were several candidates for that prize.

Anyway, the tourney was a huge success and was climaxed by a beautiful awards banquet sponsored by San Rafael Joe's.

NOW THAT San Francisco has acquired Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes from Baltimore, will the Giants be known as the billy club? Thought not.

A COUPLE of 49ers will be Marin this week to appear at local high school awards banquets and we hope they don't eat too much because Saturday their diet will include colt meat.

Tonight Abe Woodson sits in at Marin Catholic's annual banquet and tomorrow night Matt "All-Pro" Hazeltine chows down with the Redwood Giants.

West To Feature Explosive Punch In Shrine Grid Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An explosive offensive potential is the keynote for the West squad in the annual Shrine East-West football game that will be relayed here Jan. 2.

The roster of the 24-man squad was announced yesterday by William M. Coffman, managing director of the classic.

Leading the ball carriers are Dick Bass of College of the Pacific, the 1958 collegiate running king, Ray Smith of UCLA and Prentice Gautt of Oklahoma.

The quarterbacks are Don Meredith of Southern Methodist and Jim Walden of Wyoming, a pair of pin-point passers.

STANFORD ENDS

And four fine wingmen will be on the receiving ends: Chris Burford and Ben Robinson of Stanford, Gail Cogdill of Washington State and Hank Christopher of SMU.

They'll be playing with a bunch of fast, rangy linemen—a gang expected to spring the Westerners loose on one of the flashiest scoring shows in the 35-year history of the East-West game.

This is the squad that reports to SMU coach Bill Meek in San Francisco Dec. 22:

Ends: Chris Burford, Stanford; Ben Robinson, Stanford; Gail Cogdill, Washington State; Henry Christopher, SMU.

Tackles: Paul Oglesby, UCLA; Bob Denton, COP; John Wilcox, Oregon; John Peppercorn, Kansas.

Guards: Frank Sally, California; Jim Davis, Oklahoma; Donald Floyd, Texas Christian; Bobby Loveless, SMU.

Fullbacks: Prentice Gautt, Oklahoma; Ray Smith, UCLA; Jack Spikes, Texas Christian.

Tittle Limps Back To 49er Practices

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Quarterback Y. A. Tittle was back in action, although limited, yesterday with the San Francisco 49ers.

The veteran QB did a bit of running in a sweat-suit and appeared to be on the way to recovery from the knee injury that sent him to the hospital 10 days ago.

Coaches weren't sure he'd be ready for play against the Colts this Saturday, however.

"We'll wait and see," they chorused as the team drilled through its regular chores.

Tittle probably won't see any contact work before the Baltimore game under any circumstances. John Brodie, who directed the club to last Sunday's 21-20 win against Cleveland, is slated to start again Saturday.

Olmedo Turns Pro

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Alex Olmedo, hero of the United States 1958 Davis Cup victory, has turned professional.

He will make his pro tennis debut Dec. 26 in Melbourne, Australia, and his U.S. bow in Los Angeles' Sports Arena Jan. 26.

Dr. J. P. Gutstadt Speaks To Parents At Dinner Meeting

Parents of children enrolled in the San Anselmo Cooperative Nursery School recently enjoyed a potluck dinner in the home economics room at Sir Francis Drake High School before hearing guest speaker, Dr. Joseph P. Gutstadt, San Rafael psychiatrist.

The meeting was planned to interest the fathers, from the delicious dinner to the interesting observations of Dr. Gutstadt. The doctor spoke about the early emotional development and needs of children through the pre-school years and how character and personality grow. He spoke of the danger of taking too seriously the time-tables and formulas for pre-school development. Such generalizations are often plain false for the individual human. He told of the ways that children successfully resolve some of their early frustrations and conflicts.

The evening ended with a question period.

Red Cross Speakers

Mrs. Edwin J. Ruff, past president of the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross spoke recently on the activities of the Red Cross at the regular meeting of the San Rafael Rotary Club. Also there to tell the Red Cross story were Jordan Dell'Era, chapter treasurer, and Captain Daniel M. Fleming, C Battery commander, second missile battalion, 51st artillery.

Gingerbread Boys Will Reign At Society's Cookie Carnival

The Gingerbread Boy will reign as king on Saturday when the San Rafael Ward Relief Society of the Latter Day Saints Church, Bon Air Road, Greenbrae, presents its annual Cookie Carnival from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the chapel.

A large sugar plum tree decorated with dozens of gingerbread boys and large old fashioned sugar cookies will be the focal point for the children.

The receipes used by the Society are:

GINGERBREAD BOYS

Cream together ⅓ cup soft butter, 1 cup dark brown sugar, add 1½ cups dark molasses, beat in 1 egg and ¼ cup milk beaten together. Sift together 7 cups sifted flour, add 1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. allspice, 2 tsp. ginger. Stir in 1 tsp. soda dissolved in 3 tablespoons of water.

Thoroughly chill dough—roll out small amount at a time ⅛ inch thick. Keep remainder chilled until ready for use. Cut with gingerbread boy cutter dipped in flour for each cookie cut. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet—well spaced—bake at 350° 18 to 20 minutes. Four to five dozen boys.

Decorate with

ROYAL ICING

1¼ lbs sifted powdered sugar
½ cup egg whites
½ tsp. cream of tartar.

Beat egg whites stiff and dry.. Sift cream of tartar with powdered sugar and gradually add to egg whites as you continue beating. Beat until it stands in peaks and is smooth. Tint as desired. Decorate with pastry tube.

This icing hardens.

Gingerbread cookie dough is better if made several days in advance of baking. Can be stored or frozen for 2 or 3 weeks.

SUGAR COOKIES

3 cups sifted flour
2 tsps. cream of tartar
½ tsp. salt
1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon of milk
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. lemon extract.

Mix batter, flour, cream of tartar, and salt in bowl just as you mix pie dough, with pastry blender or finger tips.

Beat eggs, add sugar, flavorings and soda dissolved in milk. Add to first mixture and mix well.

Chill thoroughly, work with small amount of dough, roll on well floured board to ⅛ inch thick, cut with fancy cutters, stars, figures, trees, etc.

Bake in 350° oven 10 to 12 minutes. Can be sprinkled liberally with granulated sugar before baking if an unfrosted cookie is wanted. Can also be made into rolls, chilled and sliced thin, bake as above.

Sugar cookie dough is better if made several days in advance of baking. Can be stored or frozen for 2 or 3 weeks.

Cookbooks Are Ideal As Gifts

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

When Santa stuffs a cook's stocking this Christmas he might well put a thick paperback in it: "The James Beard Cookbook" (Dell). Jim Beard has eaten and cooked his way around the world; he knows just which international recipes will most please Americans, and which of Uncle Sam's old favorites should go into present-day kitchen repertoires. Cooks will find these dishes practical and delicious.

A series of letters to young housewives preceded the recipes in "Cook, My Darling Daughter" by Mildred O. Knopf (Knopf) because this book was inspired by the author's married daughter. Any cook who was delighted by Mrs. Knopf's previous "The Perfect Hostess" will be even happier with this latest compilation of recipes for all courses of a meal. These rules are ones that were enjoyed by a family of discriminating taste and are written with clarity so that other families may benefit.

Travelers who want to duplicate certain dishes tasted in American restaurants should be happy with "The Diners' Club Cookbook" by Myra Waldo (Farrar, Straus and Cudahy). After gathering the recipes from wide sources, the author put them in good form so they could be duplicated successfully. Her book should be of particular help in planning meals for guests to be entertained at home.

"Blueberry Hill Cookbook" by Elsie Masterton (Crowell) is an inviting homespun collection of recipes. The author is the same Elsie, who some years ago went with her husband John to Vermont to open a ski area, then found snow could not be relied upon to appear. So Elsie learned to cook and opened a summer inn and dinner place. Those who came to eat asked for recipes; now Elsie gives them. Hers is a friendly book, with the sort of comments one interested cook likes to hear from another and with hints on serving.

Teen-age cooks might like to have "A Baker's Holiday" by Robert E. Koran (Vantage). It's a small book of recipes for cakes, pies and desserts, cookies and sweetbreads—all of them created and tested by the 18-year-old author who several years ago was a junior prize-winner in a country-wide cooking contest.

Depends On Freshness

Remember that the beating time for egg whites varies according to the freshness of the eggs; always keep a hawk's eye on the process.

Turkey Leftovers Can Be Different

The age-old problem of what to do with the remains of a turkey is easily solved by the creation of a tempting and different turkey loaf. This recipe calls for use of prepared herb-seasoned stuffing containing seven choice herbs, which adds a piquant flavor yet eliminates unnecessary steps in the dish's preparation.

The packaged stuffing adds to any meat or fish dish as well.

2 eggs, slightly beaten
4 tbs. melted butter
1 pkg. prepared herb-seasoned stuffing
1½ cups turkey or canned chicken broth
2 cups cooked turkey, cut up
2 tbs. parsley
1 tbs. minced onion
2 tbs. minced green pepper
1 10½-oz. can condensed cream of celery soup
⅓ to ½ cup milk

Mix together all ingredients, in order listed, except celery soup and milk. Turn into a greased 9" x 5" x 3" loaf pan. Bake at 375 F., 30 to 40 minutes or until firm. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Keep Holiday Decorations Safe And Sane

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

Let's deck the halls with holly, but let's keep the decorations safe.

Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without a tree and a few sprays of evergreen around the house. Neither would Christmas be Christmas if the tree catches fire or some member of the family is badly hurt.

Let's review some of the special Christmas hazards and how to avoid them.

Christmas trees are evergreens filled with pitch and resin, both of which are highly flammable materials. As long as the tree is outdoors it contains a lot of moisture but inside our dry heated homes the moisture quickly evaporates from the tree but the pitch and resin remain. The less water in the tree the more burnable. it is. While the tree is inside the house keep it as fresh as possible. Put the base in a stand filled with water and make a slanted cut across the base of the tree to help absorb water. Watch the water level in the container and replenish it as it disappears. Keep the tree in the coolest spot in the room, away from radiators or open fireplaces. Also put it in a place where if a fire did occur and the tree should fall it would not block the doorway.

Electric lights are the greatest source of Christmas tree fires. But only electric decorations that carry the seal of the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc. which means they have been tested for safety. Inspect insulation and sockets, especially of electric equipment saved from previous years. The plug should be far enough away from the tree so that no possible spark could get to the tree. Long loose electric cords should be taped to the baseboard so that neither children, pets, nor adults will trip over them.

Here are a few do's and don'ts to keep your Christmas happy and free from unnecessary accidents:

1. Do keep your tree in a water-filled base.
2. Do keep your tree away from radiators and open fireplaces.
3. Do place your tree where it will not block exits even if it should fall.
4. Do use safe electric equipment and inspect it frequently to keep it safe.
5. Do stand on a sturdy ladder when decorating upper branches.

Accordion Students Will Entertain At Yountville Home

The Novato Accordion Studio is taking the advanced students to the Yountville Veterans Home again this year as the Donald V. Westlund's VFW Auxiliary contribution to the annual Christmas party put on by all the VFW Auxiliaries and Posts in the 16th District.

The Christmas party will be at the main theater at 1:30 p.m. Each Auxiliary or Post is to furnish one act of entertainment. Many acts will go from ward to ward to entertain patients in the hospital. There are about 2,000 men and 50 women veterans at the home now. Each veteran will receive a wrapped gift, and cigarettes. Home made cupcakes are made and contributed by the women of the different auxiliaries.

'Snow Ball' Theme Set For ONIPAA Christmas Party

"Snow Ball" will be the theme for the Mill Valley ONIPAA Club's traditional Christmas party this year, according to general chairman Reginald De Maeyer.

One of the most festive affairs in Mill Valley during the holidays, it has been calendared for Dec. 12 at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse. Complete plans for the event were made at a board of control meeting held Monday night in the home of president James McGinnis.

Cocktails at 8 p.m. will precede the 8:30 p.m. dinner, and the remainder of the evening will be spent in dancing to music of an orchestra.

Assisting De Maeyer and McGinnis on the committee are Fred Wight, Fred Heidinger, Ed Greenman, Alan Kane, Kenneth Hanson and E. M. Tobin.

Since the reservations list is already filling rapidly, DeMeayer urges members interested in attending to call any of the above named committee members as soon as possible.

DONALD GRAHAM TO CLAIM BRIDE IN SEATTLE SATURDAY

A Dec. 5 wedding in Seattle is planned by Lynn Dee Rose of Seattle and Donald Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson Jr., of Marinwood.

The young couple's engagement was announced recently at a cocktail party given by Mr. and Mrs. Stan Sulman of San Francisco, the bride-elect's aunt and uncle.

The future bridegroom, a native of Marin County, is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, and attended College of Marin. He now lives in Los Angeles, where he is an executive of Warner Brothers' recording division.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rose of Seattle, attended the University of Washington and San Francisco State College.

The couple will make their home in Los Angeles.

Holidays Are Perfect For Playing Hostess

By VIVIAN BROWN

Christmas is a good time to rehearse the role of hostess. Younger marriages makes it important for every girl in her teens to begin to learn about keeping house, entertaining, and caring for children. Invite your friends in and pretend that you are the lady of the house. Give your mother a holiday—clean the house, prepare the food and do the serving, just as you would if you were married and in your own home.

Plan the decorations from scratch, and try for originality. If you have a fireplace decorate the mantle simply, but effectively. You'll spend less if you put thought into your decorating instead of buying decorations willy-nilly. A very pretty, chic decoration may be achieved with pine rope placed swagger-like across the fireplace and down the sides of the mantle. Attach lemons, kumquats, oranges, limes, crab apples, nuts, tree ornaments, sprinkles or what have you to the pine rope. Put heavy pieces along the top of the mantle, and lighter pieces on hanging parts. Tall red candlesticks on either side of the mantle will achieve a lovely effect.

KEEP SIMPLE

Food should be kept simple, too, but if it is a main meal, it should be filling. Do some paper work in advance to see what a meal will cost, and you won't go over your head. Dishes that can be prepared from eggs, spaghetti, noodles, beans, can be inexpensive. Concoctions of deviled eggs or tuna fish casserole (made with noodles) can keep tthe cost of a party down. Chickens may be low priced, and a dish like chicken tettrazini is easy to prepare, delicious and filling. Just make a cream sauce, add some mushrooms and pimientos, add cooked chicken, mix all with cooked spaghetti, put in the oven with a layer of buttered crumbs and parmesan cheese on top.

A cake could be the piece de resistance to a holiday party. Here's one you don't have to bake—a pineapple cheese cake.

Drain 1 can of crushed pineapple (1 pound 4 ounces). Save syrup. Add enough water to syrup to make 2 cups. Combine 1 package of lemon mix with 2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin, 2 cups liquid, ½ cup sugar and 2 slightly beaten egg yolks in a saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring until thickened. Cool. Beat 1 cup of cream-style cottage cheese until creamy. Add pudding mixture, continue beating until blended.

MILK CRYSTALS

Combine ½ cup of instant dry milk crystals and ½ cup of ice water. Whip until soft peaks form (3-4 mins.) Add 2 tablespoons of lemon juice and continue whipping, while gradually adding ½ cup of sugar, until stiff peaks form (3-4 minutes). Fold whipped instant milk crystals, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon lemon extract, 2 stiffly beaten egg whites and crushed pineapple into pudding mixture. Pour into pan over crumb mixture. Chill until set (about 3 hours.) Unmold. Garnish with canned pineapple slices and maraschino cherry halves. (Crumb mixture: Blend ½ cup fine graham cracker crumbs with 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon melted butter. Line bottom of 9 x 5 x 3 inch loaf pan with waxed paper or foil. Press crumbs over bottom of pan.

PLANNING A WEDDING on Saturday in Seattle are Donald Graham of Marinwood and Los Angeles, and Lynn Dee Rose of Seattle, above. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rose of Seattle, and the future benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson Jr. of Marinwood. (Don Faulkner photo)

Letter Perfect Rules To Follow With Yule Cards

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stumped on Christmas card etiquette? Use common sense, plus a few simple rules.

Dad's name comes first on the signature when small fry are included. List the youngsters according to age. Last names are given if identification is needed.

Do not put titles such as "Mr." or "Mr. and Mrs." before the signature unless your cards are very formal and engraved. Then the signature is written, "Mr. and Mrs. John Doe."

Do not address envelopes to "Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith and Family." If possible, send a separte card, or address the envelope to the parents, and on the inside write, "To Mary and Will, and Bobby and Betty.

It's proper and thoughtful to send cards to persons in mourning, but select cards with understanding. Religious greetings or cards designed for the purpose are appropriate.

It is customary to address a widow by the same title she used when her husband was alive, such as Mrs. William White."

The correct form of address to a divorcee is to add her maiden surname before her exhusband's name. For example, "Mrs. Addison Jones."

Always write "The Reverend" before the name of a priest or minister. The correct form for Protestant ministers with doctor of divinity degrees is "The Reverend Dr. Paul Smith" or "The Reverend Paul Smith, DD." Initials of a special order or rank should be added to the names of Roman Catholic priests.

If you receive a card from someone not on your list, don't rush out and mail a card in return if it will arrive too late. Instead, send a New Year's card or write a note thanking them for their greeting.

Drama Classes For Children Set At Center

Drama classes for children are being planned to start at the Southern Marin Recreation Center on Friday, Jan. 15. Teacher will be Mrs. Irene Pritzker of Mill Valley who recently directed "The Emperor's New Clothes" production of the Belvedere-Tiburon Unit of the Junior Theater.

A class for first through third graders will be held from 2:45 to 3:45 p.m. and for fourth through eighth graders from 3:45 to 4:45 p.m. A fee will be charged for the series of 12 lessons. Non-members of the Recreation Center will pay a slightly higher rate.

First project of the classes will be the presentation of a play on the Center's opening day scheduled for early spring.

I.Q. Testing Topic Set For Marin Terrace P-TA

How's your child's I.Q? What in an I.Q.? What does I.Q. mean?

Want to know the answers? To these or to other questions of your own about I.Q. testing? They will be answered at the Marin Terrace P-TA meeting Wednesday, Dec. 9, at 8 p.m. when Robert Davidson, guidance counselor for Mill Valley and Reed School Districts, will discuss the California Mental Maturity and Achievement tests (familiarly called I.Q.)

Davidson has just completed testing Mill Valley children, an annual procedure. But one question he can't and won't answer is "What's My Child's Score?"

These tests, Davidson emphasizes, measure the child's "Developed intelligence." They do not measure or uncover other aptitudes, such as music, mechanics, art and the like. They reveal how much he has learned from his school and home environment and his capacity to interrelate and interpret what he has learned.

This is the reason in part, he explains, why in underprivileged areas the general level of I.Q. scores is lower than in the middle or upper class areas.

Children who have never been to the zoo, the aquarium, to the mountains, the library, the seashore, simply have not been exposed to the variety of mental stimuli enjoyed by more privileged children. In simple language they know less, although their capacity to know may be as great and, in some cases, greater.

World War I gave I.Q. tests their first great impetus when they were used to weed out mental defectives. Results of scores studied, tabulated and correlated over the past 30 years convince a number of psychologists, Davidson among them, that I.Q. tests form "the best single predictor" of academic aptitude.

They are not, he points out, infallible, but they predict with reasonable accuracy a child's capacity to perform at a college level. And they indicate to a teacher a child who could be turning in better school work or, on the other hand, a child who is unable to perform at a given level and who should not be pressured into working harder.

More details about the I.Q. tests will be given Wednesday evening. Mrs. W. O. Grimstead's hospitality committee will serve coffee and cookies from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

EUNICE HORNSBY MARRIED TO BEAL WILLCUTT IN RENO

Honeymooning are Mr. and Mrs. George Beal Willcutt III who were married Saturday evening at Park Wedding Chapel in Reno with the Rev. Warren D. Ward officiating. The bride, the former Eunice Hornsby, is the daughter of Mrs. Semiana Barbara Sellmer of San Rafael and Joseph Jule Hornsby of San Diego. Beal, as the new benedict is called, is the son of the late Dr. George B. Willcutt of Ross and Bolinas.

Beal and Eunice have known one another since their San Rafael High School days and he escorted her to her first formal dance. Both are graduates of San Rafael High and College of Marin. Eunice also attended Mexico City College and the University of Mexico. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joaquin Silva, pioneer Mill Valley residents.

For her wedding Eunice wore a white chiffon gown. The fitted bodice had a cowl neckline and no sleeves. The bride wore long white gloves. Her softly pleated skirt was short. Her coronet, a French import, was of crystal teardrops and orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible topped with white orchids, from which cascaded white satin streamers caught with stephanotis.

Attendants of the couple were Beal's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Willcutt of Kent Woodlands. The latter's gown was brown satin with a lace bodice and she had a bolero of the same satin. Her small maline hat was the same color as her gown and green orchids were her flowers.

The bride's mother was gowned in a green satin print and her hat was green satin. Brown orchids were in her corsage.

A wedding dinner at Eugene's in Reno followed the ceremony.

The new benedict has another brother, Richard Willcutt of Ross, and a sister, Mrs. Berthold W. (Bert) Broemmel of San Rafael. In October Beal returned from Tahiti where he had sailed with two friends aboard their small craft, "Blue Sea," last spring.

A Simple Art: Artichoke Eating

NEW YORK (UPI) — The art of artichoke eating is simple, with these directions from the Western Growers Association.

Count on 1 medium-sized or half a large artichoke per person. Hold the petal ends up under fast running water or soak in salted water 30 minutes to clean. Drop into boiling salted water seasoned with a small clove of garlic, 1 thick slice of lemon and 1 tablespoon of oil for each artichoke.

Cover and boil until a leaf pulls away from the stalk easily or the stem is easily pierced with a fork—20 to 45 minutes, depending on size. Remove, drain, cut off the stub end and serve either hot or cold, with melted butter, mayonnaise or Hollandaise sauce.

To eat, pull leaves off one by one, dip the base of each — the light colored end — into the sauce, and draw off the tender part between the teeth. Discard the hard part of leaves.

Don't eat the fuzzy center. Cut it away, and eat the remaining heart.

Future Events Discussed By Sun Valley Club

A general meeting of the Parents and Faculty Club of Sun Valley School was held recently. Following a short business meeting conducted by John Gilleran, president, Miss Edvina Codoni, principal, explained the reading program, and told of a committee that is working on mathematics to bring it up to the "space age." There is also a committee working on "what is best for the gifted child."

The Christmas program will be on Dec. 17. Kindergartners will have their fun in the morning and grades one through six in the afternoon.

Fred Holzinger, program chairman, reported plans are being made for a food, fun and frolic day on Jan. 30.

Panelists for the discussion following the program were introduced. They were Miss Codoni, Bill Livingston, formerly a captain in the Marine Corps, San Rafael Police Chief Chiesa, and Kay Dewing, past president of the Parents Club. A tape recording entitled "Communist Indoctrination in Korea" was played. Each panelist gave his reaction to Major Mayer's talk and also answered questions from the membership. Refreshments were served in the library with the fifth grade mothers hostessing.

Dr. J. P. Gutstadt Speaks To Parents At Dinner Meeting

Parents of children enrolled in the San Anselmo Cooperative Nursery School recently enjoyed a potluck dinner in the home economics room at Sir Francis Drake High School before hearing guest speaker, Dr. Joseph P. Gutstadt, San Rafael psychiatrist.

The meeting was planned to interest the fathers, from the delicious dinner to the interesting observations of Dr. Gutstadt. The doctor spoke about the early emotional development and needs of children through the pre-school years and how character and personality grow. He spoke of the danger of taking too seriously the time-tables and formulas for pre-school development. Such generalizations are often plain false for the individual human. He told of the ways that children successfully resolve some of their early frustrations and conflicts.

The evening ended with a question period.

Red Cross Speakers

Mrs. Edwin J. Ruff, past president of the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross spoke recently on the activities of the Red Cross at the regular meeting of the San Rafael Rotary Club. Also there to tell the Red Cross story were Jordan Dell'Era, chapter treasurer, and Captain Daniel M. Fleming, C Battery commander, second missile battalion, 51st artillery.

Blythedale Lodge Plans For Holiday Party, Dec. 10

Plans were made for a Dec. 10 Christmas party, and candidates were initiated at the recent meeting of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge in the Mill Valley Odd Fellows Hall.

At the Christmas party gifts will be exchanged, and "brothers" of the lodge will be hosts for the evening, Albert Hughes announced.

Candidates initiated were Mesdames Stanley Moore and Joseph Zaborowski, and received by transfer from Austin, Tex., was Mrs. Florine Schwartz, who is a hostess for the women's dormitory at the new Golden Gate Seminary in Strawberry.

The initiation ceremony concluded with a drill by team members dressed in white.

District 61 Deputy President Mrs. Harry Wall was escorted to a seat of honor by conductor Mrs. Tony Fontes, and Noble Grand Mrs. Myrtle Dahl presided at the meeting.

Autumn colors were carried out in decor for the hall and tables, where refreshments were served by Mrs. Aubrey Williams, chairman for the evening, assisted by Mesdames Bill Williams, Merton Wells and William Roberts.

Officers' Wives To Hear Magazine's Party Editor

The Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Wives Club will have a widely-traveled, vivacious and charming speaker — a speaker with a flare for the unusual— at its Dec. 10 luncheon at the Officers' Club.

Mrs. Virginia Stanton of Carmel, party editor for "House Beautiful" magazine will speak on "Holiday Entertaining."

Keep Holiday Decorations Safe And Sane

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

Let's deck the halls with holly, but let's keep the decorations safe.

Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without a tree and a few sprays of evergreen around the house. Neither would Christmas be Christmas if the tree catches fire or some member of the family is badly hurt.

Let's review some of the special Christmas hazards and how to avoid them.

Christmas trees are evergreens filled with pitch and resin, both of which are highly flammable materials. As long as the tree is outdoors it contains a lot of moisture but inside our dry heated homes the moisture quickly evaporates from the tree but the pitch and resin remain. The less water in the tree the more burnable. it is. While the tree is inside the house keep it as fresh as possible. Put the base in a stand filled with water and make a slanted cut across the base of the tree to help absorb water. Watch the water level in the container and replenish it as it disappears. Keep the tree in the coolest spot in the room, away from radiators or open fireplaces. Also put it in a place where if a fire did occur and the tree should fall it would not block the doorway.

Electric lights are the greatest source of Christmas tree fires. But only electric decorations that carry the seal of the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc. which means they have been tested for safety. Inspect insulation and sockets, especially of electric equipment saved from previous years. The plug should be far enough away from the tree so that no possible spark could get to the tree. Long loose electric cords should be taped to the baseboard so that neither children, pets, nor adults will trip over them.

Here are a few do's and don'ts to keep your Christmas happy and free from unnecessary accidents:

1. Do keep your tree in a water-filled base.
2. Do keep your tree away from radiators and open fireplaces.
3. Do place your tree where it will not block exits even if it should fall.
4. Do use safe electric equipment and inspect it frequently to keep it safe.
5. Do stand on a sturdy ladder when decorating upper branches.

DONALD GRAHAM TO CLAIM BRIDE IN SEATTLE SATURDAY

A Dec. 5 wedding in Seattle is planned by Lynn Dee Rose of Seattle and Donald Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson Jr., of Marinwood.

The young couple's engagement was announced recently at a cocktail party given by Mr. and Mrs. Stan Sulman of San Francisco, the bride-elect's aunt and uncle.

The future bridegroom, a native of Marin County, is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, and attended College of Marin. He now lives in Los Angeles, where he is an executive of Warner Brothers' recording division.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rose of Seattle, attended the University of Washington and San Francisco State College.

The couple will make their home in Los Angeles.

Holidays Are Perfect For Playing Hostess

By VIVIAN BROWN

Christmas is a good time to rehearse the role of hostess. Younger marriages makes it important for every girl in her teens to begin to learn about keeping house, entertaining, and caring for children. Invite your friends in and pretend that you are the lady of the house. Give your mother a holiday—clean the house, prepare the food and do the serving, just as you would if you were married and in your own home.

Plan the decorations from scratch, and try for originality. If you have a fireplace decorate the mantle simply, but effectively. You'll spend less if you put thought into your decorating instead of buying decorations willy-nilly. A very pretty, chic decoration may be achieved with pine rope placed swagger-like across the fireplace and down the sides of the mantle. Attach lemons, kumquats, oranges, limes, crab apples, nuts, tree ornaments, sprinkles or what have you to the pine rope. Put heavy pieces along the top of the mantle, and lighter pieces on hanging parts. Tall red candlesticks on either side of the mantle will achieve a lovely effect.

KEEP SIMPLE

Food should be kept simple, too, but if it is a main meal, it should be filling. Do some paper work in advance to see what a meal will cost, and you won't go over your head. Dishes that can be prepared from eggs, spaghetti, noodles, beans, can be inexpensive. Concoctions of deviled eggs or tuna fish casserole (made with noodles) can keep tthe cost of a party down. Chickens may be low priced, and a dish like chicken tettrazini is easy to prepare, delicious and filling. Just make a cream sauce, add some mushrooms and pimientos, add cooked chicken, mix all with cooked spaghetti, put in the oven with a layer of buttered crumbs and parmesan cheese on top.

A cake could be the piece de resistance to a holiday party. Here's one you don't have to bake—a pineapple cheese cake.

Drain 1 can of crushed pineapple (1 pound 4 ounces). Save syrup. Add enough water to syrup to make 2 cups. Combine 1 package of lemon mix with 2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin, 2 cups liquid, ½ cup sugar and 2 slightly beaten egg yolks in a saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring until thickened. Cool. Beat 1 cup of cream-style cottage cheese until creamy. Add pudding mixture, continue beating until blended.

MILK CRYSTALS

Combine ½ cup of instant dry milk crystals and ½ cup of ice water. Whip until soft peaks form (3-4 mins.) Add 2 tablespoons of lemon juice and continue whipping, while gradually adding ½ cup of sugar, until stiff peaks form (3-4 minutes). Fold whipped instant milk crystals, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon lemon extract, 2 stiffly beaten egg whites and crushed pineapple into pudding mixture. Pour into pan over crumb mixture. Chill until set (about 3 hours.) Unmold. Garnish with canned pineapple slices and maraschino cherry halves. (Crumb mixture: Blend ½ cup fine graham cracker crumbs with 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon melted butter. Line bottom of 9 x 5 x 3 inch loaf pan with waxed paper or foil. Press crumbs over bottom of pan.

Letter Perfect Rules To Follow With Yule Cards

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stumped on Christmas card etiquette? Use common sense, plus a few simple rules.

Dad's name comes first on the signature when small fry are included. List the youngsters according to age. Last names are given if identification is needed.

Do not put titles such as "Mr." or "Mr. and Mrs." before the signature unless your cards are very formal and engraved. Then the signature is written, "Mr. and Mrs. John Doe."

Do not address envelopes to "Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith and Family." If possible, send a separte card, or address the envelope to the parents, and on the inside write, "To Mary and Will, and Bobby and Betty.

It's proper and thoughtful to send cards to persons in mourning, but select cards with understanding. Religious greetings or cards designed for the purpose are appropriate.

It is customary to address a widow by the same title she used when her husband was alive, such as Mrs. William White."

The correct form of address to a divorcee is to add her maiden surname before her ex-husband's name. For example, "Mrs. Addison Jones."

Always write "The Reverend" before the name of a priest or minister. The correct form for Protestant ministers with doctor of divinity degrees is "The Reverend Dr. Paul Smith" or "The Reverend Paul Smith, DD." Initials of a special order or rank should be added to the names of Roman Catholic priests.

If you receive a card from someone not on your list, don't rush out and mail a card in return if it will arrive too late. Instead, send a New Year's card or write a note thanking them for their greeting.

Drama Classes For Children Set At Center

Drama classes for children are being planned to start at the Southern Marin Recreation Center on Friday, Jan. 15. Teacher will be Mrs. Irene Pritzker of Mill Valley who recently directed "The Emperor's New Clothes" production of the Belvedere-Tiburon Unit of the Junior Theater.

A class for first through third graders will be held from 2:45 to 3:45 p.m. and for fourth through eighth graders from 3:45 to 4:45 p.m. A fee will be charged for the series of 12 lessons. Non-members of the Recreation Center will pay a slightly higher rate.

First project of the classes will be the presentation of a play on the Center's opening day scheduled for early spring.

Accordion Students Will Entertain At Yountville Home

The Novato Accordion Studio is taking the advanced students to the Yountville Veterans Home again this year as the Donald V. Westlund's VFW Auxiliary contribution to the annual Christmas party put on by all the VFW Auxiliaries and Posts in the 16th District.

The students will travel in caravan, leaving Novato at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday, Dec. 6, arriving in time to have dinner in the large main dining hall as guests of the Auxiliaries. Students taking part this year are Edward Salmina, Andrina Ruzick, Hiram Steele, Eddie Sears, Arthur Woods, Wayne Hamilton, Laura Thomas, Elaine Flory and Barbara Lund. Vocal soloists are Lynne Balz and Lorraine Moberg. They will be accompanied by the teacher, Mrs. Grover C. Owen.

The Christmas party will be at the main theater at 1:30 p.m. Each Auxiliary or Post is to furnish one act of entertainment. Many acts will go from ward to ward to entertain patients in the hospital. There are about 2,000 men and 50 women veterans at the home now. Each veteran will receive a wrapped gift, and cigarettes. Home made cupcakes are made and contributed by the women of the different auxiliaries.

'Snow Ball' Theme Set For ONIPAA Christmas Party

"Snow Ball" will be the theme for the Mill Valley ONIPAA Club's traditional Christmas party this year, according to general chairman Reginald De Maeyer.

One of the most festive affairs in Mill Valley during the holidays, it has been calendared for Dec. 12 at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse. Complete plans for the event were made at a board of control meeting held Monday night in the home of president James McGinnis.

Cocktails at 8 p.m. will precede the 8:30 p.m. dinner, and the remainder of the evening will be spent in dancing to music of an orchestra.

Assisting De Maeyer and McGinnis on the committee are Fred Wight, Fred Heidinger, Ed Greenman, Alan Kane, Kenneth Hanson and E. M. Tobin.

Since the reservations list is already filling rapidly, DeMeayer urges members interested in attending to call any of the above named committee members as soon as possible.

I.Q. Testing Topic Set For Marin Terrace P-TA

How's your child's I.Q? What in an I.Q.? What does I.Q. mean?

Want to know the answers? To these or to other questions of your own about I.Q. testing? They will be answered at the Marin Terrace P-TA meeting Wednesday, Dec. 9, at 8 p.m. when Robert Davidson, guidance counselor for Mill Valley and Reed School Districts, will discuss the California Mental Maturity and Achievement tests (familiarly called I.Q.)

Davidson has just completed testing Mill Valley children, an annual procedure. But one question he can't and won't answer is "What's My Child's Score?"

These tests, Davidson emphasizes, measure the child's "Developed intelligence." They do not measure or uncover other aptitudes, such as music, mechanics, art and the like. They reveal how much he has learned from his school and home environment and his capacity to interrelate and interpret what he has learned.

This is the reason in part, he explains, why in underprivileged areas the general level of I.Q. scores is lower than in the middle or upper class areas.

Children who have never been to the zoo, the aquarium, to the mountains, the library, the seashore, simply have not been exposed to the variety of mental stimuli enjoyed by more privileged children. In simple language they know less, although their capacity to know may be as great and, in some cases, greater.

World War I gave I.Q. tests their first great impetus when they were used to weed out mental defectives. Results of scores studied, tabulated and correlated over the past 30 years convince a number of psychologists, Davidson among them, that I.Q. tests form "the best single predictor" of academic aptitude.

They are not, he points out, infallible, but they predict with reasonable accuracy a child's capacity to perform at a college level. And they indicate to a teacher a child who could be turning in better school work or, on the other hand, a child who is unable to perform at a given level and who should not be pressured into working harder.

More details about the I.Q. tests will be given Wednesday evening. Mrs. W. O. Grimstead's hospitality committee will serve coffee and cookies from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

EUNICE HORNSBY MARRIED TO BEAL WILLCUTT IN RENO

Honeymooning are Mr. and Mrs. George Beal Willcutt III who were married Saturday evening at Park Wedding Chapel in Reno with the Rev. Warren D. Ward officiating. The bride, the former Eunice Hornsby, is the daughter of Mrs. Semiana Barbara Sellmer of San Rafael and Joseph Jule Hornsby of San Diego. Beal, as the new benedict is called, is the son of the late Dr. George B. Willcutt of Ross and Bolinas.

Beal and Eunice have known one another since their San Rafael High School days and he escorted her to her first formal dance. Both are graduates of San Rafael High and College of Marin. Eunice also attended Mexico City College and the University of Mexico. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joaquin Silva, pioneer Mill Valley residents.

For her wedding Eunice wore a white chiffon gown. The fitted bodice had a cowl neckline and no sleeves. The bride wore long white gloves. Her softly pleated skirt was short. Her coronet, a French import, was of crystal teardrops and orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible topped with white orchids, from which cascaded white satin streamers caught with stephanotis.

Attendants of the couple were Beal's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Willcutt of Kent Woodlands. The latter's gown was brown satin with a lace bodice and she had a bolero of the same satin. Her small maline hat was the same color as her gown and green orchids were her flowers.

The bride's mother was gowned in a green satin print and her hat was green satin. Brown orchids were in her corsage.

A wedding dinner at Eugene's in Reno followed the ceremony.

The new benedict has another brother, Richard Willcutt of Ross, and a sister, Mrs. Berthold W. (Bert) Broemmel of San Rafael. In October Beal returned from Tahiti where he had sailed with two friends aboard their small craft, "Blue Sea," last spring.

A Simple Art: Artichoke Eating

NEW YORK (UPI) — The art of artichoke eating is simple, with these directions from the Western Growers Association.

Count on 1 medium-sized or half a large artichoke per person. Hold the petal ends up under fast running water or soak in salted water 30 minutes to clean. Drop into boiling salted water seasoned with a small clove of garlic, 1 thick slice of lemon and 1 tablespoon of oil for each artichoke.

Cover and boil until a leaf pulls away from the stalk easily or the stem is easily pierced with a fork—20 to 45 minutes, depending on size. Remove, drain, cut off the stub end and serve either hot or cold, with melted butter, mayonnaise or Hollandaise sauce.

To eat, pull leaves off one by one, dip the base of each — the light colored end — into the sauce, and draw off the tender part between the teeth. Discard the hard part of leaves.

Don't eat the fuzzy center. Cut it away, and eat the remaining heart.

Future Events Discussed By Sun Valley Club

A general meeting of the Parents and Faculty Club of Sun Valley School was held recently. Following a short business meeting conducted by John Gilleran, president, Miss Edvina Codoni, principal, explained the reading program, and told of a committee that is working on mathematics to bring it up to the "space age." There is also a committee working on "what is best for the gifted child."

The Christmas program will be on Dec. 17. Kindergartners will have their fun in the morning and grades one through six in the afternoon.

Fred Holzinger, program chairman, reported plans are being made for a food, fun and frolic day on Jan. 30.

Panelists for the discussion following the program were introduced. They were Miss Codoni, Bill Livingston, formerly a captain in the Marine Corps, San Rafael Police Chief Chiesa, and Kay Dewing, past president of the Parents Club. A tape recording entitled "Communist Indoctrination in Korea" was played. Each panelist gave his reaction to Major Mayer's talk and also answered questions from the membership. Refreshments were served in the library with the fifth grade mothers hostessing.

Marin Retail Sales 4-Year Rise Cited

Analysis and comparison of the 1954 and 1958 U. S. censuses of retail trade, by the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, shows that total retail sales volume in Marin increased 35.1 per cent in the four years to $145,990,000.

Evidencing the continuing trend toward larger units of trade, the census report records only a small increase, from 978 to 1,056, in the number of stores but with susbstantial growth in the number of employees—from 3,823 to 4,819.

The greatest proportionate gain was shown by Larkspur, up 84.9 per cent to $3,936,000. Sales volume totals and changes in other communities were:

Sausalito, $7,286,000, up 61.4 per cent; Mill Valley, $18,916,000, up 42.7 per cent; San Rafael, $63,163,000, up 33.1 per cent; Fairfax, $,927,000, up 1.2 per cent; San Anselmo, $12,366,000, up 0.9 per cent.

The only drop reported by the Census Bureau was in Corte Madera, which decreased from $3,417,000 to $3,154,000, or 7.7 per cent. In view of that community's growth during the four-year period, the foundation has asked the bureau to recheck its figures.

San Rafael's proportion of total county retail trade dropped fractionally, from 43.9 to 43.3.

The census of business was taken last spring.

Steps Taken To Buy Navy Land

Final action to clinch purchase for Marin recreational purposes of the 19-acre surplus section of the Tiburon Naval Net Depot was taken by the county board of supervisors yesterday.

On motion of Supervisor Vera L. Schultz, seconded by Supervisor James A. Marshall, the county auditor was authorized to transfer $21,000 from unappropriated reserve for the purchase and use $20,000 from the county land acquisition fund.

Marshall's earlier "no" prevented Mrs. Schultz's initial effort to make clear purchase and necessitated an abortive effort to find a concessionaire

SEEKS NAVY WINGS — Naval Aviation Cadet Richard L. Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon C. Williamson of 24 Lakeside drive, Corte Madera, is taking flight training at Pensacola, Fla., Naval Air Station.

County Hospital To Cook With Both Gas, Electricity

Taking a brief sally into the kitchen, the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday decreed that the Marin County Hospital will use gas ranges but electric ovens and fryers.

This course endorsed a recommendation by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen. Jensen in turn referred to a letter from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. which backed up original recommendation of the San Rafael architectural firm of Crawford and Banning.

An attached letter to Jensen from G. M. Henderson, Marin district manager for PG&E, noted that while operating cost of gas equipment is lower than electric the latter has advantages of less space, cleaner operation and greater efficiency.

Education Plan May End College Conflicts

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California has called for a master plan of higher education to make sure the colleges can meet demands resulting from the state's fantastic growth.

The Legislature demands an end to the dogfights for funds and the duplication of functions between the state colleges and the University of California.

Six technical subcommittees will submit their reports to the liaison committee of the two boards at a three-day meeting starting Monday.

From these sessions, it is hoped the master plan will take shape. But what shape?

The obvious areas of conflict are in differential functions and physical expansion.

The university doesn't feel the state colleges should offer courses leading to the doctor's degree. The colleges do.

The university, recognized as a world leader in research, wants to keep its corner on that field. The colleges want more.

The university feels some areas where rising population has created a need for higher education would be better served by a U.C. campus. The state Board of Education may hold out for state colleges.

There is agreement on several issues, however.

The two boards already have agreed on a moratorium on building new campuses until a master plan is formulated, and approval of both boards of any new campuses thereafter.

It's almost universally agreed that the increasing enrollments pose the biggest problem, and that tougher standards for admission and retention are the answer.

A subcommittee has recommended raising requirements and thus cutting the percentage of high school graduates eligible for U.C. and the state colleges from 40 per cent to 33⅓ per cent.

And only grades in academic courses would count. This, it is believed, would shuttle 50,000 freshmen and sophomores to the junior colleges.

And, while an exhaustive 1955 report recommended that junior colleges "should continue to be open to all who have a reasonable chance of profiting from their instruction," it also has been recommended that they demand higher performance in order to stay in school.

Thus, free higher education would still be available to able, serious students, despite the mushrooming population.

What of the boards themselves?

A likely answer is for continuance of separate governing bodies for the state colleges and the University, but with a permanent coordinating body set up to resolve problems.

There's been talk in the Legislature, however, of one big agency to handle all higher education problems.

Speaking of competition among lawmakers for "willy nilly" placement of colleges in response to pressure at home, Sen. George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez), told the liaison committee:

"We can no longer afford this competition, and in light of it, as in public utilities, we must establish a monopoly."

FROM PRIVATE FUNDS

Juvenile Hall Study Plan Approved By Supervisors

Approval was given by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday to a request by Walter H. Busher, county probation officer, that the Rosenberg Foundation and any other possible source be approached for money to finance a "pilot" psychiatric team study at juvenile hall.

Busher said the hall superintendent, David Fogel, with the knowledge and consent of the county probation officer, probation committee and the judge of the juvenile court, has for four months been at work on a "research design."

This "design," according to the letter, involves developing a psychiatric team to be attached to juvenile hall "to provide a far more extensive diagnostic and clinical service for selected detainees than has ever heretofore been available to wards."

"The project has a degree of uniqueness," the letter continued, "which has interested private foundations and prospects for obtaining private funds to finance the program for at least three years at this time seems excellent."

Cost will be about $40,000 a year, according to Busher. A pre-study or pilot project costing around $3,000 has been recommended, to require about six months.

Busher said it is planned to ask the pre-study money from the Rosenberg Foundation. He said that "enthusiastic support" has been voted by the Marin County Probation Committee, which also voted to ask the supervisors to join in preparing a letter of endorsement.

The supervisors seemed to think well of such a project at no cost in public funds, but amended Busher's suggestion so that every possible source will be tapped and not just Rosenberg.

Yule Tree Sale Set To Benefit Handicapped Kids

Marin Retail Sales 4-Year Rise Cited

Analysis and comparison of the 1954 and 1958 U. S. censuses of retail trade, by the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, shows that total retail sales volume in Marin increased 35.1 per cent in the four years to $145,990,000.

Evidencing the continuing trend toward larger units of trade, the census report records only a small increase, from 978 to 1,056, in the number of stores but with susbstantial growth in the number of employees—from 3,823 to 4,819.

The greatest proportionate gain was shown by Larkspur, up 84.9 per cent to $3,936,000. Sales volume totals and changes in other communities were: Sausalito, $7,286,000, up 61.4 per cent; Mill Valley, $18,916,000, up 42.7 per cent; San Rafael, $63,163,000, up 33.1 per cent; Fairfax, $,927,000, up 1.2 per cent; San Anselmo, $12,366,000, up 0.9 per cent.

The only drop reported by the Census Bureau was in Corte Madera, which decreased from $3,417,000 to $3,154,000, or 7.7 per cent. In view of that community's growth during the four-year period, the foundation has asked the bureau to recheck its figures.

San Rafael's proportion of total county retail trade dropped fractionally, from 43.9 to 43.3.

The census of business was taken last spring.

BUILDERS' AID—Frank W. Callahan, 39, of Belvedere, has been appointed secretary of the Home Builders Council of California, effective yesterday.

Steps Taken To Buy Navy Land

Final action to clinch purchase for Marin recreational purposes of the 19-acre surplus section of the Tiburon Naval Net Depot was taken by the county board of supervisors yesterday.

On motion of Supervisor Vera L. Schultz, seconded by Supervisor James A. Marshall, the county auditor was authorized to transfer $21,000 from unappropriated reserve for the purchase and use $20,000 from the county land acquisition fund.

Marshall's earlier "no" prevented Mrs. Schultz's initial effort to make clear purchase and necessitated an abortive effort to find a concessionaire

County Hospital To Cook With Both Gas, Electricity

Taking a brief sally into the kitchen, the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday decreed that the Marin County Hospital will use gas ranges but electric ovens and fryers.

This course endorsed a recommendation by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen. Jensen in turn referred to a letter from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. which backed up original recommendation of the San Rafael architectural firm of Crawford and Banning.

An attached letter to Jensen from G. M. Henderson, Marin district manager for PG&E, noted that while operating cost of gas equipment is lower than electric the latter has advantages of less space, cleaner operation and greater efficiency.

Education Plan May End College Conflicts

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California has called for a master plan of higher education to make sure the colleges can meet demands resulting from the state's fantastic growth.

The Legislature demands an end to the dogfights for funds and the duplication of functions between the state colleges and the University of California.

Six technical subcommittees will submit their reports to the liaison committee of the two boards at a three-day meeting starting Monday.

From these sessions, it is hoped the master plan will take shape. But what shape?

The obvious areas of conflict are in differential functions and physical expansion.

The university doesn't feel the state colleges should offer courses leading to the doctor's degree. The colleges do.

The university, recognized as a world leader in research, wants to keep its corner on that field. The colleges want more.

The university feels some areas where rising population has created a need for higher education would be better served by a U.C. campus. The state Board of Education may hold out for state colleges.

There is agreement on several issues, however.

The two boards already have agreed on a moratorium on building new campuses until a master plan is formulated, and approval of both boards of any new campuses thereafter.

It's almost universally agreed that the increasing enrollments pose the biggest problem, and that tougher standards for admission and retention are the answer.

A subcommittee has recommended raising requirements and thus cutting the percentage of high school graduates eligible for U.C. and the state colleges from 40 per cent to 33⅓ per cent.

And only grades in academic courses would count. This, it is believed, would shuttle 50,000 freshmen and sophomores to the junior colleges.

And, while an exhaustive 1955 report recommended that junior colleges "should continue to be open to all who have a reasonable chance of profiting from their instruction," it also has been recommended that they demand higher performance in order to stay in school.

Thus, free higher education would still be available to able, serious students, despite the mushrooming population.

What of the boards themselves?

A likely answer is for continuance of separate governing bodies for the state colleges and the University, but with a permanent coordinating body set up to resolve problems.

There's been talk in the Legislature, however, of one big agency to handle all higher education problems.

Speaking of competition among lawmakers for "willy nilly" placement of colleges in response to pressure at home, Sen. George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez), told the liaison committee:

"We can no longer afford this competition, and in light of it, as in public utilities, we must establish a monopoly."

FROM PRIVATE FUNDS

Juvenile Hall Study Plan Approved By Supervisors

Approval was given by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday to a request by Walter H. Busher, county probation officer, that the Rosenberg Foundation and any other possible source be approached for money to finance a "pilot" psychiatric team study at juvenile hall.

Busher said the hall superintendent, David Fogel, with the knowledge and consent of the county probation officer, probation committee and the judge of the juvenile court, has for four months been at work on a "research design."

This "design," according to the letter, involves developing a psychiatric team to be attached to juvenile hall "to provide a far more extensive diagnostic and clinical service for selected detainees than has ever heretofore been available to wards."

"The project has a degree of uniqueness," the letter continued, "which has interested private foundations and prospects for obtaining private funds to finance the program for at least three years at this time seems excellent."

Cost will be about $40,000 a year, according to Busher. A pre-study or pilot project costing around $3,000 has been recommended, to require about six months.

Busher said it is planned to ask the pre-study money from the Rosenberg Foundation. He said that "enthusiastic support" has been voted by the Marin County Probation Committee, which also voted to ask the supervisors to join in preparing a letter of endorsement.

The supervisors seemed to think well of such a project at no cost in public funds, but amended Busher's suggestion so that every possible source will be tapped and not just Rosenberg.

Yule Tree Sale Set To Benefit Handicapped Kids

A benefit sale of Christmas trees, to help hearing handicapped children of Marin County, will open at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Site of the sale is the Marin Town and Country Shopping Center off the Tiburon highway.

Proceeds will go toward purchase of a piano by the Marin County Parents of Hearing Handicapped Children. The piano will be used by the deaf class at Marindale School in teaching rhythm, pitch differential, and the use of residual hearing.

White fir and silver tip Christmas trees will be on sale daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Boy Scouts will assist in the sale.

Supervisors Get Housing Ordinance

Copies of a proposed new housing code ordinance for Marin County, prepared at the request of Otto Meyer, county building inspector, were submitted to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday by Robert A. Smallman, deputy county counsel.

The board continued the matter to Dec. 15 to give time for committee consideration.

Smallman's letter said "the main changes are substitution of the 1958 Uniform Housing Code for the 1955 edition, and the elimination of the exemption of buildings on agricultural property."

Camel Casualty

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Charles Mathis, engineer on an Illinois Central passenger train, complied with regulations after his train hit a camel tethered too close to the tracks by its circus keeper.

Mathis telephoned this terse report to the dispatcher.

"Train 15 hit a camel at Belleville and broke one of its legs."

"Take another look. Make sure it isn't a pink elephant."

Mathis, remaining factual, answered:

"It has a hump on its back and it doesn't have a trunk."

The camel? Its leg was put in a cast.

Individual cities in ancient Europe issued their own coins,

Hugo Rinaldi (left), and Leona Norman, putting the finishing touches on the production of the "Nutcracker Ballet" on which they are collaborating. Performances will be held in the auditorium of San Rafael High School on Dec. 12 and 13 at 2:30 p.m. They will feature the Marin Youth Orchestra, the Leona Norman School of Ballet and guest artists from the Bay Area Ballet, sponsored by the Symphony Guild of Marin. Marin Chorale To Present Yule Program

The Marin Chorale will present a Christmas program at a musical vesper service in the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Dr. John Milton Kelly, head of the sacred music department at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, will direct the chorale. Organist will be Wilbur F. Russell, also a music professor at the seminary.

CALL TO WORSHIP

The prelude, variations on "Von Himmell Hoch" by Bach, will be followed by the call to worship by Rev. Gurdon C. Oxtoby, pastor.

"Gloria in Excelsis Deo," a choral response by Franz J. Haydn, will precede the invocation. The congregation will join in the singing of J. Michael Haydn's "Ye Servants of God."

The chorale will sing four anthems: "Psalm 47" by Bourgeois - Halsema; "Lacrymosa" and "Rex Tremendae Majestatis" from Mozart's "The Requiem," and "And the Glory of the Lord" from Handel's "The Messiah."

SOLO SINGERS

Henry Purcell's "An Evening Hymn" and David Guion's "Prayer" will be sung, respectively, by soloists Marian Swartz, soprano, and J. Elwood Moore, bass. Both are members of the Chorale.

"The Christmas Oratorio" by Bach will feature Eleanor Clemmons in the aria "Prepare Thyself Zion" and the 85-voice chorale in "How Can I Fitly Greet Thee?," "As, Jesus Child," "Break Forth, O Beauteous Morning Light," "Behold in Gloomy Stable Stall" and "In Chorus Now."

The postlude, Bach's "St. Anne Fugue," will follow a silent prayer and the benediction.

Day Football Vs. Night To Be Discussed

Four panelists will discuss the merits of daytime football vs. the night variety for high school players on the "Marin Sounding Board" over radio station KTIM from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The topic is "Should night high school football games be rescheduled to afternoon games next season?"

With Kitty Oppenheimer as moderator, the panelists will include Marlin Olson, Novato High School football coach; Victor Jones, Marin County Athletic League commissioner; Kenneth Nelson of Mill Valley, father of a student, and Richard Campion, principal of Tamalpais Union High School.

Questions from listeners are invited. The program will be tape recorded and rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Tamalpais Valley Scouts Slate Yule Festival, Bazaar

Tamalpais Valley Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts will hold their Christmas festival and bazaar Friday and Saturday at the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club hall.

They will have up for sale some two tons of goods they have collected from merchants. According to Jack Adams, scout spokesman, the items are new but shop-worn and include everything from transistor radios to sports equipment.

Refreshments, cakes and candy will be sold and orders will be taken for Christmas wreaths and mistletoe.

So-called "mystery" packages will be auctioned off Friday and Saturday nights. Extension cords made to standard specifications by Webelos of Cub Pack 40 will also be sold.

Doors will open at 1 p. m. on Friday and at 10 a. m. Saturday, with closing times not specified.

Scouts' Parents Plan Tree Sales

Parents of Boy Scouts of Troops 64 and 74, Marinwood, will open a Christmas tree sales lot Saturday at Miller Creek road and Highway 101 at the entrance to Marinwood. The activtiey is the only one held to raise funds for the two troops.

The lot will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Bert Frabbini of Troop 74 and Jack Crowell of Troop 64 are co-chairmen.

'Judas Maccabeus' Is College Yule Concert

Dominican College will present the Winifred Baker Chorale in Handel's oratorio, "Judas Maccabeus," for its Christmas concert this year.

The performance will be in Angelico Hall, of the college, in San Rafael at 8 p.m. Thursday. There will be no admission charge.

Telling the dramatic story of the successful Maccabean revolt against Syria in Israel in the first century B.C., "Judas Maccabeus" was chosen by conductor Winifred Baker to honor Handel's bicentenary. Less frequently performed than some of Handel's works, this oratorio, however, is considered by many to be the most thrilling of the great composer's many choral compositions.

Soloists in Thursday's production will include tenor Evaldo Dal Poggetto of the San Francisco Opera Company; Byron Jones, San Rafael High School choral director and soprano Annette Brophy Jacobs, former soloist with the Trapp Family Singers and the Salt Lake Tabernacle Choir.

Accompanying the choir will be organist Harold Spencer and pianist Margery Bagshaw. Winifred Baker, founder of the organization and assistant professor of music at Dominican College, will conduct.

Cove Players To Present Comic Classic

Tryouts for a forthcoming Cove Players' production, "You Can't Take It With You," will be held Friday and next Monday and Wednesday, president William Carter announced today.

The Moss Hart-George S. Kaufman comedy classic, while a challenge to any little theater group, is within the production range of the Cove Players after their artistic and financial triumph of "Tunnel of Love" in November, according to Dan Totheroh, Cove Players' director.

A cast of seven women and nine men will be required, with some specific roles that will almost necessitate "type-casting." These roles include an actor with a Russian accent, an actor who will portray an 80-year-old man, an actress under 30 with some ballet experience and a matron who can play a Billie Burke type. In addition to actors, "You Can't Take It With You" has probably the largest properties and sound problems of any play of its kind, and volunteers with some experience in this department will receive an enthusiastic welcome, Totheroh said.

Rehearsals will not start until the week of Jan. 11 so as not to intrude on holiday plans of anyone wishing to participate. The show will open at the Tiburon Playhouse on Feb. 26 and will continue Feb. 27, March 5 and 6 and March 12 and 13.

Applicants, who need not be Cove Players members, will report for tryouts to the Cove Players' Annex, 112 Main street in Tiburon.

Arab League Bans Liz Taylor Films

DAMASCUS (AP) — The Arab League's "boycott of Israel" central office announced yesterday an All-Arab ban on all motion pictures by Elizabeth Taylor.

The move bars her films from all Arab counties in Africa and the Middle East and also bars her from entering or passing through any of these countries.

Supervisors Get Housing Ordinance

Copies of a proposed new housing code ordinance for Marin County, prepared at the request of Otto Meyer, county building inspector, were submitted to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday by Robert A. Smallman, deputy county counsel.

The board continued the matter to Dec. 15 to give time for committee consideration.

Smallman's letter said "the main changes are substitution of the 1958 Uniform Housing Code for the 1955 edition, and the elimination of the exemption of buildings on agricultural property."

Camel Casualty

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Charles Mathis, engineer on an Illinois Central passenger train, complied with regulations after his train hit a camel tethered too close to the tracks by its circus keeper.

Mathis telephoned this terse report to the dispatcher.

"Train 15 hit a camel at Belleville and broke one of its legs."

"Take another look. Make sure it isn't a pink elephant."

Mathis, remaining factual, answered:

"It has a hump on its back and it doesn't have a trunk."

The camel? Its leg was put in a cast.

The chorale will sing four anthems: "Psalm 47" by Bourgeois - Halsema; "Lacrymosa" and "Rex Tremendae Majestatis" from Mozart's "The Requiem," and "And the Glory of the Lord" from Handel's "The Messiah."

SOLO SINGERS

Henry Purcell's "An Evening Hymn" and David Guion's "Prayer" will be sung, respectively, by soloists Marian Swartz, soprano, and J. Elwood Moore, bass. Both are members of the Chorale.

"The Christmas Oratorio" by Bach will feature Eleanor Clemmons in the aria "Prepare Thyself Zion" and the 85-voice chorale in "How Can I Fitly Greet Thee?," "As, Jesus Child," "Break Forth, O Beauteous Morning Light," "Behold in Gloomy Stable Stall" and "In Chorus Now."

'Judas Maccabeus' Is College Yule Concert

Dominican College will present the Winifred Baker Chorale in Handel's oratorio, "Judas Maccabeus," for its Christmas concert this year.

The performance will be in Angelico Hall, of the college, in San Rafael at 8 p.m. Thursday. There will be no admission charge.

Telling the dramatic story of the successful Maccabean revolt against Syria in Israel in the first century B.C., "Judas Maccabeus" was chosen by conductor Winifred Baker to honor Handel's bicentenary. Less frequently performed than some of Handel's works, this oratorio, however, is considered by many to be the most thrilling of the great composer's many choral compositions.

Soloists in Thursday's production will include tenor Evaldo Dal Poggetto of the San Francisco Opera Company; Byron Jones, San Rafael High School choral director and soprano Annette Brophy Jacobs, former soloist with the Trapp Family Singers and the Salt Lake Tabernacle Choir.

Accompanying the choir will be organist Harold Spencer and pianist Margery Bagshaw. Winifred Baker, founder of the organization and assistant professor of music at Dominican College, will conduct.

Cove Players To Present Comic Classic

Tryouts for a forthcoming Cove Players' production, "You Can't Take It With You," will be held Friday and next Monday and Wednesday, president William Carter announced today.

The Moss Hart-George S. Kaufman comedy classic, while a challenge to any little theater group, is within the production range of the Cove Players after their artistic and financial triumph of "Tunnel of Love" in November, according to Dan Totheroh, Cove Players' director.

A cast of seven women and nine men will be required, with some specific roles that will almost necessitate "type-casting." These roles include an actor with a Russian accent, an actor who will portray an 80-year-old man, an actress under 30 with some ballet experience and a matron who can play a Billie Burke type. In addition to actors, "You Can't Take It With You" has probably the largest properties and sound problems of any play of its kind, and volunteers with some experience in this department will receive an enthusiastic welcome, Totheroh said.

Rehearsals will not start until the week of Jan. 11 so as not to intrude on holiday plans of anyone wishing to participate. The show will open at the Tiburon Playhouse on Feb. 26 and will continue Feb. 27, March 5 and 6 and March 12 and 13.

Applicants, who need not be Cove Players members, will report for tryouts to the Cove Players' Annex, 112 Main street in Tiburon.
